"The Highlander"
The students of the Asheville High School issued yesterday the Washington number of "The Highlander," a magazine published quarterly. Edwin S. Hartshorn, is editor-in-chief, Miss Grace MacLain and Charles G. Tennent are assistant editors, Kindricks Coachman is exchange editor, Miss Kattryn Wilson local editor, Carl N. Benn art editor, Charles O. Reynolds business manager and John Voorhees Brookshire assistant manager. This number of the Highlander issued yesterday contains several pictures and stories of Washington and is arranged in an attractive and clever style. The literary section of the magazine opens with a poem by William Thomas Keener entitled "Locke Craig" and contains the following articles: "Christmas, 1776" by Louise Jackson, "A Tramp to the Catskills" by Walter McRary, "The Messenger," by Miss Margaret Batterham, "Jerry's Visit to Washington," by Edwin S. Hartshorn, "To Papa After Losing his False Teeth," by William T. Keener, "A Trip to Rio de Janeiro," by K. P. Coachman, "A High School Song," by Miss L. M. Batterham. Under the head of "Locals" Miss Annie B. Tamm, writes on the Otololanian Literary society, John Voorhees Brookshire, '14, on the Cooper Literary society, and William T. Keener on the Athenian Literary society. The editorials of this little magazine are good, showing careful thought. The exchange and joke departments are also worthy of mention, the former keeping the Asheville High school in touch with the colleges and universities of this state and others of Texas, Massachusetts, New York, Tennessee and Pennsylvania.

purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful. You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25 cent bottle of Knowledge's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

The S. P. C. A. Successful.
The S. P. C. A. held an important and successful meeting yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. In the absence of A. J. Lyman the meeting was presided over by J. G. Dechler. The chief subject under discussion was the successful breaking up of the matter of cruelty to teams by individual owners in the hauling to the Grove hotel, as reported by the residents of Edgemont. This matter was most earnestly presented at the last meeting of this association at which time plans were laid and steps taken for immediate action. A fund was started with a generous donation from Mr. Deahler which was further increased from the funds of the society and the movement financially secured by a generous offer from F. L. Seely who heartily endorsed this effort put forth by the S. P. C. A., saying that he would gladly contribute to a fund for the payment of a private detective to keep watch and report cases of cruelty. The details of the work of this detective were presented at the meeting yesterday morning. The men employed was W. J. Gentry of Weaver's, who has practically eradicated this trouble in the parts of the city where the heavy grades make hauling difficult. At this meeting satisfaction was expressed in connection with this movement. Other matters of business were taken up and the meeting adjourned to convene again the first Tuesday in April, in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium.

New Coats and Silks.
For the girl who migrates to the mountains early in the season before the sun has taken the chill edge from the wind and for the girl who spends much of her time out of doors there is a new evening coat. It is made of soft, lightweight blanket cloth, usually a brown or blue background with gay red and green and tan markings, which suggest the Indian decoration. It is tube-like in shape and extends to the knees and is as warm as can be with the high, close fitting collar. To complete the effect one should wear a little soft felt hat that fits the head closely, and the trimming should be of a color to suggest the Indian head-dress. Charmeuse seems to be the only silk that has escaped the craze of patterning for everything from dressmaker's plush, which, by the way, is soft as chiffon velvet, to the transparencies are brocaded, embossed, printed, striped or plaited. However, charmeuse owes its beauty to its smooth, lustrous surface and its opaque and clinging qualities. Twill back charmeuse is holding its own in popularity, but the new crepe charmeuse is the final triumph of the manufacturer's art. Toilettes.

Civic League Meets.
One of the largest events in the club life of the city is the open meeting this afternoon of the Civic Betterment league which is occurring at the Henrietta. Among the organizations of the city this league, together with the D. A. R. and U. S. C., is of national importance, this movement having been so universally recognized that practically all of the leading cities of the United States and many of the smaller towns have branches of this whole association, representing the individual work in the different localities of this national wave of civic betterment, promotion and progress. The same general questions are being taken up in all branches in the cities of the state at this time, many important features of which will be passed upon this afternoon by Asheville's league, this league being a recognized member of the National Federation with headquarters in Washington.

HER EXPERIENCE QUITE EXPENSIVE

Gives Out Some Interesting Facts Regarding Her Troubles, and How She Avoided Further Expense.

Pinetree, Va.—Mrs. Cora Brooks of this town writes as follows: "I suffered for about three years with womanly trouble, and was getting worse and worse all the time. I had two good doctors, and I was sent to two good hospitals to be operated on, but no operating was done. All this cost me lots of money, and I was no better off than before I started. Finally I began to take Cardul, the woman's tonic. After taking six bottles the pains are all gone and I feel like a new woman entirely. I am now able to do all the housework for myself, husband and five children with ease. Before taking Cardul I was in bed seven weeks at a time, not able to do anything at all. I cannot praise Cardul enough for what it has done for me. At your drug store. There are thousands of women who have been benefited by taking Cardul, the woman's tonic, and there are thousands who are suffering from some form of womanly trouble—suffering for the lack of Cardul. Are you one of this number? If so, don't delay, but begin taking Cardul today. What it has done for so many others, it should surely do for you. At your drug store. N.
