WE DON'T WRING YOUR CLOTHES

There is no rubber roll wringer in our plan. Our wringer is a round perforated copper basket hung inside a metal case. The wet clothes are placed in the basket, power applied and the basket turned around several thousand times a minute, which throws the water out of the clothes through the small holes in the side of the basket. This wringer cannot break off buttons, tear your garments or pull off strings. It is why housewives find Nichols Way washing so satisfactory; clean garments less wringing. Phone 93.

SCOPE OF WORK TO BE CONSIDERED

One of Most Important Matters for Greater W. N. C. Association Meeting.

At the meeting here of the executive committee of the Greater Western North Carolina association, December 12, among the more important matters that are to occupy the attention of the members is the question of committees. The number of committees and the work to be allotted to each, in other words, the scope of work that is to be done by the association. There appears to be a difference of opinion among the leading members of the association as to just what should be undertaken by the organization. Some are of the opinion that the classes of work undertaken should be rather limited in number; that the association should not try to work in too many fields, but should map out a concise program which would include those things which most require attention and concentrate the resources available to these. They think it would not be wise to scatter the strength for the reason that in trying to do too much they might neglect the more important things.

Therefore, they appear to favor fewer committees and think even if it is decided to adopt the broader undertaking, the different lines should be turned over to the committees having charge of what is considered to be the more important lines.

There are others who think that the association should not neglect any field, activity in which would result in the improvement of this section; and they believe that each committee should have only one field to consider, or if two or more fields, that they should be closely related. They are of the opinion that if a committee has more than one or two different lines in charge it may not be able to give any of them the proper consideration.

The matters about which the discussion is strongest are education and sanitation and health, some thinking that these would not properly come under the consideration of the association, or if they should be included, they could be merged with the work of some committees already determined on.

There has been no little discussion about these. Several arguments are advanced in their favor. As for sanitation and health, it is pointed out that these matters are receiving more attention than ever before, that they are of the utmost importance; that if the section is to be improved to the greatest possible extent, these things must not be neglected and should not be left to take care of themselves.

The question of including education will likely be most debated, some thinking that it is too great a matter to be undertaken by a branch of any association which has so many other things to consider, that it should not properly come within the scope of the association.

Those in favor of taking up educational matters say that these, too, are of just as much importance in the proper development of the section as is the material advancement. They say that by including this they will be able to interest more people and might receive the co-operation not only of the teachers but of parents of children, who might not otherwise be interested. For these and other reasons they urge that education be given a place of importance in the making up of committees.

The Dreamland theater has arranged a special program for the show this afternoon and tonight and the pictures to be shown will all be features. These will be a pleasing mixture of drama and comedy pictures and the musical program will also be very fine.

Prof. E. P. Childs, president of the Normal and Collegiate institute, will conduct the men's Bible class at the Y. M. C. A. tonight in the absence of both Judge J. C. Pritchard and J. C. Martin. President Childs will explain the lesson for Sunday school next Sunday, the subject of which is "Nehemiah's Enemies." Supper will be served as usual before the class begins work.

The freight traffic manager of the Q. and C. railroad has furnished the board of trade with the information that the Carolina special for the week ending November 20 brought through passengers into Asheville from 19 cities in the northwest, nine cities in Ohio, four in Indiana, two in West Virginia, and one each in Michigan, Washington, Idaho and Illinois. The outlook is that this train will continue to prove very popular for tourists in the central and northwestern states.

In the case of G. W. McAbee et al. vs. Daniel C. Fowler et al., a petition for the partition of certain lands left by W. C. McAbee has been filed in the office of the clerk of Superior court. The petition sets out that the plaintiffs and defendants are the heirs at law of W. C. McAbee and that certain of the heirs are minors; that by reason of the small number of acres of the land it would be better that it be sold and the proceeds divided. It is therefore asked that a guardian ad litem be appointed for the minor heirs and the sale of the lands ordered.
