With the co-operation of the bank ers of the city Whitman has been able to secure the names of four police inspectors whose bank accounts run into several hundreds of thousands. One inspector is said to have accumulated a million dollars.

Powerful banking interests, acting through the New York clearing house committee, came to the aid of District Attorney Whitman yesterday in his efforts to lay bare the alleged corrupt alliance between the police and the gambling fraternity, founded on graft and blackmail.

As a result, records showing that within the last eight months Police Lieutenant Charles Becker, charged with the murder of Herman Rosen-thal and accused of gambling graft, has made bank deposits of $58,845 in his own name or that of his wife, were placed in the hands of the public prosecutor,

These deposits, the records show were first made in November, 1911 the strong arm squad of gambling raiders, and continued during the time that Jack Rose says he was collecting graft for Becker and until after his arrest. The table of deposits as pre-sented to the district attorney was as follows

Corn Exchange bank, November 21 1911, to August 1, 1912, $29,615. Corn Exchange bank (branch) May, 1912, $4330. Corn Exchange bank (branch)

April, 1912, $6000. Corn Exchange bank (branch) July, 1912, $10,000. Empire Savings bank, April, 1912.

The district attorney has been romised records of Becker's deposits a four other banks, which did not have time to go over their accounts and he has also discovered that Beck er has an unknown amount of stocks onds and other securities locked up n two separate safe deposit vaults That the total value of the police lieutenant's assets will be found to approximate $200,000 would be no surprise to the district attorney.

Becker's salary as a police lieuten ant was $2250 a year.

UNEARTH WEALTH POSITION STATED BY MR. PEARSON

Reasons for Opposing Candidacy of Taft.

THERE ARE 72 OF THEM; HE ENUMERATES FOUR

President "Appropriated" by Indefensible Methods Sufficient Votes to Give Majority.

Editor of The Gazett-News:

I feel it to be a duty which I owe to my fellow republicans and to the trust with which they have honored me, to state the reasons which oblige me to oppose the candidacy of Mr Taft. There are 72 reasons which determine my action, but I shall enumerate now only four which I believe will be found sufficient to justi fy the course which I have taken and intend to take. I have agreed to abide by the action of the primaries about to be held and by the decision of a duly constituted state convention based upon the will of the people fairly expressed in such primaries.

This fact obliges me to give candidly She Indignantly Denies as the motives which goven my conduct and which I believe should govern the conduct of all honorable and fair minded republicans throughout the United States. My language shall be as temperate and respectful as the exigencies of truth will permit. I shall shortly after Becker became head of not use the words "fraud," "theft," "robbery," etc., but shall undertake to prove in the briefest space possible that Mr. Taft "appropriated" by indefensible methods delegates duly chosen for Mr. Roosevelt sufficient in number to defeat the will of the convention and to give to Mr. Taft the slender majority which he claims. The California Cases. facts which invalidate Mr Taft's nomination: By the last census three additional congressmen were given to the state of California. The state had not been redistricted, it was agreed between the Taft and Roosevelt managers that all of the delegates to the Chicago convention should be elected by the state at large. In order to make this agreement between the political managers absolutely binding, sent a clipping and an editorial, and william Howard Taft personally telegated. William Howard Taft personally telegraphed his assent and agreement to the terms of the primaries. These primaries gave Theodore Roosevelt if obtains general circulation. It is as follows: mediately violate his promise and contest the result, but when he ascertained that his need of delegates was painfully exigent, his managers were instructed to start a contest claiming the two delegates from the fourth district of California. The sec-retary of state certified under the great seal of the state of California that no one could determine how trict for the reason that 12 or more precincts overlapped into the fourth and fifth districts, but it was ascertained and undisputed that 14 candidates for delegates to Chicago re-ceived more votes in this indefinite and non-delimited territory than the two delegates who were seated for

Mr. Taft. Here we have 1. Mr. Taft's violation of his plighted faith.

2. Arrant defiances of the will of 2. Arrant definitions of the will of the people of California.

3. The insolent overruling of the secretary of state, attested by the great seal of his office.

No candid man will claim upon this state of facts that Mr. Roosevelt was not entitled to these delegates, and no earthly honor, not even 10 presidencies should count in the scale scale against Mr. Taft's repudiation of his personal honor. The Texas Cases. Second. The republicans of Texas were almost as strong for Roosevelt as the republicans of North Carolina. and it should be remarked that these two states alone held primary elections in the vast stretch of country from the Potomac to the Rio Grande, and I venture to assert that if the other southern states had allowed the people to express their will in any kind of primaries, Roosevelt would have had an overwhelming majority because the people showed in every state in the union where there was a primary, an overwhelming preference for Mr. Roosevelt as against Mr. Taft. Texas was entitled to 40 delegates, and of this number the primaries showed unmistakably that Mr. Roosevelt was entitled to 34. The state convention in Texas elected fairly and regularly eight delegates-at-large instructed for Mr. Roosevelt, but the Taft adherents holted, held a rump convention and threw out exactly ninety and countles which had instructed nine Roosevelt. The reason assigned for this high-handed proceeding was that the republicans were not sufficiently numerous (?) in these 99 countles to be entitled to representation. Please note this fact, that the counties ex-cluded were not excluded en bloc in the panhandle and prairie dog sec-tion, but they were thrown out carefully and judiciously wherever Mr. Taft's interests required this work of disfranchisement. Compare this with the conduct of the Taft men in the states of South Carolina, Mississippi states of South Carolina, Mineissippi and Louisiana where 100 counties, by actual and careful count, showed that not one of the counties in these states were eliminated, and yet not one of the hundred had cast more than 60 votes for Mr. Taft in 1908.

Any honest man on earth is obliged to conclude that the counties in Texaswere disfranchised because they were for Roosecht and the counties in the three other states were permitted to

NOT CIGARETTE SMOKER SAYS WIFE OF WILSON

"Pure Invention" Alleged Newspaper Interview.

Sea Girt, N. J., Aug. 14.-A news saper syndicate story to the effect that Mrs. Woodrow Wilson not only favor. ed the smoking of cigarettes by women but even had three cigarette boxes close at hand when the interviewer questioned her on her opinion of the views expressed by Gertrude Athertor has made the wife of the presidentia nominee most indignant. Mrs. Wilso does not smoke. Her daughters do no smoke. She intensely dislikes the smoke habit in women, which may be a tip to Washington society women.

Mrs. Wilson did not know anything about the interview until newspape then Mrs. Wilson's patience gave way. She wrote the following letter and she breaks her usual rule by hoping that

Dear Sir-I have just received copy of the Journal with your editorial entitled "Smoking Women," and I beg leave to indignantly deny the statement that I approve of women smoking cigarettes.

The interview upon which your edi torial was based is a pure invention. I intensely dislike the cigarette smoking habit for women. > But certainly no woman in our household ever has or ever will smoke Quite apart from the bad taste of it I believe with you that it has an extremely injurious effect on the nerves.

Yours very sincerely, ELLEN A. WILSON. Editor State Journal, Columbus, Ohio Mrs. Woodrow Wilson.

One section of the alleged interview read as follows:

She smilingly exhibited three cigarette boxes in the corner of her desk all but empty. "Why should not a woman smoke if she enjoys it?" she queries. "Why hasn't she just as much right to a cigarette as a man? Certainly I agree with Mrs. Atherton that any existing prejudice against women smoking is to the last silly and absurd. Smoking cigarettes is a question of manners, not morals." There was much more to the same

Back of the interview and the subject of it lies a little mystery which Gov. Wilson himself and other members of his family believe may be due to a confusion of names.

There is a Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, also there is a Mrs. Wilson Woodrow. The one is the wife of the presidential nominee, and the other is a very well known writer. Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Woodrow were once relatives, for the writer was married to a cousin of the governor. Mrs. Wilson Woodrow. according to all reports by the persons who have been investigating the source of the interview, does smoke and of course does not care who Naturally she would coincide with the views of Mrs. Atherton and would not hesitate to say so. The explanation is that some editor or some interviewer got the two women mixed and sent out Mrs. Wilson Woodrow's views as those of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson.

> Washington, Aug. 14.-Theodore Roosevelt in 1904 invited Edward Harriman to the white house for a talk about the political campaign PROBABLY IT WON'T fund and a few days later the railway financier raised $240,000 and turned it over to the republican national ommittee, according to declarations made today to the special senate in quiry committee by Benjamin B. Odell, former governor of New York, Bliss Might Have Told "White Lies."

Odell's story is so different from that told by George Sheldon about the Harriman contribution that the com-mittee asked for an explanation. Odell replied that Cornelius N. Bliss republican treasurer in 1904, might have told some "white lies" t sheldon, with whom he was officially ssociated. Sheldon was treasurer of he 1908 campaign. He had testified that Bliss and Harriman arranged for he contribution and that Roosevell did not know about it until after the election. M'INTYRE IS TRACED TO HAMLET; TRAIL LOST

Police of Many States Seek Man Accused of Sending Bomb.

Gazette-News Bureau. Daily News Building.

Greensboro, Aug. 14. A day fraught with false hopes and fforts to follow up cold trails closed Officers may they are close on the rack of Ed. R. McIntyre, wanted on he charge of sending an infernal machine to Miss Oille Hoover of High Point and they appear confident that he will soon be apprehended. The express agent and assistant, injured y the exploding package, are recover-ast night with the admission from Chief of Police Ridge, of High Point, that in so far as he could tell Ed R. McIntyre may have been swallowed up by the earth. Vague reports and telegrams came to the chief from all parts of the country, officers in distant states wiring for more precise descriptions or marks of identification, but few offering any hope of an arrest. At midnight last night a long distance telephone call from a point several hundred miles from High Point and along the route McIntyre is believed to have taken furnished a new hope, but only the coming of morning can tell whether or not the suspicion of the officer at the other end of the line was of value This officer had read in his morning paper a description of McIntyre and he had the right man spotted. He said that his suspect came into his town on an early morning train. The town on an early morning train. The measure ever been passed over the officer was given a full description of president's veto by the lower branch McIntyre and asked to communicate mmediately with Chief Ridge if he found any grounds for this suspicion.

McIntyre is wanted on a warrant charging the sending of an infernal nachine to Miss Ollie Hoover, a pretty young stenographer, the package being missent by an express clerk and exploding last Saturday in the High Point express office, seriously injuring Manager Busbee and Cashier Morton How the package remained in the express office for eight months, with McIntyre making no effort to remedy his act and how finally it exploded in the hands of Manager Busbee is familiar to people throughout the state. The work of Chief Ridge, too, in fastening the crime on McIntyre is familiar.

But once yesterday did the "human hounds" strike anything which resem-bled a warm trail. This led from Barber Junction, where McIntyre was lost Monday morning, to Hamlet and there ended as abruptly as it had on the preceding day at Barber Junction. It was considered rather important, however, that the long distance message late last night came from the direc-tion which McIntyre is believed to have taken from Hamlet. Chief Ridge declined to reveal the source of this House Passes the Wool Bill over President's Negative by Margin of Five Votes.

GO THROUGH SENATE

Defection of Many House Republicans Take Leaders by Surprsie-Want Cotton Measure.

Washington, Aug. 14.-By the narow margin of five votes, the house esterday passed the wool tariff revision bill over President Taft's veto. The vote, 174 to 80, was made possible only by the defection of 21 republicans who voted with the democrats. The announcement of demo-cratic success created a wild scene in the house and amid great confusion the republican leaders protested that Speaker Clark must count as voting 10 members who answered "present" to their names, a ruling which would have defeated the democratic program by overwhelming the five vote margin and making impossible the recording of the necessary two-thirds vote of the house. This the speaker declined to do.

Less than an hour after the wool oill had been repassed in the house, the conferees on the sugar tariff bill met and disagreed. They determined to report to the house and senate that it had been found impossible to reach a compromise between the Un-derwood and Lodge-Bristow bills.

This action is expected to mark the the present session, and the excise tax bill, which was framed to make up revenues that would have been lost revenues that would have been by the reduction of the sugar tariff, also probably will remain in conference when congress adjourns. While democratic and progressive leaders of the senate do not believe the wool bill can be passed in that body over the president's veto, they will continue the demand for action on the cotton tariff measure.

Republican Leaders Surprised. The vote on the wool bill came as a surprise to the republican leaders of the house. When they discovered that defection from their ranks was to be expected it was too late to prevent it. As a result the following republicans went over to the democratic camp and with their votes made victory possible or the majority: Representatives Akin, New York; Anderson, Davis, Lindbergh, Miller, Anthony, Rees and Young, Kansas; Cooper and Moose, Wisconsin; Hau-ten and Woods, Iowa; Helgeson, North Dakota; Kent, California; Lafferty, Oregon; LaFollette and Warburton, Washin doan, Nebraska. Washington; Norris and Not in the memory of the oldest member of the house has a tariff of congress. Neither Speaker Clark or Majority Leader Underwood could ecollect such an occurrence. When Speaker Clark announced the vote and declared the bill again had been passed, "the president's veto to the contrary notwithstanding," there was a wild outburst of appliause from the democratic side. The tumult was increased by the statements of a half dozen republicans that the ruling was unconstitutional. When semblance of order was restored Representative Gardner of Massachusetts insisted that the constitution provided that a two-thirds vote of the house was necessary and that the 10 members voting "present" should be counted, for they had recorded their presence in the house. Representative Olmsted of Pennsylvania, one of the foremost parliamentarians in congress, supported the contention.

"These 10 niembers who voted present," ruled the speaker after a lengthy examination of precedents, are recognized as being present only to constitute a quorum. The constiintion, as interpreted in the past, clearly provided that all decisions must rest on a yea and nay vote." Representative Fitzgerald of New York, democrat, supported Mr. Olm sted and Mr. Gardner in their contentions, while Minority Leader Mann supported the speaker's position. The speaker, when the debate broke out with renewed vigor, quickly put a damper on it. "You may talk all you want," he said, "but the chair has no intention now or later of changing its ruling."
