Confession Made Public.

James H. McNamara's brief confession, penned by his own hand late yesterday, was made public today. It reads as follows:

"I, James B. McNamara, defendant in the case of the people, having here-tofore pleaded guilts to the crime of murder, desire to make this statement of facts and this is the truth. On the night of September 13, 1819, at 5:45 p. m., I placed in link alley, a portion of the Times building, a sub-case containing 16 sticks of 80 per cent dynamite, set to explode at 1 o'clock the next morning. It was my intention to injure the building and scare the owners. I did not intend to take the life of anyone. I streerely regret that these unfortunate men lost their lives. If giving my life would bring them back, I would gladly give it. In fact, in pleading guilty to murder in the first degree, I have placed my life in the hands of the state.
