With both factions claiming the election of their candidate as the result of Saturday's voting the Wake county republicare met in convention a hot contest. today prepared f Lester F. Butler, he present chair-man, declared shortly before the meeting that he had a safe majority, and the same claim was made by W. J. Andrews, candidate of the Duncan faction. Not in years has the contest over the county chairmanship been so interesting. Friends of Hon. B. C. Duncan felt that there was more a stake than the mere defeat of a can didate, and for that reason they entered the fray with avidity. Mr. Butler was working for the Morehead-Butler organization, and to save him from defeat.

It was expected that the convention would be held in the court house, but as court will be in progress there for the next five weeks other quarters were selected. The republicans will nominate a full legislative ticket in however, and in any case the steamer kept on its course obliquely past the George Buchanan, a white man, is badly wanted in Avery county, where on April 6, it is alleged, he shot and killed Policeman John W. Stafford at Minneapolis. Governor Kitchen has offered a reward of $200 for Buchanan's capture and the citizens of Avery county have added $50 to the sum. Stafford was called in to a store by some young men who were drinking and carousing and one of them picked a fight , beat Stafford over the head with an iron instrument and drove him from the store. Staggering from the effects of the blows, he was able to protect himself against Stafford, who shot at him five or six times with a pistol, three of the bullets taking effect. This is the first homicide to occur in Avery county.
