

Three times the normal effort required here—tired horses

This downhill strain means wasted energy—tired horses

ALCO Motor Trucks

The Follies of Animal Transportation

When a team of horses pulls two or three tons up a hill, say of a ten per cent grade, they become pretty well tuckered out. There is a great strain. The effort required to get the load up the hill would doubtless equal the effort required to pull the same load two or three miles on a level street. Result: very tired horses.

But if you stop to consider it takes also some effort for a team of horses to hold back a load coming down a hill.

It doesn't require as much effort, of course, as going up, but there is considerable energy expended. And every ounce of it counts with horse or animal transportation.

Every step lessens a horse's energy for the day. At the end of the day he is a tired animal. Through the day he must have his rest spells—his recesses from hauling.

An Alco Motor truck never tires. Going up a hill is without effort. Hills make no difference. The strong, powerful motor of the Alco pulls the load up in less than half the time it takes horses to descend.

In going down the hill the powerful quick action brakes hold the truck rigidly in the control of the driver. There are four different brakes. Two of them are on the rear wheels in drums. Two of them are the locomotive, or clasp, type of brakes. They are on the jack shaft.

This is not presented as a major argument for installing motor trucks, but it is a major argument why you should look into them and find out what they can do. Make the start by phoning 313 or 314 and ask to have an Alco Transportation Expert call on you. No charge.

HORNER FOOTBALL MEN REFUSE TO PLAY GAME

With Bingham Because Wright Was in Line-up—Forfeit Expenses.

The Bingham-Horner football game, which was scheduled to be played on the Riverside gridiron yesterday afternoon, did not materialize, to the regret of a large number of the enthusiasts of the city who went out to see it. The reason the game was not played was because the locals claimed that W. A. Wright is an assistant coach of the team and therefore eligible to play, while the visitors claimed that he has no connection with the team or with Bingham school in any way.

The Horner boys stated yesterday that they have been dealt with by the Bingham in a rather high-handed manner and that they were compelled to accept a referee and umpire chosen by the locals, no one suggested by them being considered at all; that yesterday they suggested a lineman for the contest and Bingham would not agree to this official either. The visitors said also that they had never heard of Wright being considered as a coach, or anything else, until yesterday, when the locals included him in their line-up.

The Horner representatives did not deny that they have some ex-collegiate stars on their own team but claim that they are bona fide players, since by the agreement, both teams were allowed to play coaches and members of the faculty. They thought that Bingham was attempting some high-handed work in putting in a player who, they declared, has not heretofore been considered eligible in any of the contests, and refused to play.

The visitors expressed themselves as disappointed that the game could not be played, as they were confident of winning a victory along with the state prep. school championship. In refusing to play they forfeited their guarantee and were taxed with the cost of the trip and stay here. The locals also claim that they forfeited the game. The Horner men evidently felt they had a serious grievance, or they would not have forfeited a guarantee of expenses and a bonus of $25.

Waist Makers May Strike.

By Associated Press. New York, Nov. 23.—Preparations for another strike of waist-makers here are underway. A decision by the union, which has 20,000 members, mostly women, is expected next week. The strike two years ago was unsuccessful.

MR. FIELD SURPRISED AT PROGRESS OF CITY

Secretary of Manufacturers Record Says Asheville Has Grown Rapidly.

I. S. Field, secretary of the Manufacturers Record of Baltimore, is in the city for a short stay. Mr. Field has been with the Record since its first issue and has made many tours of the south in the interest of the publication. Asheville has been included in his itinerary many times, but he has not visited here since about two years ago. He stated to the Gazette-News representative this morning that the growth of the city has been so rapid in this time that he was surprised at the sights which greeted him on his arrival here.

Mr. Field spoke especially of the large amount of construction work that has been done since his last visit to Asheville. He said that rapid growth is being shown to a marked extent all over the south, but that the knows of no place that has outstripped this little metropolis of the mountains. "Asheville has been famous in the past," said Mr. Field, "but it is going to be more widely famous in the near future."

He referred especially to the construction of the Grove Park Inn and said that he had read much about it before coming here and had wondered considerably over the possibility of a number of the details and the making of the Inn the best in America, but he said that all his doubts were routed immediately upon looking over the work and the plans. "The hotel would be a credit to any city in the country, and it should mean much in inspiring further rapid growth in Asheville," Mr. Field remarked.

He told of his first visit here some 20 years ago, when he attended a revival meeting held at the First Baptist church by Rev. M. H. Wharton. He smiled over his recollections of Asheville on that visit, and said he remembered one afternoon a wagon mired up to the hubs on one of the main streets and had to be plied out. He could recall few other cities that have made such rapid strides since that time.

Wake Up! You Lazy Stomach!

Make Your Stomach Cheerfully Do Its Work—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Digest Your Food and Assist the Stomach.

People who complain they are worn to a frazzle are nearly always dyspeptic and are recommended to use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. The stomach gets lazy, food ferments and sours, gas belches up, there are symptoms of bloating, the blood becomes thick and sluggish, the liver is blamed, the head is heavy, the mind a blank and the dining room is a chamber of horrors.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain digestive elements a single grain being capable of digesting 3000 grains of food, including meats, eggs, grains, vegetables, starches and mineral matters. They prepare every particle of food by thorough digestion for ready absorption and assimilation by the lacteal glands, which pass it into the blood, whence it is conducted to all parts of the system, rebuilding and revitalizing it.

"CUSTER'S LAST FIGHT" at NEW THEATRE TODAY

An unprecedented and mammoth military production in three reels of sensationalism and realism is "Custer's Last Fight," the special attraction at the New theatre today. 1000 Indians and 1000 soldiers are used in making this hitherto undreamed of headliner in war pictures. $7000.00 was expended on powder for the filming of the stirring battles, reproducing the most sensational and deadly conflict in the U. S. history, in which the intrepid Gen. Custer walked into the very jaws of death and himself and entire troops were completely annihilated. The famous "Circle of Death" faithfully and vividly portrays the awful carnage of Custer's forces and the viewer is allowed to realize just how terrible was this historic party. Circulars are today being distributed over the city that give a detailed account of "Custer's Last Fight" and it will greatly deepen the interest, if you read the same.

The Parks Bros. are becoming well known in our city for their expert "Effect" playing and lend wonderful interest to the pictures through their ability to fit music to the varying scenes. If you would enjoy a real treat in this direction, then hear them play "Custer's Last Fight" today at the New theatre.

Tomorrow will be the remarkable and elaborate production, in four reels, of Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress," costing $50,000 to make and two years time, in Italy.

The Brunswick Bros. are now connected with the theatre and are giving their time in seeing that the theatre patrons are extended every comfort and courtesy possible, especially giving careful attention to the gentlemanly care of the ladies and children. It is the policy of these gentlemen and Mr. Sparks to watch the theatre from its opening to its closing and allow nothing disorderly to occur. Any lady or child can feel safe in the New theatre, for the management will permit nothing to offend. The leading people of our city will soon realize this fact and the New theatre is destined to, and is already, become very popular. Beginning Monday the Brunswick Brothers will entertain daily from three to six and from seven to ten P. M., using popular and classic numbers. Their opening song Monday will be "Moonlight on Broadway." It is safe to predict for them a favorable reception and they will prove much in favor in our midst.
