WANTED BASED TRIED IN POLICE COURT

Bob Boone Charged with Encouraging the Shooting of Ed. B. Swinney.

Bob Boone was arrested Saturday afternoon and is being held at the city jail without bail on the charge of encouraging the shooting of E. B. Swinney, who was shot a short while ago by Clyde Melton. The case against Boone was worked up by Capt. Mark Sprouse of the police department, and he will be one of the principal witnesses at the preliminary hearing. Another witness will be Mr. Moore. It is understood that evidence will be brought out at this hearing to the effect that Boone urged Melton to kill Swinney and told him that he had a perfect right to do so, the conversation between them occurring, according to report, immediately before the shooting.

Another important case which was continued this morning was that of Jim Johnson, a young white man, charged with burglary in the first degree, the specific charge being that he entered the house of Miss Cora Bell Rich in the night time and stole $15 and a pistol from a trunk. The case will be called Thursday morning.

When Johnson was arraigned this morning Judge Adams called him from the dock and told him that he was charged with a crime which, if proved, would send him to the electric chair, and asked him if he had any money or friends who could furnish him with a defense. The defendant said that he is from High Point and has a few relatives there, also that he thought he could raise some money. Judge Adams said that he wished to give him every chance and that he would hold the case over and try and get some lawyer of the local bar to take the case for Johnson.

The defendant stated that he is only 20 years old, and it was understood that he had made a confession of the crime. He said this morning, however, that he did not enter the house. He is not a bad looking fellow, and seemed to draw the sympathy of those in the court room today.

There were a number of assault cases before the court this morning, and Judge Adams dealt rather severely with them.

Lewis Reynolds was convicted of an assault on Charles Collins and was fined $20 and the costs. Collins was found not guilty of a counter assault on Reynolds.

Maggie Green and Mollie Breland, two negro women, were charged with an assault on Mack Cooper, but were found not guilty. Cooper was also charged with an assault on the two women and was found guilty in the case of the Breland women, for which he was fined $40 and the costs. The court later agreed to reduce this fine to $20, and still later information was received that caused the court to hold the case open for further consideration until the character of the two women could be investigated. The trouble occurred Saturday night.

Lula Jones was before the court on the charge of assaulting Rebecca Kemp with a knife, the trouble occurring about four weeks ago. When the evidence was given a warrant was sworn out charging Rebecca Kemp with a counter assault, and she was fined $5 and the costs. Lula Jones was found guilty and fined $20 and the costs. Both the women are negroes.

Robert Penland, colored, was found guilty of an assault on Louie Redmon, a young negro girl, and was sentenced to serve a term of 30 days on the county roads and pay the costs.

Joe Warner was another defendant, who was taxed with the sum of $20 and the costs, having been convicted of assaulting Felix Harris.

Will Owens was before the court on two charges, carrying a concealed weapon and being drunk and disorderly. For the first offense he was fined $20 and the costs, and for the second was taxed with a fine of $5 and the costs.

Henrietta Davidson was sentenced to the county jail for a term of 30 days for being drunk in the city. She

CAPT. BLONDELL TALKS OF SWIMMING POOLS

And of the Exhibition He Will Give at Riverside Park Tomorrow Night.

Capt. L. D. Blondell, the champion ocean swimmer of America, who has been secured by the management of Riverside park to give an exhibition tomorrow night at Riverside lake, has completed his arrangements for the exhibition and has launched his raft on the lake. It is a most shapely creation and is attracting no little attention, in fact it is rather hard to keep the people rowing about over the lake from getting aboard or breaking it up with their boats.

As an example of the curiosity that is being evidenced over it two young ladies were rowing around it and finally, not being able longer to view the raft from a distance, rowed up the lake from getting aboard or breaking it up with their boats. As an example of the curiosity that is being evidenced over it two young ladies were rowing around it and finally, not being able longer to view the raft from a distance, rowed up the lake from getting aboard or breaking it up with their boats.

The exhibition tomorrow evening promises to be a most interesting one and will doubtless draw a large crowd as Capt. Blondell has appeared here before and the people know what remarkable things he can do under and on the water. He will build a raft while swimming, cook a meal, eat, drink and smoke above and under water and do all kinds of fancy swimming. At the last he will give a reproduction of a ship on fire at sea, giving the distinct signals and every thing else in the most vivid manner.

One of the most interesting features of the whole exhibition, however, will be a lecture on the art of swimming and life saving. This lecture will also touch on the importance of having a swimming beach or pool for a city like Asheville. Capt. Blondell has been an ardent advocate of public swimming pools all his life and has built numbers of them all over the country. It is of interest to know what he drew plans for one here about seven years ago, but for some reason it was never constructed.

The people are becoming more persistent in their demands for such a place of recreation and the remarks by Capt. Blondell along this line will fall on sympathetic ears. Hendersonville, Spartanburg, Greenville, Charlotte and many other towns and cities around Asheville have these pools. Capt. Blondell is anxious for them to have one, and he says that just to show that he is interested he is willing to draw more plans for one and without any cost whatever to the city.

He said that there are numerous ravines near the center of the town—accessible to business men—where a pool could be constructed and that the waste water from the city system would be more than sufficient to keep the water fresh and clear.

Capt. Blondell says that recently he prepared plans for a swimming pool on the Gould estate near Richmond.
