Miss Jenkins Graduates in Voice.
The following, which is taken in part from the Durham Herald of May 7, will doubtless prove interesting to the Asheville friends of Miss Lola Jenkins of this city:
"Before an audience that crowded the lower floor of the conservatory auditorium and overflowed into the balcony, three of the graduates of the Southern Conservatory of Music gave their graduating recitals last night. Miss Lola Craft Jenkins, of Asheville, in voice; Edgar Mills Howerton, piano; and Edwin Morris Betts, of Goldsboro, piano.
The program was a well selected one, and just as well executed by the three young artists. Neither seemed to labor under the slightest stress of the occasion, but performed with an ease and grace that rivaled that of much more experienced musicians. Miss Jenkins had her usual sweet voice under perfect control last night, and her recital was a success from every standpoint. Her selections were especially attractive, and her singing just about perfect from the technical standpoint. The public, which has been privileged to hear Miss Jenkins during her stay in Durham, needs not to be informed that her's is a soprano of unusual melody.
"She attempted no "fine singing" last night; that is, she sang no songs so often heard at recitals, in which there are more high notes than music. Every rendition was full of melody and expression, the singer reaching the higher notes with ease and grace. The piano accompaniments were played by Miss Margaret Glenn, of Greensboro, and to her perfect work is due a part of the success of Miss Jenkins."
The following program was rendered:
Piano—"Witches' Dance"..... Paganini-Wallace
Edgar Mills Howerton.
Voice—(a) "A Song of Sunshine"..... A. Gorin Thomas
(b) "Ecstasy"..... Mrs. H. H. A. Beach
Miss Lola Craft Jenkins.
Piano—"Sonata Op. 27, No. 2, C"..... Beethoven
Edwin Morris Betts.
Piano—"Etude Op. 25, No. 7, C"..... Chopin
Mr. Howerton.
Voice—"Aria, Roberto, O tu che Odoro" (Il Diavolo)..... Meyerbeer
Miss Jenkins.
Piano—"Etude in Thirds, Op. 25, No. 6"..... Chopin
Mr. Betts.
Piano—"Polonaise No. 2 in E"..... Liszt
Mr. Howerton.
Voice—(a) "Boat Song," Harriet Ware
(b) "If I Knew," J. L. Grayson
(c) "Sonnet" (I dreamt)..... F. Schira
Miss Jenkins.
Piano—"Rhapsodie Hongroise No. 3"..... Liszt
Mr. Betts.
Voice—"Delight"..... Isidore Luckstone
Miss Jenkins.

every man present, a delicious spread was enjoyed and it was agreed by all present that Miss Maslin was indeed a charming hostess.
"Waldheim" School Closed.
The very successful school, "Waldheim," which has been conducted in Arden by Miss Arabella Ketchum, formerly of Asheville, has closed for this term to open again in the fall. The closing exercises were recently given and the day of commencement was thoroughly enjoyed. Master Horace Adams Hunt, son of Mrs. Horace Hunt of Blunstone, through general scholarship and also through special-ty of good penmanship, won the scholarship offered in the school, and Master William Justice won also through merit a pin of great beauty as a prize.
Miss Ketchum has had a flattering number of scholars to have so recently instituted her school, which was begun this past fall and which has proved a success beyond expectation. Miss Ketchum, who has many friends in this city, will go east to visit friends and relatives shortly.
"The Commencement Pageant at N. & L. C."
The following received in this city from the State Normal and Industrial college in Greensboro, describes the wonderful pageant to be given at the college commencement this year, which will be of marvelous beauty and will display both knowledge and art:
"Herald for May 15th: 'A Midsummer Night's Dream' has been made real. St. George's Dragon is a familiar sight. Milk-maids and chimney-sweeps made merry. Orchestra and children's choir 'discourse' old English music. Peabody Park is alive with 'Robin Hood's Men,' whose bows and arrows Hampton Institute's Indian boys made. English guilds sent from England the Morris dancers' historic bells, bags and sticks. The songs sung by the college girls came from Old Chester. Do not miss our May Day Revels, but come to the May-pole, come away for Summer is leucum in and time is on the wing."
"Friendly Dozen Visit Rosseraggon."
The Friendly Dozen Book club went out to Skyland yesterday afternoon on the southbound train, where they took dinner and spent the evening with Miss Rose Chapman at her home, "Rosseraggon."
The occasion was informal and possibly on that account was even more enjoyable as the country at this season is particularly beautiful and the club members were at liberty to enjoy its beauties to their hearts' content through the informal nature of this delightful occasion. Miss Chapman has put a number of improvements on her home and "Rosseraggon" is at present one of the points in the vicinity of Asheville about which much interest centers. The club members enjoyed greatly Miss Chapman's hospitality and returned to the city by train late in the evening.
"Received by King George."
To those members of Asheville society who are contemplating going to San Francisco for the Panama-Pacific exposition, invitations having already been received in this city, the following London news will come with interest:
"The members of the Panama-Pacific exposition commission touring Europe in the interests of the World's fair to be held in San Francisco to celebrate the opening of the Panama canal, were received in audience of King George at Buckingham palace today.
"The king discussed the approaching fair and showed an unusual interest in the subject."

knowledge of the arrangements for it."
"Temperaments Among Musicians."
Genius, according to Oscar Hammerstein, is uncertain and especially the genius of musical artists. Which fact is corroborated by a story brought from the week of grand opera in Atlanta by Mrs. H. H. Briggs of this city. Mrs. Briggs says that the artist Alma Gluck won so deservedly, such an amount of applause from her audience on the occasion of the evening of her appearance that she received a decided ovation. The quality of her voice that seemed to appeal most to her audience was the natural sweetness of tone and that her voice, while possibly not so great in point of volume as other artists present, yet was so bird-like in quality that an unprecedented amount of applause was evoked from the audience, which fact temporarily seemed a matter of such disgust to the great Caruso, who was also to sing on that evening, that the result for a time seemed uncertain. However, the great tenor shortly overcame this small phase of what Mr. Hammerstein says he finds so trying in the temperament of the great musicians and sang so beautifully that he charmed the audience, somewhat whom had come hundreds of miles to hear him.

To Correct Scores.
The golf tournament at the Country club will close Saturday, and the final rounds may be played off at any time during the day. The scores will have to be turned in, however, before 6 o'clock in the evening of that date. It is announced that the committee that is looking after the tournament has found certain errors in some of the scores, on account of the fact that they have not been kept according to the published rules, and unless the contestants who made the errors correct them before Saturday, the scores will be disqualified. Those having such errors are as follows:
Dr. Thos. F. Chesborough, Mrs. Vance Brown, P. R. Allen, Dr. P. H. Ringer, Dr. J. B. Green, Dr. F. L. Hunt, J. W. Studer, Miss Carrie Reynolds, Miss Virginia Miller, Mrs. C. S. Jordan, J. A. Winn.
"Bywaters—Craddock."
A quiet wedding occurred yesterday afternoon at the rectory of All Souls church in Blunstone, when Mrs. V. W. Bywaters was married to Dr. E. E. Craddock, the ceremony having been performed by Dr. R. R. Swope. The bride is a native of Virginia and has been visiting in the city for a short while. Dr. Craddock has made his home here for several months. They will reside in this city for the present.

A number of Asheville people went out last evening to attend the last recital of the year at Weaverville college and were greatly pleased with it. The feature of the program was the rendition of Gault's "Holy City," and the college chorus showed excellent training. John W. Starnes was the conductor. Miss Bets Peek was the accompanist, and the soloists were Mrs. James G. Stakeleather, William and Almond Jones.

The Charlotte High schools have extended an invitation to Judge Jeter C. Pritchard to address the students and their friends at closing exercises of the schools this year. The late Charles Brantley Aycock was scheduled to make this address before his death several weeks ago.

Mrs. W. S. Cushman and Miss Rebecca Cushman of this city, who have spent a year or more in the east, have returned to Asheville and are the guests of Mrs. Alonzo Rankin and Misses Minnie, Lizzie and Georgia Rankin at their residence in Blunstone. Mrs. Cushman has spent much time in Massachusetts and New Hampshire, and Miss Rebecca Cushman has spent the greater part of the time in Boston, where she has been taking a course in the Boston School of Expression. Mrs. Curry, who is one of the heads of this institution, spends most of her summers in Asheville, where she has enlisted the interest of many educators in the work of the school. It is probable that Mrs. Cushman and Miss Cushman will spend the summer in Asheville, to be with Mrs. Cushman's sister, Miss Mary Cameron, of this city.

The following comes from the Daily Journal and Tribune of Knoxville: "Miss Henderson of Asheville, N. C., is a visitor in the city, the guest of Miss Elizabeth Knabe, Main avenue, West. Miss Henderson's mother in her young ladyhood made her home in Knoxville. Mrs. Henderson before her marriage was Miss Ora Miller, granddaughter of Judge Baxter."

SAYS WASHINGTON IS MOST BEAUTIFUL CITY
Which Mr. Buckner Denies and Controversy Is Growing Very Hot.

Asheville claims to be the "Beauty Spot of America" and Washington claims that it is "The Most Beautiful City on the Map." There is evidently a point of issue there, and this point has been raised. The controversy over the matter is waxing hot, and there is no telling just how the matter will ever be decided.
The controversy is between Greenville M. Hunt, chairman of the conventions committee of the Washington chamber of commerce, and N. Buckner, secretary of the local board of trade. It started because Mr. Buckner, as a member of the "Ad Men's club," received a letter from the Washington man, in which it was urged that he lend his support in getting the national association of the Ad Men to hold its 1912 meeting in Baltimore, which derives much reflected glory from Washington because the latter is, or was until Asheville claimed the laurels, "the most beautiful city on the map."
That was what Mr. Hunt said about his city, but he made a mistake in sending such a long statement as that to an Asheville booster. Mr. Buckner immediately wrote back and advised him of the "beauty spot" qualifications of this city, and insisted that the 1912 meeting come here, where the delegates could bask in real glory instead of in a supposed reflected glory.
In all the history of Asheville and the board of trade Mr. Buckner had never had anyone to challenge him about a statement like that, but Mr. Hunt did not propose to be outdone, so he immediately replied that a "beauty spot" is only an adornment anyway, and that Washington has numbers of them within a night's ride around the city. He insisted, however, that his city is still "the most beautiful on the map."
The local secretary then marshaled his faculties of long distance repartee and argument and fired several pertinent facts into the defense of the contested one in Washington, to-wit: Asheville, being on the face of the earth, occupies the most important position thereon, since a beauty spot is the one thing about a face that everybody admires, while they fail to notice the other features, also that in the immediate vicinity of this particular spot there is some "expression."
Mr. Hunt was advised further that he might do well to watch this particular "dimple" grow.
The response of the Washington booster will be awaited with interest.

Resolution to Probe Alleged Relations of Agricultural Department and Packers Urged.

Washington, May 8.—To discover what connection exists between the "meat trust" and United States government officials entrusted with the duty of enforcing the meat inspection law is the purpose of a proposed congressional investigation, urged by Representative Nelson before the house agricultural committee today. Nelson urged a commission to investigate the bureau of animal industry.
Data forming the basis of charges against Secretary Wilson regarding the laxity of meat inspectors, was furnished by a prominent chemist after a tour of the packing houses.
