Reception for D. A. R.

The reception given by the Daughters of the Confederacy last evening at the residence of Mrs. Harmon A. Miller on Montford avenue to the D. A. R. delegates was a large and brilliant event. The house was beautifully decorated in red and white carnations, the colors of the Confederacy and also in paims and ferns. The Langren orchestra played during the hours of the reception, which was attended by several hundred guests. Late evening a delightful supper was served. The ladies who received the guests were: Daughters of the Confederacy—Mrs. J. P. Sawyer, Mrs. Thomas Settle, Mrs. Charles L. Minor, Mrs. Zebulon Vance, Mrs. S. R. Kepler, Mrs. Henry Redwood, Mrs. Locke Craig, Mrs. F. H. Bassett, Mrs. Edward McDowell, Mrs. Francis Clemenger, Mrs. Gilbert Morris, Mrs. E. C. Chambers, and Miss Grace Jones. The Daughters of the Revolution—Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, Mrs. Donald McLean, Mrs. Borah, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Charles W. Beale, Mrs. T. S. Morrison, Mrs. Erwin Gregory, Mrs. Edwin Overman, Salisbury; Mrs. A. L. Smith, Charlotte; Mrs. John Van Landingham, Miss Cora Vall, Mrs. Lindsay Patterson, Mrs. Orr, Mrs. Erwin, Mrs. Mercer, Mrs. M. E. Child, Mrs. Charles A. Moore, Mrs. J. A. Campbell, and Mrs. Hattle Scott.

Not very many of these have been seen as yet, but these few come from authorities. Here is one, which blends the mandarin coat, the kimono, and the draped coat. The original French model was of black brocaded velvet with the collar of white rabbit; or, if these are not obtainable, white plush would produce much the same tive contrast. This model is cut kimone style, with the seam down the cen-ter-back and under the arms; the drapery is the natural result of the cut. The closing should be well to the side to give the swathed silhouette. The linings of such wraps are wonderfully attractive this season: bright, plain colors or enchanting figured

SIMMONS' ORGANIZATION RESPONSIBLE FOR

It Is Claimed Democrats Voted Straight Ticket to Support Him.

The nine days' wonder of the enorous democratic majorities piled up Buncombe county and the tenth congressional district last Tuesday has not yet been exhausted, but they have now become a matter of history, and there is considerable speculation in political circles now as to what influences had been at work to produce such majorities. The fact that it was a democratic year, of course, is con-ceded to have had something to do with it, but many think the ble force responsible for the local situation was

There seems to be sufficient grounds for the advancement of this theory, since in Buncombe county, for in-stance, there was cast practically the same vote as two years ago, and in-stead of majorities for the democratic candidates ranging from 350 to 550 they mounted to between 1300 and 1500. In the district the majority for Mr. Gudger was more than doubled over two years ago. The Simmons' men say the simple explan-ation is: that democrats in order to vote for their favorite, Mr. Simmons, for the United States senate could not
