HE EXPECTS TO SPEND VACATION AT AUGUSTA

Will Rest in Southern City for a Time After Term Expires, According to Plans.

Washington, Dec. 11.—President Taft is considering an offer of the Kent professorship at the Yale Law school. The place, which has been vacant for several years and was last filled by Professor Phelps, at one time American minister to Great Britain, has been formally tendered to Mr. Taft and he has talked over the offer with his cabinet, but has arrived at no decision.

Should he accept it, his relation to Yale university would be much the same as was former President Cleveland's relation to Princeton. Mr. Taft is considering this offer on one side and his original plans to practice law on the other. Some of his friends here incline to the belief that he will accept the Yale place, although they do not expect he will make up his mind before next month.

SOU. BUSINESS MEN ORGANIZE

WOULD PROHIBIT STRIKE-BREAKING

Labor Congress Would Have Interstate Transportation of Breakers Stopped.

By Associated Press. Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 11.—That strike-breakers should not be transported from one state into another, there to replace employees on strike to secure better wages or better conditions, and that legislation should be enacted to prohibit such interstate traffic, is embodied in resolutions which are expected to be considered by the Southern Labor congress before it finally adjourns this afternoon.

Two hundred and thirty-seven delegates are attending the conference. The organization is expected to be made permanent. Resolutions condemning the employers' liability bill, pending before congress, as an instrument of the trusts, were adopted after spirited debate by the congress yesterday. Bitter attacks also were launched at the women's wage system and the "sweat shops."

Vice President James O'Connell of the American Federation of Labor vigorously protested against the adoption of the resolution. Arguments in favor of its adoption were advanced by T. S. Garver, Richmond, Va., W. P. Jackson, Little Rock, and H. O. Treat, Atlanta. They contended that the bill was a "frame up" of the trusts, the compensation prescribed inadequate and the trial by jury taken from the employe.

Form Conference to Prepare for Trade Development Incident to Opening of Canal.

THE SHIP SUBSIDY ADVOCATES ACTIVE

Indorsement Not Given Policy at Atlanta Meeting as Yet Prominent Men Attend.

By Associated Press. Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 11.—The Southern Panama Canal conference sprang into being here today as a permanent organization growing out of the gathering of southern business men planning to "get ready" for the opening of the Isthmian waterway. Commercial bodies, individuals, firms and corporations will be eligible to membership in the conference, which will have for its object the development of trade with South and Central American countries.

The conference today chose Wilmer L. Moore, president of the Atlanta chamber of commerce, as its first president and an executive committee of eight was chosen from wide sections of the south. It was decided to exact a membership fee.

An unsuccessful effort was made at the morning session to get before the convention a resolution favoring ship subsidy. Assurances were given its supporters, however, that opportunity would be given for the introduction of the resolution at the closing session this afternoon, which will be devoted to a discussion of the relation of the merchant marine to the canal.

Railroad Presidents Speak. President W. W. Finley of the Southern railroad presided during a discussion of the relation of the railroads to the waterways. L. E. Johnson of the Norfolk & Western, the first of three railroad presidents to speak, declared that he was not among those who believed that a great trade with South America would develop immediately after the opening of the canal. He said that the people of South America were much closer to the old country than they were to the United States; many of them had been educated in Europe and had been accustomed to trade with Europeans.

He thought that the best way to encourage closer commercial relations with the southern continent would be to send young men fresh from our agricultural and mechanical colleges into the Latin countries to assist in their development and to induce South Americans to send their children to school in this country.

Answering a question asked by a previous speaker, "what are we going to do with the canal after it is finished?" Mr. Johnson suggested that it be "filled with water." President W. J. Harahan of the Seaboard Air Line, then proposed that the canal should be filled with ships and the ships be filled with American commerce.

President T. M. Emerson of the Atlantic Coast Line told the conference that the railroads of the south were "ready" for the opening of the canal provided the commercial bodies and manufacturers would build up the trade for them to handle.

GIVEN FIVE YEARS IN FOSTER CASE

Sidna Allen, Leader of Hillville Clansmen, Convicted of Manslaughter.
