COMMITTEE HERE LOOKING FOR SITE

For Summer Homes Colony Company of Florida—Visiting Various Places.

Western North Carolina is now being inspected by the committee representing the Summer Homes Colony company of St. Petersburg, Fla., with a view to establishing a colony of the members of the company somewhere in this section. The committee is composed of three men, headed by President Avery of the company, and they arrived in Saluda last night, accompanied by Col. Sanford H. Cohen, manager of the Greater Western North Carolina association. G. R. Pettit, D. P. A., of Jacksonville and E. R. Pison, D. P. A., of Tampa, representing the Southern railway. This morning Division Passenger Agent J. H. Wood and Col. T. Gilbert Wood, local agent of the land and industrial department of the Southern railway, went up to Saluda to join the committee, and they will accompany them during the itinerary over the section. Saluda and Hendersonville will be visited and inspected by the committee today. The party will arrive in Asheville tonight and will leave tomorrow morning for Hot Springs and Marshall. The itinerary for the remainder of the stay in this section will be as follows: Friday, Dillsboro and Sylva; Saturday, Waynesville and Canton; Monday, Asheville and Buncombe county; Tuesday, Brevard, Lake Toxaway and other points in Transylvania county. The only definite proposition that it is known will be made to the St. Petersburg people is that of James E. Rector, who has offered to donate 100 acres of land, advantageously situated near Hot Springs, and the assurance that other progressive citizens of that section will supplement this offer if it seems necessary. It is understood, however, that an attractive proposition will be made by every town visited in western North Carolina. William J. East, formerly an architect of Pittsburgh, who has been in the city since last winter and has located here permanently, is a close personal friend of Mr. Avery, the president of the colony company, and he will join the party here tomorrow and go with them over the section. He will use all his influence to have the Florida people choose a site for their colony somewhere in this section. Those who have been in touch with the situation in the meantime over the prospects for landing this colony in western North Carolina. The establishment of the colony, as previously published in The Gazette-News, would mean the expenditure of a large amount of money, besides securing for the section the very highest class of permanent summer settlers, whose influence would go far in bringing other such colonies here. It is one of the biggest development propositions that the section has had to consider for some time.

TEN PROSPEROUS YEARS OF BUSINESS IN CITY

Every Year in Asheville Has Been One of Progress for C. H. HONES.

A few days ago C. H. Honess, the optometrist on Patton avenue, passed his tenth anniversary in Asheville, every year of which has been a year of progress. Since coming here 10 years ago the business of Mr. Honess has increased wonderfully, and he feels a sort of pardonable pride in what he has accomplished, for he occupies a very enviable place in his profession, as compared with such houses all over the state. Time and again Mr. Honess has found it necessary to enlarge his offices and equipment, until now he has been told by traveling men that he has one of the most up-to-date and best equipped places west of Richmond. Only recently Mr. Honess added 25 feet to his work room, which allowed him to have two new examination rooms. At this time he also added new grind stones and new examining instruments, all made necessary by the large increase in business. He has also found it necessary to add to his force and has greatly increased the stock. The offices have also been redecorated—newly papered and with new linoleum on the floors. During his residence in Asheville Mr. Honess has easily gained the confidence of the people and has made many friends in and out of business.

LOSS OF RARE BOOKS BASIS OF DAMAGE SUIT

Frederick Rutledge Institutes Action for $2500 Against Southern.

Alleging that the Southern railway has lost certain valuable books, some of them out of print, and family histories, Frederick Rutledge has instituted suit against the company for damages in the sum of $2500. Mr. Rutledge sets forth in the complaint filed in the office of Superior court that on October 12, 1912, Mrs. Alice Felder shipped to him from First Rock a box of household goods and a box of books; that on October 19, the household goods were delivered to him but the books were marked "lost" in the freight bill. It is contended that the agent said he thought he could recover the books, but that the plaintiff has never received them. It is recited that the books were valuable as family histories and as histories of the early days of the country; that in them were the original signatures of some of the signers of the declaration of independence and of early days, and that many of the books are out of print and cannot be replaced; that the defendant company was fully informed as to the character of the shipment. The suit is brought through Lee A. Ford.
