MEDICO DIES STRANGELY IN A NEW YORK HOTEL

Coroner Believes That Dr. J. M. Moore of Union, S. C., Committed Suicide.

New York, Jan. 29.—A man who registered at the Hotel Grand as J. M. Moore of Union, S. C., was found dead in his room yesterday.

Mystery surrounds the man's death and his exact identity. It was said he formerly was a surgeon in the United States navy and at the Brooklyn navy yard it was said that a doctor of his name was once on the list of the naval surgeons, but little was known of him.

The police believe the man died of heart failure but Coroner Hellenstein reported that Dr. Moore had committed suicide. An autopsy will be performed.

The only thing known of Moore at the hotel is that he received considerable mail from a J. B. Arthur, of Union, S. C.

Born at Rock Hill.

Union, S. C., Jan. 29.—The death of Dr. J. M. Moore in New York was announced here in a message to J. D. Arthur, a brother-in-law, who can throw no light upon the circumstances of Dr. Moore's death.

Dr. Moore was born at Rock Hill, S. C., 43 years ago, was graduated from South Carolina university, took his course in medicine at Lexington, Ky., and a post-graduate course at the University of New York. He was a surgeon in the navy for 18 years, retiring from the navy about two years ago, with the rank of lieutenant commander.

He has a brother, Albertus Moore, of Atlanta. For the last year Dr. Moore has resided in New York and little has been known of him by his relatives here.

SURPRISED DOCTOR

Illustrating the Effect of Food.

The remarkable adaptability of Grape-Nuts food to stomachs so disordered that they will reject everything else, is illustrated by the case of a woman in Racine, Wis.

"Two years ago," she says, "I was attacked by a stomach trouble so serious that for a long time I could not take much of any sort of food. Even the various kinds prescribed by the doctor produced most acute pain.

"We then got some Grape-Nuts food, and you can imagine my surprise and delight when I found that I could eat it with a relish and without the slightest distress.

"When the doctor heard of it he told me to take several small portions each day, because he feared I would grow tired of it as I had of all other food.

"But to his surprise, and that of everybody else, I did not tire of Grape-Nuts, and became better day by day. After some weeks, my stomach entirely recovered and I was able to eat anything my appetite craved.

"My nerves, which had become so weakened that I feared I would become insane, were also restored by the Grape-Nuts food in connection with Postum, which has become our table beverage. I appreciate most gratefully and thankfully the good that your food preparations have done me, and shall be glad to answer any letters inquiring as to my experience."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

RALEIGH TINGLES WITH SENSATION

Because Agent of Anti-Saloon President Bought Liquor in Five Places in City.

MEN ON THE SEABOARD ARE FOR JUDGE CLARK

Whispered Other Railway Organizations Will Follow Them with Endorsement.

Gazette-News Bureau.

The Hotel Raleigh.

Raleigh, Jan. 30.

Raleigh was still tingling today with the sensation of Sunday afternoon in the Auditorium when Rev. R. L. Davis, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, deposited on a table on the platform six bottles of liquor which he said had been bought by an agent of his from five well-known places in this city.

This declaration was made in the presence of over 4000 people, who applauded wildly. It was expected by the police authorities that Mr. Davis would come forward with evidence to convict these men of selling liquor, but he has not done so. A police officer asked him for the evidence, but the Anti-Saloon League leader said he had promised the men who brought the suit that no disclosures would be made to the police, and apparently the matter has dropped so far as Mr. Davis is concerned.

While the city officials decline to say anything for publication, they have their private opinions about the matter. The city has not the funds to employ detectives, and a uniformed officer has no chance of doing anything in such cases as were cited. Talk of a mass-meeting to take action was rife today, and it is probable that the last word has not been said in this matter. The names mentioned Sunday were those of Frank Wilson, manager of the Planter's club; Hampton, initials not given; Matthews, initials not given; Edwards, whose brother is serving a term on the road for selling liquor, and J. F. King, commonly known as Frank King.

The address of the evening was delivered by Congressman Hobson on "The Great Destroyer." It was unlike any temperance message ever heard here before. Captain Hobson treated the question from a scientific standpoint and showed in a clear, logical manner that the country is bound to degenerate unless the men stop drinking. Two million men die each year in the United States from drinking, he said, and the wounded list foots up to 28,000,000.

Endorse Judge Clark. A good deal of comment was caused here by the announcement that the Federation of Trades of the Seaboard Air Line had endorsed Judge Clark for the senate, and it is whispered that still other railway employees' organizations are to follow suit.

The Seaboard federation represents 3000 men in North Carolina, but if the chief justice can swing the majority of railroad employes he will have about 15,000 votes from that source. With his other supporters he will enter the campaign with a formidable strength, and may give a lot of trouble to messrs. Simmons, Kitchin and Aycock.

All for a Primary. The four candidates for senator from North Carolina do not need a campaign publicity bill. They have agreed to give the reporters in Raleigh a statement of their expenses 10 days before the primary and another statement 10 days after the primary.

Messrs. Simmons, Aycock, Kitchin and Clark have agreed to ask the state executive committee to call a primary—or rather recommend to the state convention to do this.

The council of state has given an option to Richard S. Neal of Washington, N. C., to build the Mattamuskeet railroad. The terms of the option were not made known.

Headquarters in Raleigh. Announcement is made that the Rev. R. L. Davis, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, will move his headquarters from Wilson to Raleigh. It is further announced that the league will redouble its efforts to have the prohibition law enforced.

Must Pay Taxes. The corporation commission has held that the Oxford Seminary Construction company of Oxford is liable to taxes. This company owns the buildings and grounds used by the Oxford seminary and rents the property for a fixed sum per annum. Since the property is not dedicated to the purposes of education, but is merely a business concern, the commission finds that it must pay taxes.

USUALLY ONE DOSE ENDS INDIGESTION

Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Gas and All Stomach Distress Vanishes.

If your meals don't fit comfortably, or you feel bloated after eating, and you believe it is the food which fills you; if what little you eat lies like a lump of lead on your stomach; if there is difficulty in breathing after eating, eructations of sour, indigested food after acid, heartburn, burps or a belching of gas, you can make up your mind that you need something to stop food fermentation and cure indigestion.

To make every bit of food you eat aid in the nourishment and strength of your body, you must rid your stomach of poisons, excessive acid and stomach gas, which sours your entire meal—interferes with digestion and causes so many sufferers of Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Bilelessness, Constipation, Griping, etc. Your case is no different—you are a stomach sufferer, though you may call it by some other name; your real and only trouble is that which you eat does not digest, but quickly ferments and sours, producing almost any unhealthy condition.

A case of Pape's Diapepsin will cost fifty cents at any Pharmacy here, and will convince any stomach sufferer five minutes after taking a single dose that Fermentation and Sour Stomach is causing the misery of Indigestion. No matter if you call your trouble Catarrh of the Stomach, Nervousness or Gastritis, or by any other name—always remember that a certain cure is waiting at any drug store the moment you decide to begin its use.

Pape's Diapepsin will regulate any out-of-order stomach within five minutes, and digest promptly, without any fuss or discomfort, all of any kind of food you eat.
