They deserve the praise which they receive."

"The Girl of the Golden West."

The big musical event of the year; in fact, the musical event which has been anticipated for at least two seasons—the production at the Auditorium Theatre, matinee and night, November 30, of Puccini's masterpiece, "The Girl of the Golden West," by Henry W. Savage's specially organized English Grand Opera company. Mail orders for seats are now being received at Whitlock's from both out of town and city patrons. This colossal organization, which is transported by a special train of ten cars, excels in size as well as in quality, any previous production of grand opera made in America outside of the Metropolitan Opera house, New York. There are tons and tons of scenery, a carload of horses, a carload of electrical devices, a good-sized army of choristers, a grand opera orchestra of 50, five complete sets of principals and three different conductors, including George Polacco of Venice and Milan, the friend and co-worker of the great Puccini, who better than anyone else can interpret the spirit of the master work of the greatest present day composer. Mr. Savage, who always does things on a big scale and who has never broken a promise to the public, has fairly outdone himself in producing this opera. No matter if every seat for every performance is sold, so enormous is the expense involved, it is doubtful whether he can meet financial recompense. He resolved that his re-entrance into the operatic field should, which he abandoned several years ago for the lighter works of music and drama, should be fittingly celebrated, and this mammoth production of "The Girl of the Golden West," in English is the result. Those wishing to engage seats are advised to make application early. The ticket sale opens this morning at Whitlock's.

Among the Troglodytes.

"No, Crotalus," said the owl, "I shall have to refuse your invitation to visit you in your cave. It would be bad politics."

"Well, I'll bite," said the rattlesnake; "why would it be bad politics?"

"It would be running socialism into the ground."

"Ladies and gentlemen," croaked the horned toad, "the renowned Kansas Jim, the last prairie dog on the ranch, will now sing the pathetic ballad, 'Why Does the White Man Follow My Path Like a Goddamned Sleuth on the Trail?'"—Chicago Tribune.

THEY INJURE CHILDREN

Cathartics and Pills may Cause Distressing Complaints.

You cannot be over-careful in the selection of medicine for children. Only the very gentlest bowel medicine should ever be given. Ordinary pills, cathartics, and purgatives are too apt to do more harm than good. They sometimes cause griping, nausea, and distressing after-effects, and may actually injure the health, thus establishing a life-long annoyance.

We personally recommend and guarantee REXALL ORDERIES as a safe and dependable remedy for constipation and associate bowel disorders. We have such faith in the virtues of this remedy that we sell it on our guarantee of money back in every instance where it fails to give entire satisfaction, and we urge all in need of such medicine to try it at our risk.

Rexall Orderies are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night; do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Rexall Orderies not only relieve constipation, but help to remove the cause of this ailment. They also frequently overcome the necessity of constantly taking laxatives to keep the bowels in normal condition.

There is really, in our opinion, no similar medicine so good as Rexall Orderies for the purpose to which it is directed, especially for children, aged and delicate persons. They are prepared in table form and in two sizes of packages; 12 tablets, 10c; 24 tablets, 25c; and 30 tablets, 50c. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store, Smith's drug store, Paek square and South Main.

Light Wraps.

"She wore no jewels," says a fiction-writer of the heroine, "save a single ruby set in her engagement ring—anything more would have made her seem overdressed." Speaking of light wraps.—Acheson Globe.

IMPORTANT TO MOTHERS

A record of sixty-two years continuing use of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup by mothers in all parts of the world, is the highest praise that any remedy for "children teething" has ever received. Every year the young mother follows in the footsteps of her mother and finds Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup to be the favorite, and as it has gone on for a period of sixty-two years, millions of mothers have used it for their children, with soothing and certain success. It soothes the child, soothes the gums, soothes all pain, soothes the mother, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Sold in all parts of the world, in bottles of 10c and 25c.

Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other.

Are You Ever Sick?

For Prompt Relief

If you suffer from any of the troubles so common to women, or if you are merely weak, and lack life and energy, you are urged to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is a purely vegetable, tonic medicine for women, and as its success of more than 50 years clearly shows, it can, as a reliable remedy, be depended on, in time of need. Mrs. L. E. Hibbs, of Morton's Gap, Va., says: "I was taken sick, and confined to my bed, most of the time, for 10 months. I had ulcers and then a tumor.

The second doctor that treated me said my last chance was an operation, and when the third doctor was called in, he told me it was doubtful that I would recover.

I wouldn't consent to the operation, and decided to try Cardui. When I had taken two bottles, I felt better. In two months, I could go about and do light house work. Now I feel well and the tumor is gone. I heartily recommend Cardui to suffering women. I am sure it will cure."

that engagement and bring about his own. He drives Col. Andrew Tandy out of his rooms and good luck takes Miss Singleton off on a supposed visit to her father, a grand army veteran, in Buffalo, where she spends a few months each year. Richard hires himself to Battle Creek and arrangements go forward for the marriage and the scenes shift from the east to the west. The complications begin at the same time Mrs. Copley's husband, the general, is thought to be in Martinique, looking after extensive plantations, but he is to return in time for the wedding. Another guest at the Copley home is Judge Coperton, of the American court at Shanghai who spends ten months of the year abroad, leaving his wife to travel in Europe. General Copley turns out to be none other than Col. Andrew Tandy, who in disguise has been making merry in New York. Mrs. Coperton, one of the leading society women of Battle Creek, and wife of the Judge, is none other than Louise Sedaine who has spent her long vacations in the vicinity of Rector's instead of going abroad. It is through her frequent visits to the restaurant that she gains the title "The Girl from Rector's." The complications that follow keep the audience in a roar of laughter from the rise of the first curtain to the fall of the last. The cast presenting the piece is regarded as one of the strongest that has been sent out of New York in many years.

"The Girl from Rector's." The engagement of "The Girl from Rector's" will be the attraction at the Auditorium tonight. The play enjoyed a run of over 300 nights at Weber's Music Hall, New York, to the biggest business in the history of that house. "The Girl from Rector's," is by Paul M. Potter who was also responsible for "Tribby," "The Queen of the Moulin Rouge" and other far famed successes. Mr. Potter declares, however, that "The Girl from Rector's" is the greatest effort of his career. The story of the play, briefly, is this: Louise Sedaine is "The Girl from Rector's" a merry, dancing, dashing little slip of humanity. She is in love with Richard O'Shaughnessy, a young chap of ample wealth who, at the opening of the play, has plunged into dissipation as a result of the influence of Col. Andrew Tandy, whose headquarters is at the famous Broadway restaurant. Richard has deserted of bachelor life and welcomes the visit of Mrs. Witherspoon Copley, wife of Gen. Witherspoon Copley of Battle Creek, Mich., and her daughter by first marriage, Miss Marcie Singleton. Marcie is engaged in a stupid, elderly cousin of Richard, a college professor, but Richard skillfully manages to seduce her.
