Thaw's Latest Plan to Await Trial on Charge of Being Fugitive from Matteawan.

ULTIMATUM FROM DOMINION OFFICERS

Thaw Can Either Accept Deportation to Vermont or Stay in Jail Until October.

By Associated Press. Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 23.—Out of the tangle of legal red tape surround-ing the c of Harry K. Thaw, detained in the Sherbrooke jail as a fugitive from Matteawan, there issued this afternoon what was understood to be an ultimatum from the immigra

It was that Thaw, if he so elected, would be deported to Newport, Vt., as an undesirable after his arraignment in court here on Wednesday and that then the Canadian authorities would withdraw entirely from the affair. If myself pointed out and whispered he chooses not to submit to deporta-about? This put the next step in the case squarely up to the prisoner himself, a situation said to be very pleasing to him. His lawyers conferred with him all forenoon, but with what result was not made known. Roger O'Mara of Pittsburgh, reported to be on his way here to take charge of the case for the Thaw family, had not arrived this afternoon and Thaw was still the dominant head of the proceedings.

District Attorney Conger of Duchess county, N. Y., Deputy Attorney-General Franklin Kennedy and others concerned in getting Stanford White a slaver back to Matteawan are awalting developments, meantime pressure on the Vermont authorities in anticipation of extradition proceed-ings in that state.

Thaw will probably never have a hearing on the habeas corpus writ, according to a statement by one of his ounsel today. The date for this hearing has been set for next Wednesday, but the entire habens corpus proceedings will be dropped before then if the latest proposal is carried out.

This is to have the writ withdrawn

In this event Thaw would appear before a magistrate and seect the method of his trial, it should be by jury or by the court Should he elect a trial by jury his case would not ordia month or more of delay would conuently result.
