Baron Hardinge, India's Ruler Slightly Wounded and Attendant Killed by Explosion.

WAS ENTERING NEW CAPITAL IN STATE

Lady Hardinge, Beside Her Husband on Elephant, Escapes Unscathed—Many Arrests.

DELHI, India, Dec. 23.—Baron Hardinge, viceroy of India, was wounded and an attendant of the viceroy from a houseboat as he was entering the new capital in state today.

The viceroy was making an entry in state into Delhi as the last of the ceremonies in connection with the transfer of the capital from Calcutta to Delhi.

The transfer was made in October last but Baron Hardinge was not to take formal possession of his new quarters until today.

The viceroy's party, its splendid elephant procession had just left the railway station, passing through Chandni Chowk, when the bomb was thrown.

Lord Hardinge was wounded in the shoulder but how seriously could not be determined in the confusion which followed the bomb throwing.

Lord Hardinge was unharmed but much shaken by the experience. The bomb was a very powerful one.

Baron Hardinge on arrival at the hospital was examined by the surgeons. They found that the wound in his shoulder was only a slight one.

Lady Hardinge suffered severely from shock. The viceroy's personal bearer had been killed outright and another attendant seriously wounded by fragments of the bomb.

Ceremonies Go On. The ceremonies were interrupted for only a short period. Sir Guy Fleetwood Wilson, financial member of the council of the governor general of India, took the viceroy's place in the procession.

The attempt on Baron Hardinge's life aroused feelings of intense indignation both among the natives and foreigners for Baron Hardinge is one of the most popular viceroys that has ruled in India.

The bomb was thrown as the great procession was passing through the Chandni Chowk, a long, narrow typical Oriental street containing many stores.

several arrests. All the outlets from the city were placed under strict guard.

C. S. Mellen, E. J. Chamberlain and A. W. Smithers Accused of Illegal Monopoly Agreement.

SAY COMBINE REACHES STEAMSHIP TRAFFIC

Bill Alleges that Hartford and Grand Trunk Heads Prevent Rail and Water Competition.

New York, Dec. 23.—Charles S. Mellen, president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad; E. J. Chamberlain, president of the Grand Trunk railroad of Canada and Alfred W. Smithers, chairman of the Grand Trunk board of directors, were indicted by the federal grand jury here this afternoon, charged with violating the Sherman anti-trust law in the alleged monopoly agreement between the two roads.

The indictment avers that Mellen, Chamberlain and Smithers were engaged on August 3, 1912, and have since engaged in an unlawful combination to prevent the construction or completion of certain extensions of the Grand Trunk railway into New England.

It is also charged that they conspired to prevent the operation of steamships between Providence and New York and transportation of persons and property in interstate and foreign commerce over these lines of railroads and steamships.

It is charged that the defendants met in New York on August 5, 1912, and discussed a memorandum, the contents of which were exchanged between Messrs. Chamberlain and Mellen which provided that the Grand Trunk should sell the New Haven system all its interest in the Central Vermont and its subsidiaries which would include all the proposed extensions into New England.

The second overt act alleged embraces a charge that Chamberlain wrote to Vice-President J. E. Dairymple of the Grand Trunk, saying that he and Smithers had had a satisfactory interview with Mellen and it was agreed that Dairymple and Benjamin Campbell of the New Haven should meet quietly in Mellen's office and discuss new divisions of New England business.
