AMUSEMENTS

TONIGHT AT 8:30
David Belasco's "The Woman"
SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 15,
Maine and Night.
"Officer 666."
"The Woman."
The following comment of "The Woman," which comes to the Auditorium tonight, and was taken from the Charlotte News of last Tuesday: "A virile plot combined with interpretation of the highest order gave 'The Woman,' which was presented at the Academy of Music last night, a foremost rang among the attractions of the present season. "In the first place William C. de Mille has written a drama which grips in the old-fashioned sense of the word. The thing bites down hard and the feeling at the final curtain is regret that artistic limitations forbid further prolongation of the story. It has all the genuine atmosphere of big politics familiar in 'The Man of the Hour' and 'The Gentleman from Mississippi,' but it has as well a 'punch,' so to speak, not observable in either of these. Should the program makers desire a proverb or two to serve as a text to place above the cast of characters, they would not have far to seek. With reference to the strictly political phase of the plot, 'Holst with their own petard' sums up the situation. In regard to the more personal and private complication, the 'woman' herself could hardly fail to recall in her hour of bitterness the ancient warning, 'Be sure your sin will find you out.' The two themes are skillfully interwoven in a play that exhibits no weak points and a multitude of strong ones. "Mr. Belasco evidently thinks well of this particular offering, himself, judging from the talent he has put in the cast. The presentation was smooth, clear-cut and intelligent and was marked by the most delicate appreciation of the lights and shadows of the various characters. Beginning as a politico-comedy pure and simple, it rose to the height of sheer tragedy and in no part of the work was the real ability of the cast more clearly visible than in the few moments that followed the revelation of the woman's real identity. These were no mock heroics set to make the audience laugh, as the women's 'weepers' had done an hour earlier. This was the irretrievable debacle of the happiness of a household. And the point came across the footlights with all the clarity of a flash of lightning. "To commend the cast individually would be unfair, unless the complete list were given, for there were no weak spots. Naturally, Miss Marjorie Wood, as the little telephone girl; James Seelye as the machine boss, and Austin Webb as his son-in-law, shone by reason of the great opportunities their roles offered, but the work done in the lesser parts was fully as careful, finished and enjoyable." Prices range from 50 cents to $1.50; first nine rows $2.
