HAYWOOD CO. FAIR PREMIUM LIST OUT JACKSON CO. FAIR DATES SEPT. 25-27

Daily Aeroplane Flights to Feature the Event Which Occurs Oct. 1-4.
Trains Will Stop at Fair Grounds—Sylvia Putting in a Water System.

Special to The Gazette-News.
Waynesville, Sept. 7.—The Haywood county fair will be held this year—October 1, 2, 3, 4, and it is already being predicted that it will be the biggest and best ever held by this association, which has been in existence for several years. M. D. Windland is president and J. D. Boone is secretary. These and the other excellent officers will see to it that an unusually good exhibition will be given of live stock, agricultural products, fine races, and in fact, everything that pertains to a strictly first-class fair in every particular. The admission fee will be only 25 cents this year.

The Haywood fair is always an excellent one, and this year the attractions will be exceptionally good. The management has closed a contract with the Curtis-Wright Aviators company of Chicago for an aeroplane flight each day of the first three days of the fair. The contract calls for no flight—no pay, and the minimum distance in altitude is to be 1000 feet, maximum 5000 feet, and 20 minutes in the air. Kearney, who holds international pilot license No. 82, is to make these flights in the air. He has a record of 62 flights during the month of August, just past.

In addition to the aeroplane exhibitions, there will be an excellent wild west show and an improved midway. The fact that the price of admission has been cut one-half, from 50 to 25 cents, will doubtless prove very popular and a great drawing feature, and all records heretofore for attendance will no doubt be smashed into smithereens.

The premium lists are just out, and ready for distribution. You can get one by sending a postal to J. D. Boone, secretary, Waynesville.

The annual encampment and reunion of the Pink Welch camp, No. 848, of United Confederate veterans is being held at the Haywood county fair grounds. This camp is composed of about 150 veterans of the civil war, about three-fifths, or 90, of whom are in attendance this year. Its members reside principally in Haywood, but there are a few scattered over in Jackson and Buncombe.

Major W. W. Stringfield is lieutenant colonel, commanding, and A. C. Cagle is adjutant. These old heroes rich relics of the ever reducing remnant of the "lost cause" meet annually around the glimmering glow of the camp fire and rehearse their exploits and unique experiences of those days of daring deeds, far famed fortitude and unquailed courage.

Work has begun on the excavation for the foundation of Waynesville's handsome new public school building, corner of Haywood street and Boyd avenue, and adjoining the site of the old building. It is to cost approximately $25,000, and will contain eight large class rooms, and an excellent auditorium with seating capacity of about one thousand.

Messrs. Charles Ray and Samuel Limer are the contractors, and this fact alone guarantees a first class building.

Special to The Gazette-News.
Sylvia, Sept. 7.—This town is fast assuming city assets. Not satisfied with telephones, concrete sidewalks and electric lights, she is now installing a waterworks and sewerage system. These completed and Sylvia will be right down to date with city comforts and conveniences including also a first class public school, and fine, large school building.

Sylvia's citizenship is prosperous and progressive, as is amply evidenced by the above improvements, and her large and constantly growing commercial activity.

The Jackson county fair will be held this, the third year of its history, September 25, 26, and 27 on the grounds of the association, near Sylvia. Mr. Scroop Enloe is president, and Mr. A. J. Dills, secretary, both popular and efficient executives. The Southern railway will make a station this year at the fair ground gate, and all trains will stop at the new station. It is safe to say that the fair this year will be a great success.

DIDN'T NEED A TRUNK.

He Was a Master of the Art of Traveling Without Baggage.
Sir Charles Napier was once delightfully pictured in Punch as setting out for Seinde with "his soap" and very little besides. De Latocnaye, a Breton emigre of 1796, who traveled in Ireland, chiefly on foot and invariably turned up at the houses of his friends with almost no visible baggage, carried nearly as simple an outfit. Yet in some mysterious way he was always able to appear at dinner in full dress. In his book "Promenade en Irlande" De Latocnaye tells how he accomplished the feat:

"I had my hair powder in a bag made of a lady's glove. My razor, needles, thread, scissors and a comb all went into a pair of dancing pumps. In addition, I carried two pairs of silk stockings, breeches of such fine stuff that they would fold up as small as my fist, three cravats, two very fine shirts, three pocket handkerchiefs and a dress coat with six pockets.

"Three of these pockets I kept for letters, portfolio, and so forth; in the others, whenever I was going to call at a decent house, I stowed away my belongings, which were packed some in the pumps, the rest in one of the pairs of stockings.

"At other times," he concludes, with more than French vivacity, "I tied the three parcels in a handkerchief and carried them at the end of my walking stick, on which I had managed to fix an umbrella."

This equipped he stayed at Lord Kenmare's for a week, at Hazelwood and at Florence Court for the same length of time, at Lord Altamont's and Ballynahinch for longer still, no doubt to the astonishment of housemaids as well as of hosts. But he was never disturbed by his lack of luggage and steadily refused all proffered loans of clothing.

By the time De Latocnaye got to Sillgo the weather had broken, and he was obliged to add a spencer to his wardrobe.

MAGIC FIRE WRITING.

How to Perform an Amusing and Mystifying Trick.
This recipe for "magic fire writing" is given by the Pathfinder: Dissolve saltpeter in water until the water will take up no more. Then take the "wrong" end of a penholder and dip it in the solution, draw in thick strokes some name or design on a piece of light paper, taking care not to break the continuity of the writing anywhere—that is, all words must be joined. When dry the writing will be invisible. Fold over or roll up half an inch of each end of such a paper after it has been allowed to get dry and stand it on something that will not burn. Light a match, then blow it out and apply the glowing tip to some spot touched by the design (you can make an ink mark before applying the saltpeter to serve as a guide), and a tiny glowworm of fire will travel all along the lines traced and end by leaving the device burned out of the paper, no other part of it being destroyed.

By the use of a little ingenuity all sorts of amusing designs for this purpose can be got up. For example, you can draw in pencil or ink on the paper a picture of one boy throwing a baseball to another and also trace an invisible curved line in the saltpeter from the hand of the thrower to that of the catcher. Then when you touch fire to the thrower's hand the fire will follow the saltpeter line right to the other's hand.

Those who see the thing and are not in the secret will be much mystified as to why the fire follows this line and does not burn the rest of the paper. Saltpeter enters into gunpowder, and wherever it has touched the paper it makes it burn.

Visitors stop at the Phoenix European Hotel, Fine rooms, 50 and 75 cents.

LOCKE CRAIG IS HEARD BY LARGE AUDIENCE
Makes Campaign Speech in Greensboro—Greensboro Tobacco Warehouse Opens.

Special to The Gazette-News.
Greensboro, Sept. 7.—Hon. Locke Craig, the democratic nominee for governor of North Carolina, made a ringing political speech to a large audience in the county court house here last night. Mr. Craig arrived in town early in the evening and went to the home of Hon. E. J. Justice where he was entertained until 7:30 when he was escorted by a committee of citizens in automobiles to the court house. The committee of escort was headed by Mayor T. J. Murphy and Mr. Craig was enthusiastically received as he appeared in Guilford's temple of justice to present the doctrine of democracy. Mr. Craig was in splendid voice and eloquently defended democracy's course in state and nation; proclaimed the wisdom of good roads throughout the state and severely arraigned the republicans for their tariff attitude and oppression of the people. There were a number of ladies in the audience and Mr. Craig graciously awarded their presence with a glowing tribute to the womanhood of the Old North State.

The Center Brick warehouse, Greensboro's new tobacco enterprise was formally opened today with Carl Land Mitchell, an experienced tobacco salesman, in charge of the floor. There was much fine tobacco on the floor for the opening day and the occasion was made interesting by the presence of a number of merchants and other business men identified with the movement to make Greensboro in reality a tobacco center. It was stated today by W. S. Clary, one of Greensboro's prominent citizens, that the sales of the farmers here during the past week have been better than in 15 years past.

The registration books in Gilmer and Morehead townships of Guilford county, opened for the purpose of allowing voters to qualify to vote on the proposal to issue $200,000 in bonds for the construction of the Greensboro, Northern and Atlantic railway, will close this evening. The election is to be held September 17 and already there is quite an agitation over the matter. There are many who favor voting the bonds for a new railroad and many others who are bitterly opposed to any bond issue. It is believed that the election will be hotly contested.

HERPICIDE
At Mrs. Blank's reception I met a gentleman who fulfilled my ideal of a man in all but one particular. He had a good head, fine physique, perfect manners, was a most interesting personality, and bore himself with the distinguished air of a gentleman. His hair was immaculate and his clothes faultless as to cut and material. But all the pleasant first impression was ruined when I discovered the collar and shoulders of his dresscoat covered with loose hair and flakes of dandruff. To me this was an indication of personal carelessness, not to say uncleanness. I wanted to tell him to get a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide. This remarkable remedy would, in a short time remove every trace of dandruff from his head, stop his hair from falling and prevent him from becoming bald. I don't like baldheaded men; they look old whether they are or not.

Dandruff is caused by a germ and Newbro's Herpicide kills that germ. The itching, which is so frightful with dandruff, stops almost instantly.

Herpicide is the Original Remedy that destroys dandruff. There is nothing in the world just like it, nothing that is "just as good."

Newbro's Herpicide in 50c and $1.00 sizes is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.

Applications obtained at the good barber shops.
