PEARSON GETS DUNCAN'S POST

(Continued from page 1.) one vote, for it became apparent that the Buttricks were whipped. This included the seating of the Andrews delegation from Wake and makes W. J. Andrews county chairman.

The election of delegates was quickly accomplished and Richmond Pearson, chairman of the platform and resolutions committee, reported the following resolutions and changes in the plan of organization, which were unanimously adopted:

President Taft Criticized. Whereas, President Taft did on the 17th day of March, by a single order, withdraw from the senate the nominations of ten citizens of North Carolina without assigning any reason therefor, and without any charges against the character or qualifications of said nominees; it being understood that the action of this convention, the appointments to be awarded to the factional leader who shall deliver the largest number of delegates to Mr. Taft.

We therefore resolve and declare that this action of the president is ill advised, indefensible, subversive of good government and good morals and in flagrant violation of the statutes governing the civil service.

We therefore declare that the president Taft has underestimated the pride and self-respect of the republicans of North Carolina in supposing that we would participate in a political auction whose object is to make merchandise of men. We unhesitatingly repudiate, resent and rebuke the whole proceedings and all parties thereto.

Resolved, That the national committee shall be elected every four years by the convention which elects delegates to the national presidential convention.

It shall be no part of his functions or proper sphere of action to dictate, endorse or interfere with local appointments. It shall be his aim and duty to promote the policies of the party in the state and in the nation, rather than to assert his personal preferences in matters of local patronage.

It shall be the duty of the state committee to give to the republican voters the largest possible power and weight in making local appointments and the wishes of the people in their several localities evidenced by the indorsement of precinct and county committee in seconding appointments in all cases where the fitness and character of the applicants are established, shall be binding upon the state committee and its chairman.

Section No. II of the plan of organization was amended by striking out the entire section. This now moves from the state chairman the power to oust a county chairman and will in the future bar a situation similar to the Carteret county row.

A new section was adopted defining the powers of the national committee, while another dealt with the province of the state chairman, with a view of giving control of the party as far as possible back into the hands of the people.

Butler Takes Defeat Hard. The convention, having decided to go into the election of a national committee, the choicest part of the convention, so to say, arrived.

Judge W. S. O'R. Robinson, of Goldsboro, placed Marion Butler in nomination for this position and Thos. S. Rollins nominated Richmond Pearson. The taking of the vote was a long and tedious affair, the ballot showing Pearson had won by 442 majority. The vote was, Pearson 774, Butler 332. Throughout the whole affair Butler sat in his seat and it could be seen that he took defeat hard.

One significant move of the afternoon was a short conference between Butler and Secretary Hamrick of the credentials committee. Mr. Hamrick is a Rutherford county man.

Disposing of the national committee, the question of selecting a state chairman was next taken up. Immediately all of the Butler-Morehead faction started an effort to adjourn the convention sine die hoping thereby to give Morehead a few weeks longer lease of political power. The convention at this time became particularly vociferous, the noise coming largely from those in favor of adjournment and for more than two hours wrestled with a motion to adjourn. The vote was quite close and several roll calls were necessary to determine the question. The motion to adjourn was finally carried by a very small majority. This leaves the question of the new state chairman and the new executive committee to be determined by the next state convention later in the summer. This means that the fight for chairman will be dragged through all the counties and finally back to the convention.

Duncan's Personal Popularity. The result of the vote on the Carteret county contest, in which Mr. Duncan had a direct interest, was looked upon as a significant and striking tribute to the personal popularity of the national committee man.

Great applause followed the announcement of the big majority in favor of Mr. Duncan's friends, and this was regarded as the more remarkable when it is considered that a Roosevelt convention seemed to think more of Mr. Duncan, a supporter of President Taft, than of former Senator Butler, who told the convention that he favored Roosevelt.

There is little doubt that Chairman Morehead will be defeated at the next state convention, which will be held this summer, if he does not resign in the meantime.

Settle is Not Considered. Butler and Morehead, together with all the lesser lights of that faction, made a personal appeal to many of the delegates to save the chairman from the humiliation of immediate deputation, it being pointed out that his term would expire anyway and this, together with the further plea that this chairmanship matter had not received the attention of republicans generally, had great weight with many delegates who would have voted against Morehead had this been the last chance of taking such action.

Some are of the opinion that there will not be any further agitation of the proposal to nominate Thomas Settle for governor, since the Asheville man has received so many reverses of late.

Representative Henry of Alabama was a visitor in Greensboro yesterday and last night spoke to the democrats of this section in the interest of Mr. Underwood's candidacy for the democratic presidential nomination.

During the afternoon Mr. Heflin held something akin to an informal reception at the Guilford hotel, where he met and discussed with admirers of Mr. Underwood the situation. Mr. Heflin said that he was convinced that whoever was nominated by the democrats would be elected; that he felt Mr. Underwood the best equipped man of any mentioned for the nomination and that he believed the Alabama would be nominated.

Representative Henry of Texas was in Greensboro yesterday en route to Durham, where he spoke last night in the interest of Gov. Woodrow Wilson for the democratic presidential nomination. Mr. Henry returned to Greensboro today and tonight will speak here. Mr. Henry said that he felt Gov. Wilson is the most available candidate; that he is convinced the New Jersey man can carry the west and middle west and that he could well afford to lose New York and then be elected. Mr. Henry met a number of warm admirers of Gov. Wilson during his stay at the Guilford yesterday afternoon.

Sunday School Association Offices Transferred. The executive offices of the North Carolina Sunday School association will be transferred from Raleigh to Greensboro. This was decided upon at a meeting of the executive committee held here, Tuesday night. The transfer will be made July 1.

To Sail for Europe. Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Wharton and daughter, Misses Margaret and Annie Louise Wharton, and Mrs. W. D. McAdoo and daughter, Miss Mary McAdoo, leave next Wednesday for New York and from there will sail on the Friedrich der Gross for a European trip of four months. They will go direct to Naples and then make an extended tour of the continent.

Miss Mittie Scott of Jamestown, this county, yesterday became the bride of Martin L. Davis of the same place, the couple coming to Greensboro to plight their troth. Following the ceremony the couple returned to Jamestown, where they will make their home. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Scott.

CONVENTION STORMY

Nashville, Tenn., May 15.—Police reserves were rushed into the democratic state convention hall last night when delegates thought Congressman K. D. McKellar and State Comptroller Frank Dibrell were about to come to blows. McKellar and Dibrell belong to opposing factions in Memphis politics, and McKellar was addressing the convention in regard to a Shelby county contest when, in reply to a sally from some one in the audience, he said: "The democratic party is tired of Dibrell."

Instantly the convention was in an uproar, and in the midst of the confusion Dibrell was seen to mount the platform and approach McKellar. Others thinking they were going to fight, rushed between them, people crowded the platform and in the struggle the speaker's table was overturned.

It required the combined efforts of the sergeant-at-arms and the police to restore order.

Dibrell explained afterward that he mounted the platform for the purpose of asking his friends to give McKellar a fair hearing.

The democratic state convention was slow in getting down to business after its organization. Aside from the selection of district delegates to the national convention in Greensboro, the local convention meeting was adjourned to the 17th inst.

DON'T GROW BALD YOUNG MAN!

Take Care of Your Hair While You Have Hair to Take Care of.

It's a safe ten to one bet that the young man who uses PARISIAN Sage as an occasional hair dressing will never grow bald.

There's a reason, of course, and it's a very good and sufficient one. Dandruff germs cause falling hair and falling hair means thinner hair and in due time baldness.

PARISIAN Sage prevents baldness, by destroying the cause of baldness—the little persistent voracious dandruff germ.

If you have dandruff or itching scalp it means that dandruff germs are sapping the vitality from the roots of your hair. Get rid of all hair troubles by using PARISIAN Sage.

It is not a dye, mind you, neither does it contain poisonous sugar of lead or even sulphur. It is a scientific preparation that abolishes dandruff, stops falling hair and scalp itch, and makes hair grow lustrous and luxuriant.

Many young women as well as men are growing bald and for the same reason.

Use delightful, refreshing PARISIAN Sage; it nourishes the hair roots, if the roots are not dead, and brings to every user a head of glorious hair—radiant and fascinating. Large bottle for 50 cents at drug stores and toilet counters. See that you get PARISIAN Sage. Smith's Drug Store guarantees it.

Carolina Commercial School. PEARL LEE HOLMAN, Principal. G. L. HALL, Asst. Principal. To illustrate the value of shorthand to a business man, let me tell you the following story: A wealthy New Yorker bought a piece of property for $300,000. He strongly suspected that the middle man was making a large profit, although he represented he was getting merely the ordinary broker's commission. In order to get at the facts the buyer put some questions to the owner who verified the broker's statement. He put down the answer in shorthand, having learned it reluctantly in his youth. The fact of the case was that the owner was only to get $200,000 for his property, and a division of the difference. As usual with people of this type, a row occurred, and the facts came out five years later. The seller of the property and the broker got into a lawsuit. The seller employed one of the best firms of attorneys in New York. The hoodwinked buyer was subpoenaed as a witness, and testified from his shorthand notes. The testimony was so accurate and explicit that the firm of attorneys threw up the case for the original owners and sued and recovered $100,000 for the man whose parents had sense enough to give him a commercial course in shorthand. This investment paid 100,000 per cent dividend and an investment of $70 in our business courses can always be relied upon to pay a bigger dividend than any investment which you are ever likely to make. Is it not worth while to have a talk with us? Phone 974. PEARL L. HOLMAN, School in Legal Building 10 Pack Square, Rooms 521-522. Asheville, N. C.
