

AT NEW BREAD, CABBAGE, SAUSAGE, AND DIGEST IT. "PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN" indigestion, no sour gassy stomach or dyspepsia.

Try it!

Do some foods you eat hit back—ate good, but work badly; ferment to stubborn lumps and cause a sick ur, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, jot this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. No reference how badly your stomach is soured, you get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear. Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. Diapepsin is quick, positive and puts stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.
Put an end to stomach trouble by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store.
You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

REYNOLDS CAUSTIC ON CURRENCY BILL

Head of Bankers Association Calls It an "Invasion of Liberty."

Boston, October 8.—Arthur Reynolds of Des Moines, Ia., first vice-president of the American Bankers Association, and because of the presents death during the year, its acting officer, characterized today as unnecessary and unjust, and an invasion of the liberty of the citizen retain features of the administration's pending currency bill. Mr.
Reynolds discussed the bill at length before the association which is in convention here. He said in part:
"The admitted inadequacy of the present national banking act to meet the emergencies of business has been the subject of much labor on the part of this association, through its various committees, to secure from the Congress of the United States a change in the law along lines of sound principles of finance as exemplified by the experience of the world. It would seem that there ought to be great difficulty in applying these principles which other commercial nations have found elementary and necessary to permanent success to our present banking system and to adapting them to our geographical and commercial condition.
Today we are facing proposed legislation which I can hardly regard as less than an invasion of the liberty of the citizen in the control of his own property, by putting under government management enormous individual investments and a branch of the country's business which should be left to individual effort.

Resents Federal Control.
"Neither the banks nor their great army of stockholders, nor the business men who are their clients, have ever urged the least objection to close and thorough supervision of the banks by the government; indeed, bankers have welcomed such supervision to the fullest extent. But to go further and take administrative control and deny us any share or voice in the management of our own business seems both unnecessary and unjust."

"No nation in the world has ever found it necessary to assume such broad powers as are contemplated under the new bill. It will readily be recognized that men trained in the banking business and conversant with the necessities of the borrowing public, as well as its ability to liquidate its obligations could act with better information and clearer judgment than political appointees selected along partisan lines, and with only casual regard for their experience in the business."

"I believe, therefore, that while both the bankers and the people advocate careful and thorough government supervision of any system which may be adopted, a business of such great magnitude and importance to the country's prosperity should be in the control of men educated and trained in such business in the highest degree, rather than in state control. This is not in any sense a political question. It must be solved upon the higher plans of statesmanship and not subjected to the strife and selfishness of political parties.

Credits Not Restricted.
"Those in control of the proposed legislation have believed that the present method of handling the reserve of the banks of the country, whereby large sums are finally lodged in central reserve cities, has led to the promotion of speculation, to the exclusion of proper credit accommodations to legitimate business enterprises. They claim it is their purpose to free the credits of the country to such proper uses.

"I do not believe that banking credits in this country are restricted, or that banks are at the present time denying credit to those who are legitimately entitled to it. I believe that such credits are now being extended more freely to all classes of people and business, and in a more liberal way than anywhere else in the world.
One of the admitted causes of our financial disturbances in the past has been the over-expansion of credit to the people. If any evils exist in our present system through the accumulation of reserves in large cities, it does not seem just or fair to destroy the good features of the present system in an experiment to find a remedy."

"It is my belief that this proposed method of redistributing reserves will work a large and unnecessary contraction of credits and a consequent hardship upon many banks and individuals. This would be especially true with the so-called country banks in the agricultural districts, and with many individual interests in reserve cities where deposits would be greatly restricted.
"The bills receivable of the country bank are not and cannot from the nature of its business be of the character required for rediscout by the regional bank. Under the present system the reserve city correspondent keeps in as close personal touch with the requirements of the country bank as with the individual customer and accepts the paper of the country bank liberally for rediscount."

"It would seem, therefore, that in this redistribution of reserves the present reserve cities should not be entirely ignored. To do so largely deprives the country bank of borrowing accommodations, eliminates that personal relationship of its reserve agent with its borrowing needs, and restricts proper credits unnecessarily in all present reserve cities."

No Reason for Government Credit.
"There is no reason why the government credit should be involved in the circulating notes which are to be issued as substitutes for money. They are to be absolutely secured beyond any reasonable probability of loss by the deposit of collateral."

"None of the principal nations of the world that have in various ways adopted centralized banking and authorized the issue of credit instruments to circulate as substitutes for money have allied the government credit with the credit of banks in such circulating medium. Such guaranty is unnecessary and might become embarrassing in the event of large government credit becoming necessary.

"The notes should be issued by the reserve banks for value received as credit instruments solely, in the same manner as a bank would give credit in a similar transaction upon a deposit account against which checks could be drawn. In the latter case the checks would perform the same functions as the note."

"The proposed bill provides for subjecting 20 per cent. of the assets of national banks to government control I believe this amount should be limited to 10 per cent. and that membership should be optional.
"It is unjust and un-American that 7400 leading business institutions in their will into a system that is under senting and aggregate of two billions of capital employed, accumulated and managed with unquestioned ability and integrity, should be forced against
objectionable control. This great country was born in a spirit of liberty and freedom from oppression, and that great principle has come down through the centuries with added strength in every generation. Our institutions are not run under the lash of the government, but prosper because they are founded upon principles of liberty and justice to all people.
That a financial system which is the foundation of the country's prosperity, must in order to succeed be founded upon those principles goes without saying."

Possibility of State Charters.
"It must not be forgotten that more than 70 per cent. in number of the banking institutions of the country are now doing business under state charters. They have prospered and are largely satisfied with their present conditions. If, therefore, any measure is to be met with success which should attend the reorganization of the banking system of the country, it must be based upon sound principles and justice and fairness to all. It must inspire confidence and enlist a desire upon the part of all banks to become members.
"It must be borne in mind that any system which curtails the activities of the banks or impairs their ability to serve the business interests is no less an injury to those business interests than the banks. The bankers rely on the prosperity of the people for their own success and seek only a measure which will establish a system upon a sound basis.

"The bill now before congress recognizes some of the principles for which the bankers have long contended, particularly the use of commercial paper as a basis of note issues. It is, however, believed that it contains a number of objectionable features which would be so burdensome to banks that some modifications are necessary to secure that cooperation which is required to make such a law a success.
"We are loath to believe that the integrity and the patriotism of bankers are regarded with suspicion by our law-makers; or that it is believed that bankers are not to be trusted in the management of their own business through which the needs of the commerce of the country have been so ably served in the past; or that it is believed that banking should be more restricted than is the case of business except as to supervision; or that the experience of bankers in their chosen profession should not be of value in the preparation of a new law; or that in the pursuit of politically the best thought of the country on so important a problem will not be

DID CHILD WAKE UP GROSS OR FEVERISH?

Look, Mother! If tongue is Coated give "California" Syrup of Figs."

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

"When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.
Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "Calli-fornia Fig Syrup Company." Counterfeits are being sold here. Don't be fooled!

given fair consideration.
"It is hoped, then, that the final results obtained will be such as will permit bankers to retain their self-respect in the control of their own property and to transact business under conditions at least as favorable as is provided for state institutions, through which so large a percentage of the business of the country is now satisfactorily handled."

Come Now for Best Choice in New Fall Suits

Fall fashions are now fixed and the tendency is slender to leanness which adds a suggestion of supple liteness to the total of feminine grace.

The Oriental idea is still strong, noticeable in the natural figure, the drawn-up front draperies and the richness of fabrics and colors.

The smart set plumes itself in velvets, brocades and light weight plushes and in rich woollens, known as Duvetyn Veloir de Laine and wool bengaline. Ornate brocades, tinier Jacquard figures and damasse designs are among the novelties. Practical people are strong for chevits and serges, wool poplines, prunellas, eporges and a variety of simple weaves.

There is an indescribable poise in the new suits when worn according to the mode, every pose a picture. The line between well-done and over-done is finely drawn. There are practically styles in plenty, and it is to those, ideal and approved fashions that we call your chief attention.
