GOVERNOR CRAIG ISSUES AN APPEAL

For Aid for Those Made Homeless by the Recent Floods and Storms
Governor Locke Craig arrived in the city last night from Raleigh and immediately after his arrival here he issued an appeal to the citizens of North Carolina to remember the hordes of homeless and helpless people in the west and central parts of the country, whose homes have been devastated and are being devastated by the tremendous floods and storms that have been raging for several days. His appeal was not only for the sympathy of the citizens of this state but for their material aid in alleviating the suffering of their fellowmen. His appeal is as follows:
"To the People of North Carolina:—The calamity that has befallen the states of Nebraska, Indiana and Ohio is incomprehensible in its tremendous proportions. The appalling floods have swept fields and cities with vast desolation and death. The people have been crushed with a boundless sorrow. Their property has been destroyed, their homes have been swept away. In despair, they are helpless and suffer for shelter, food and clothing—all ages and both sexes. The distress of so many thousands of our fellow beings arouses our humanity and appeals to the charity of the brotherhood of man. The duty is upon all the states of the union to hear the call and help in the rescue from want and starvation of multitudes of American citizens. As the governor, representing the people of North Carolina, I extend sympathy to the people of the stricken states and feel confident that we who have prospered will remember those who suffer in a great disaster. Contributions may be sent to the Red Cross, Washington, D. C., or to the Red Cross state treasurer, Raleigh, N. C. "LOCKE CRAIG, Governor of North Carolina."
