

Sunset Boulevard

The Automobile Drive up Sunset Mountain will be opened into a full sized Boulevard—the sharp curves taken out, the road Macadamized and oiled and carriages admitted to the top of Sunset as well as automobiles.

Mr. Grove has been so impressed with the spirit of progress that is abroad in Asheville—the co-operation that the city is showing in building with him, that he has decided not only to build the beautiful fireproof Grove Park Inn, the finest resort hotel in the United States, but to do everything else he can within reason to make Asheville the more attractive and entertaining.

Carriages have been excluded from this road up to now because it was not wide enough for both carriages and automobiles and there was no other road open to automobiles.

So desirable, he believes, would a good road be to the beautiful view on Sunset that Mr. Grove has decided to widen and beautify this road and make it one of the show places of the South.

The work will begin as soon as the season is over and this magnificent Boulevard completed in the winter or early spring.

Asheville is growing wonderfully. There is a spirit of progress in the hearts of our people such as we have not seen before.

Mr. Grove has been and is trying to show his faith in Asheville and his friendship for his neighbors.

Let's all do our part in making this the happiest, prettiest, cleanest and most prosperous city in the South.

Our united efforts will do it.

SURVEY OF STATE FROM THE CAPITAL

Gazette-News Bureau, The Hotel Raleigh, Raleigh, Sept. 11.

Ten alleged blind tigers, most of them doing business on Wilmington street and the others scattered as far out as Oberlin, have been arrested by the Raleigh police. About half of them gave bonds for their appearance at police court. The cases were continued.

W. J. Roark, general manager of the Raleigh detective agency, worked up the cases. Those arrested are:

Josh Dutton, negro, Wilmington street.

C. L. Finch, white, Wilmington street.

Roy Howard, white, Wilmington street.

C. B. King, white, Wilmington street.

Pat Horton, white, Wilmington street.

Pat Horton, white, Exchange street.

Paul Taylor, white, Wilmington street.

William Pike, negro, south West street.

Louisa Austin, negro, whose husband, Lewis Austin, is serving a court sentence for selling liquor.

John Henry, negro, South street.

Jesse Dunston, Oberlin.

Officers Beasley, Wyatt, Finch, Mangum and Dillehay participated in the arrests, the tigers being picked up on the streets and at their places of business.

Percy J. Olive, chairman of the Wake county democratic executive committee, has called a meeting of the central committee to be held in the court house Thursday at noon to discuss the question of opening headquarters. The various democratic candidates are requested to be present.

Raleigh will entertain in November the Southern Agricultural Workers, an organization composed of the commissioners of agriculture, state college and experiment station authorities and others interested in agriculture. Maj. W. A. Graham is president of the organization and Dr. B. W. Kilgore is the secretary.

The organization will divide up into sections: commissioners, animal husbandry and farm crops and soils, and each of these divisions will hold separate meetings following a general session of all. Dr. Kilgore is now working on the program.

The organization, which met in Nashville, Tenn., last year, is attended by from 100 to 150 workers.

Very few comments have been heard on the calling together of state committee for Thursday night, September 19, to pass on the qualifications of a democratic elector. Little interest attaches to the meeting, although this may quickly become a matter of the gathering of the committee.

Chairman Webb and Secretary Brock are reading the last proofs of the Democratic hand-book, which will soon come from the printers. The first copies are expected by the end of the week.

Eric Stonewall Jackson Dunbar, a sculptor, of Washington, who has a statuette of Vance in Raleigh for examination by the council of state, all persons interested, will remain in the city until next week. Mr. Dunbar is particularly anxious that all persons who knew Governor Vance pay a visit to the senate chamber any time this week, during the hours from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m. Those who have seen the model are of the opinion that it is a good likeness of the distinguished North Carolinian.

Speaking of initials today the reporter suggested to the sculptor that "U. S. J." must stand for "United States Jefferson."

"On the contrary," replied Mr. Dunbar, "it stands for Eric Stonewall Jackson Dunbar."

Jackson, I was born in London, Canada, in 1867, and my father, who was a great admirer of the famous confederate general, named me for him. There were 11 children in our family and each was given three names. And you can imagine the time we had remembering our names."

Mr. Dunbar said it had always been his ambition to make a good statue of Stonewall Jackson.

Whether a bank in handling a draft for money and bill of lading for whiskey is guilty of violating the prohibition law came up before the Supreme court today from Craven county in the case of state against Fisher and Banking company, the jury having returned a verdict to the effect that if the delivery of the draft and bill of lading to Carl Spencer, a minor was a violation of the law, then John H. Fisher, of Richmond and the Mutual Aid and Banking company of New Bern were guilty of selling liquor. The court held that the facts as found by the jury do not constitute a violation of the prohibition law and the state appealed. The case was argued in the Supreme court today for the state by Mr. Thos. H. Calvert, assistant attorney general.

The state department of agriculture and bureau of soils, United States department of agriculture, are co-operating in the making of a soil map of Wake county, work having already begun. L. L. Brinkley is the representative of the state department. Mr. Brinkley and his assistants have progressed from Clayton to Garner, where the surveyors are busy this week.

The map will be thorough in every respect. It will contain the various churches, railroads, streams, townships, school houses, the same as other maps, and in addition will show the different kinds of soil and where located. The work will require at least a year and will be invaluable to farmers.

Twenty-five soil maps have already been made by the state and national departments of agriculture, these maps including the counties of Pendler, Robeson, Scotland, New Hanover, Mecklenburg, Iredell, Transylvania, Henderson, and others. Soil maps are now being made in Ashe, Alleghany and Randolph counties. The maps of Johnston and Pender counties having just been completed.

The test-farm committee of the board of agriculture left today for eastern North Carolina.

The corporation commission has ordered the Seaboard Air Line and the Atlantic Coast Line to submit plans and specifications by September 24 for a union station at Maxton. The roads through their attorneys have withdrawn opposition to the order of the commission and it is only a question of time until the people of Maxton get their union depot. The order was written by Chairman McNeill.

Penrose to Knife Ticket.

Philadelphia, Sept. 11.—William Finn has served another notice upon Senator Penrose that the progressive electors who have refused to support President Taft in the electoral college will not be removed from the republican organization ticket until after October 1 and they will not be removed at all if Penrose attempts to place in the field an organization ticket.

Senator Penrose has no intention of placing an opposition republican state ticket in the field, it is said, but orders have gone forth to the organization workers throughout the state that they must turn in and work for the democratic state ticket and if possible elect the democratic candidates for state treasurer and auditor general. They have been ordered to cut the Finn nominees for the same offices.

Pawnbrokers' New Rule.

New York, Sept. 11.—Members of the New York Pawnbrokers' association have made a new rule, effective today, that when a mechanic brings a set of tools to pledge he must show his union card.
