NEW PROCEDURES OF JUDICIAL CODE

Members of Bar Tells of Changes Wrought—Will Effect Great Saving.

When asked as to the effect of the new judicial code, which becomes effective January 1, 1913, as respects the Circuit courts, as well as the District courts, a member of the bar gave the following statement:

"By the enactment of the new code, the cases heretofore cognizable in the Circuit courts are transferred to the District courts, and in the future instead of the district judge having the right, by virtue of his office, to sit in the Circuit courts and try such cases, all such cases will be subject to the jurisdiction of the District courts. So the Circuit courts, in so far as 'mini prius' work is concerned, are abolished, and this carries with it the abolition of the office of Circuit court clerk, bailiff, etc.

"But notwithstanding the fact that circuit judges in the future will be relieved of the great amount of work they have heretofore performed in the Circuit courts, there is a provision in the new act under which a circuit judge, when there is a congestion of business or the district judge is disabled in any way, may be designated to hold a term of the District court; in this way circuit judges in the future may be required to try cases in the lower courts.

"Some people seem to have the erroneous idea that under the new act the office of circuit judge is abolished; but any well trained lawyer who reads the act will at once see that there is ample provision for the retention of the circuit judges in office, and that the only effect of the act is to relieve the circuit judge of a great deal of the work that he has heretofore had to do on the circuit, thus giving him an opportunity to devote most of his time to the consideration of matters connected with the Circuit Court of Appeals.

"Congress has also passed an act in regard to the manner of taking up cases on appeal and by writ of error, in pursuance of which the Circuit Court of Appeals, for the fourth circuit, has established rules that will result in saving thousands of dollars to litigants in the federal courts. Under the old rule if opposing counsel failed to agree as to what should go in the record, it was the duty of the clerk, under the law, to certify the entire record to the Circuit Court of Appeals, thus encumbering the record with hundreds of pages of irrelevant and immaterial evidence that had very little to do with the question at issue. The cost of printing and certifying this useless material has been a great burden to litigants in the past.

"Under the new rule, however, if counsel should fail to agree as to what shall go into the record, it is the duty of the trial judge, upon application being made to him, to determine what shall go into the record; and he is also required to eliminate all papers that are not essential to the determination of the questions at issue. This rule is somewhat similar to the rules now in force in this state governing the printing of records in cases of appeal or writ of error from the lower courts."

GENEROUS CONTRIBUTION MADE BY SUNDAY SCHOOL

One of the most successful Sunday school functions that has ever been given in the city was the "giving entertainment" of the Sunday school of Central Methodist church last night. Not only was it successful in the amount of things contributed, but the charitable spirit that prompted the giving and the evident enjoyment that the donors obtained from it were good to see. The contributions, consisting of many different articles as well as money, will be used in the missions and will go far toward cheering the hearts of many who are not able to provide enjoyment for themselves; so that, on the whole, it was a happy thought to give the pupils of the school an opportunity to enjoy themselves in this manner, rather than add to the number of presents which the parents of most of them would liberally supply.

Besides the contributions, the entertainment consisted of a duet by William Dunn and Miss Eugenia Brown, after which Captain W. T. Weaver made a talk on the "Principle of Christmas"; and after all the exercises were over, Superintendent F. M. Weaver made a talk in which he thanked those who had given so generously to the poor. He appointed Miss Marshall, Miss Foster, Miss Osborn, Miss Hodges and Miss Kerr as members of the committee to distribute the contributions among the missions.

Among the things given were about $50 in money, sacks of flour, apples, potatoes, dolls, candy, etc.

Miss Ruth Wiley's class of girls gave dolls of many kinds; the boys class of J. C. Orr gave apples and potatoes; W. M. Jones' class contributed a box of oranges; many sacks of flour were donated by the class of C. H. Burt; together, the classes of Miss Osborn and Miss Foster had prepared a large basket filled with dolls and candy; dolls and toys were brought by the P. H. Hester class; while the Barson class had a liberal cash offering.

One of the most striking and most spectacular things about the whole entertainment was the sight of the 22 boys of C. H. Burt's class marching down the aisle to the tables where the contributions were placed, each carrying a bag of flour. Mr. Burt also had his sack, and it seems there were

CAPTURED IN KNOXVILLE; IS WANTED FOR ROBBERY

Sheriff E. M. Mitchell left this morning for Knoxville, having received the information that a negro, Kid Wills, who is wanted here for robbery, has been arrested there; and the officer will bring him back, the negro having agreed to come without requisition papers.

Wills is wanted here for the robbery of Mr. Morgan over a year ago. It is said that Wills with two other negroes hired Mr. Morgan to drive them to West Asheville, and on the way they dragged him from the carriage, robbed him and talked of killing him, after which they drove the horse over an embankment and made their escape. There is little doubt in the minds of the officers that the Knoxville authorities have the man that is wanted.

I tried any number of remedies but none of them did me any good until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Smith's Drug Store. This preparation was so beneficial that I gladly recommend it."
