

GUDGER BUSY IN DISTRICT, HE SAYS

Representative Replies to Washington Criticism of Absent Congressmen.

NO LEGISLATION IS POSSIBLE JUST NOW

Notes: Transacting No Business—Mr. Gudger is Looking After the Postoffice Situation.

Relative to the special dispatch from Washington in yesterday's issue of the Gazette-News, in which the charge was made that a large number of the members of the house of representatives remain away from Washington and draw salaries that they do not earn, Congressman James M. Gudger, Jr., gave out an interview to a reporter for the Gazette-News this morning.

Mr. Gudger thinks the charge is groundless that "absentee congressmen" are not earning their salaries; and further than that, that they could not do anything if they were in Washington, owing to a resolution of the democratic caucus. "At the beginning of the special session," said Mr. Gudger, "at the suggestion of leaders of the democratic party, the democratic caucus passed resolutions to the effect that no legislation was to be entered into during the special session except the tariff and currency bills and a few urgent matters non-political. The democratic members of the house remained in Washington until after the final passage of the tariff bill, and until the house had passed the currency measure, after which notice was given that no other legislation would be had during the special session. Following this, the house adjourned for three days, after which by general consent, all of the members living within reasonable call of Washington returned to their districts subject to the call of the 'whip,' Congressman Bell.

"I received a statement last Monday from House Leader Underwood to the effect that it was unnecessary for the members to be in Washington until the passage of the currency bill by the senate, and that possibly it will be unnecessary for them to return before the convening of the regular session in December. The democratic members of the house feel that they have no business to be in Washington until after the passage of the currency bill, and that possibly it will be unnecessary for them to return before the convening of the regular session in December. The democratic members of the house feel that they have no business to be in Washington until after the passage of the currency bill, and that possibly it will be unnecessary for them to return before the convening of the regular session in December.

Looking After District. As to the men who are away from Washington not earning their salaries, Mr. Gudger said: "The absent members are in their districts looking after matters connected with the duties of congressmen. As for myself, I have been engaged in sending out between 500 and 600 letters, advising democratic applicants for postoffices as to the methods of procedure required in filing applications for fourth class postoffices, and also the postoffices, about 50 in number, that do not require examinations necessary to fill the vacant positions."

Mr. Gudger frankly stated that it is his purpose to try and fill every vacant office, over 600 in number, in the district with worthy and efficient democrats and that he has been sending out to the applicants data looking out to this end. He stated, in addition, that his special purpose in returning to the district was to be present while Secretary of State Bryan came here, in order to be with him while he was looking over the forest lands of western North Carolina to induce him to use his influence in establishing a national park by the government on the system used in the Yellowstone National park.

It is his purpose, he stated, to return to Washington the first of next week in order to induce influential representatives and senators to personally visit this mountain section in order to obtain their influence in establishing such a park. "It is absolutely certain now," said Mr. Gudger, "that there will be no legislation enacted by the house during the remainder of the special session, and I am unable to see how members of the house could earn salaries by simply being in Asheville more than they can by lending to important affairs in their districts."

EN. ALLEN STRUCK BY AN AUTOMOBILE

News was received in the city by news last night to the effect that General Charles J. Allen of this city had been injured by an automobile in Washington, D. C., Wednesday and is now confined in the Walter Reed hospital of that city. He is attended by Army surgeons and it is understood that they have as yet been unable to determine the exact extent of the injuries, although they are serious.

IMPORTANT TO MOTHERS

A record of sixty-five years continuous use of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup by mothers in all parts of the world, is the highest praise that can be given for "children teaching" has received. Every year the young star follows in the footsteps of mother and finds Mrs. Winslow's thing Syrup to be the favorite, and it has come on for a period of six-five years. Millions of mothers use it for their children while they are suffering with colic, the child, softens the gums, all pain, cures wind colic and the best remedy for diarrhoea. It is Druggists and medicine dealer. In all parts of the known world, fifty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's thing Syrup and take no other.

General Allen was struck by the automobile as he was attempting to cross New York avenue at Thirteenth street, it is said. He had been in Washington for several weeks with his son, Charles K. Allen, while his wife and daughter, Miss Grace, were in Summit, N. J.

DECIDED REVIVAL OF CONFUCIANISM

Movement Threatens to Make This State Religion of Chinese Republic.

By Associated Press.

Peking, Nov. 1.—In the process of drafting a permanent constitution for the Chinese republic the question as to whether there is to be a recognized state religion looms large at present in the discussions at Peking. A decided Confucian revival has been in progress in recent months and this has found its expression in the organization of the Confucian association, which includes many distinguished scholars of the republic. One of the central figures of the movement is Dr. Chen Huan-chang, author of the book, "The Economical Principles of Confucius and his School," who has received the highest literary honors in China and also the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from Columbia University, New York.

With other Chinese literati, he has been carrying on a most energetic campaign to influence the members of parliament to vote in favor of inserting in the constitution some such statement as follows: "Confucianism shall become the state religion, while religious liberty shall still be accorded to the people of China." A petition to this effect has been presented to the assembly. Following Western methods of lobbying, Dr. Chen has interviewed practically all members of parliament in the support of this movement.

Before the establishment of the republic, prejudice against Christianity was great, but in the provisional constitution freedom of religion was provided for, and Christians, as well as Mohammedans, Buddhists, and Taoists have had before the state at least presumptive equality with Confucianists. President Yuan Shih-kai said in a speech before the National Assembly on April 29, 1912: "In view of the religious liberty of the people, all religions will be regarded as being on the same footing, and there will be no discrimination against any particular one. There should be mutual respect and avoidance of mutual distrust among the people irrespective of whether they practice any particular religion or not, or whether faith they embrace, so that they may all share in the enjoyment of public peace and happiness."

Naturally enough the Christians of the republic, now numbering almost a million, including all branches of the Christian church, are not standing idly by watching without protest the movement to establish Confucianism as the state religion. A committee of seven has been selected and a counter-movement is under way. The duty of the committee is that of informing Christians throughout the country concerning the various activities of the Confucian propaganda and they are also seeing to it that a counter-petition is presented to the assembly, calling for unconditional religious liberty and rejecting the proposal to have a state religion as well as Mohammedans, Buddhists, and Taoists have had before the state at least presumptive equality with Confucianists. President Yuan Shih-kai said in a speech before the National Assembly on April 29, 1912: "In view of the religious liberty of the people, all religions will be regarded as being on the same footing, and there will be no discrimination against any particular one. There should be mutual respect and avoidance of mutual distrust among the people irrespective of whether they practice any particular religion or not, or whether faith they embrace, so that they may all share in the enjoyment of public peace and happiness."

TOMORROW PASTOR'S SECOND ANNIVERSARY

Sunday will mark the second anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. Dr. Calvin B. Waller of the First Baptist church. The church has made marked progress during those two years. Dr. Waller will review some of the history of the church tomorrow, using as his special topic: "The Stone of Help," or "My Second Milestone," with a special message to the church members, all of whom are urged to attend.

Tomorrow night Dr. Waller will use as his subject: "The Conversion of a Noted Politician." He will refer to the "conversion" of Ex-Gov. M. R. Patterson of Tennessee to the "Prohibition Cause."

J. J. MACKAY HAD ANOTHER GOOD MONTH

County Register of Deeds J. J. Mackay had another banner month during October, in fact banner months are getting to be common with Mr. Mackay, for every recent month seems to be a banner one with his office. According to his figures compiled at the closing hour last evening the office had taken in $135.50 for papers which have been filed in the office during the past month, and 53 marriage licenses had been issued. This is the second largest month in the history of the office according to Mr. Mackay, the largest being September, with this month running it a close second. It is a fact that people only marry in June and at Christmas.

BRING 200 SUITS AGAINST RAILWAY

Southern Is Defendant in Many Cases Alleging Freight Rate Overcharges.

Summonses to the number of 200 or more are being issued today against the Southern Railway company, as a corporation, to appear before Justice of the Peace W. R. Gudger on Monday, November 10, and answer to charges of overcharges that have been made in the freight traffic department.

The complainants in these cases are the Asheville Lumber company and others, and their attorneys, Haynes & Gudger, the hearings will probably take up several days, and the number of charges brought probably establishes a record, certainly in this section, of indictments brought in any one day against a corporation. The overcharges alleged vary in amount from $20 to $80, and the aggregate amount in all of the cases runs over $10,000. If the Southern is held liable for these overcharges, it will also be liable to a penalty in each case of $100, making a total of over $20,000. The violation is of a state law and Justice of the Peace Gudger has final jurisdiction, subject, of course, to appeal.

Overcharges by common carriers are defined and their settlement regulated in the Revised 1905, state laws, and according to the sections on this subject such overcharges must be settled within 60 days, upon the presentation of a statement from the individual or firm that suffers the overcharge. If not settled within this time a penalty of $25 is provided, with an additional penalty of $5 a day after the expiration of this time, the total penalty, however, not to exceed $100. It is stated that the full penalty will apply in each of the cases to be brought at this time.

Some of these alleged overcharges have been running for seven years, and it is of interest to note that the statute of limitations does not apply in these cases.

HALLOWE'EN CELEBRATORS CROWDED THE DOCKET

Twenty-two Defendants Appeared in Police Court—Sentences Given.

Hallowe'en celebrators predominated in Police Court this morning, 23 cases being on the docket with eight "drunks" leading the list of those who faced Judge Adams. There were also four gambling cases; four of a disorderly nature and three assaults. A total of 188 days on the roads was registered against defendants today.

Today's record is as follows: Robert Taylor, colored, was tried on a charge of embezzlement, he having been examined and bound over to Superior court under a bond of $250. John Moore and Hilliard Love were each given 30 days on the roads on charges of gambling; and Will Love, charged with the same offense, was given 18 days on the roads. Robert Johnson was sentenced to serve 30 days on the roads for trespassing.

Annie Barber was given 30 days in the county home on a charge of assault.

A larceny case against Aleck Parker was continued until November 4. C. G. Henderson was given 30 days on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Arthur Bruce was found not guilty in one assault case against him and was taxed with the costs in another. Louis Reynolds, charged with assault, was tried and prayer for judgment was continued until December 1.

Will Rosboud, up on a charge of gambling, was made a state's witness and the case against him not pressed.

Four cases of a disorderly nature were heard this morning and eight "drunks" were tried.

MEET TO CONSIDER THE EMPLOYMENT OF EXPERT

Western North Carolina Lumber and Timber Association to Make Decision.

There will be a meeting this afternoon at 5 o'clock of the members of the Western North Carolina Lumber and Timber association, when matters of great importance will be considered. One of these matters will be the question of employing a freight traffic expert for his entire time to audit such freight bills as are presented to him by members of the association and of the Asheville Merchants' association, which is also interested in the matter. A special committee has recommended such action, and there seems little doubt but that the expert will be employed.

It is believed that the shippers of the section who belong to these two organizations could save thousands of dollars annually by the employment of such an expert. A number of the shippers now have their freight bills audited in other cities, and the cost of this is almost prohibitive. The fact that the interstate freight law passed by the recent special session of the general assembly is to go into effect very shortly and there will be considerable confusion in rates is also argued in favor of an expert to devote his entire attention to the advancement of the best interests of the shippers of western North Carolina.

It will be necessary for the Merchants' association to take action in the matter before an expert is employed, even if the lumber and timbermen vote favorably on the matter at the meeting today.

JUDGE FRANK CARTER TO HOLD SPECIAL TERM

Is Commissioned by Governor Craig to Preside over One Week Civil Court.

A dispatch received from Raleigh that Governor Craig has commissioned Judge Frank Carter to hold a special term of the Buncombe county Superior court for the trial of civil cases, the term to begin December 15 and to last for one week. This action was taken at the request of the Buncombe county commissioners, court officers and attorneys interested, on account of the congested condition of the docket.

WOMAN'S EMPLOYMENT IN PENN. IS EFFECTIVE

Working Hours Limited to 54 per Week; Not over 10 per Day.

By Associated Press. Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 1.—Pennsylvania's new woman's employment law went into effect today, and the limit of hours of employment for women and girls will be 54 per week except in the home and on the farm. The new law prohibits the employment of women or girls for more than six consecutive days and not more than 10 hours in any one day.

One of the features of the act is that 45 minutes must be allowed for the midday meal and a rest period of the same length after continuous employment for six hours. Night employment is limited to telephone operators over 18 years of age and to women employed as managers, superintendents, clerks and stenographers. The department of labor and industry, which is charged with the enforcement of the law, will, according to a statement issued today by Commissioner Jackson, be reasonable and work to bring about the conditions required by the statute without enacting unnecessary hardships.

The effect of the law will be to cause many changes in industrial and mercantile establishments and its applicability to theatrical people and various classes of employes will be worked out after advice from the attorney general's department.

Before United States Commissioner R. S. McCall yesterday afternoon, George Russell and Virgie Webb, charged with retailing, were arraigned, but the hearings in both cases were continued. Russell's case will come up Monday, and Webb's will be set for Tuesday. The commissioner named bond in each case of $200.

"STARVING TO DEATH" Was Mrs. Bell, of Florida, When She Began Taking Peruna.

"Yes, I was starving to death," said Mrs. Emma Bell, of Fort Pierce, Florida, Box 204. "When I began to take Peruna, I could not eat anything. If I swallowed anything it soured on my stomach. My stomach was very much swollen. My bowels acted as if I had acute dysentery. I was in great distress and pain. Three doctors had been employed, but gave me no relief. I was continually growing worse.

I was in Despair. "In my despair I caught at every straw. Picking up a newspaper I saw some account of Peruna. There was a testimonial from a woman who had been troubled much like myself. I concluded to try Peruna.

I Wrote to Dr. Hartman. "At the same time I wrote to Dr. Hartman. He pronounced my case catarrh of the stomach and bowels. I soon began taking Peruna. At once I began to improve. After taking half a bottle my stomach was so improved that I could eat some."

I Began to Recover. Then this good housewife goes on to narrate in detail her rapid improvement and final recovery. She said, "After taking two bottles of Peruna I was strong enough to stand up to wash the dishes. When she began taking Peruna she weighed 109 pounds. After she had taken five bottles of Peruna she weighed 122 pounds. She concludes by saying that she is well.

It Was Twelve Years Ago. The letter from which the above quotations were made was received January 29, 1901. In a later letter, written September 11, 1904, she says, "I sing the praises of Peruna far and near. It is used a great deal in our vicinity. This seems to be a bad place for catarrh." We have received letters from her since. The last time we heard from her, December 1912, she was still a friend of Peruna. For other testimonials on catarrh of the stomach, see "Bills of Life," sent free. Address Peruna Co., Columbus, Ohio.

The stomach and bowels are lined with a mucous membrane. They are therefore subject to catarrh, the same as the nose and throat. Catarrh of the stomach and bowels will derange the functions of these organs. The stomach can no longer digest food. The food lying in the stomach, even for a short time, without digestion, immediately sours. The souring produces gas and irritation.

Food Sours in the Stomach. A portion of the undigested meal is absorbed into the system by the blood vessels of the stomach. This poisons the whole system, producing a condition now known as auto-intoxication; self poisoning. The fermenting, irritating mass, as it passes down into the bowels irritates the bowels, producing sometimes a chronic diarrhoea, sometimes producing the very opposite, constipation.

The average dyspeptic medicine helps to satisfactorily digest the food. Even when such medicine does its work it is only temporary. A permanent relief can only be expected when the catarrh is overcome.

Symptoms of Catarrh of the Stomach. The symptoms of catarrh of the stomach are: First, heartburn. Second, food rises in throat after meals. Third, sour stomach. Fourth, heavy feeling after eating. Fifth, stomach bloated, belching of gas. Sixth, palpitation of heart. Seventh, poor digestion, heavy dyspepsia. Eighth, tongue coated light brown. Ninth, tenderness over pit of stomach. Tenth, cannot bear tight clothes around waist.

People who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets.

THE VANDERBILT TEAM TO BE HERE TOMORROW

One of South's Big Football Squads Will Stop Here For Few Hours.

The members of the Vanderbilt football team, together with the substitutes, coaches and trainers with Head Coach Dan McGugin in charge, the party numbering about 20, will arrive in Asheville tomorrow morning at 10:05 o'clock and will remain here until 3:05 in the afternoon. No program of entertainment has been made for these notables who will be guests in the city, but it is probable that they will be met by admirers and good football enthusiasts for a trip over the city and luncheon at one of the hotels.

The team plays the University of Virginia at Charlottesville today and will leave for Nashville tonight, arriving here on the Asheville express tomorrow morning. They will travel in a special Pullman sleeping car. The team is always one of the best in the south, and this year it is generally conceded to be the very best. The members of the squad are well known by reputation, and hero worshippers of the gridiron will have an opportunity tomorrow to see them in the flesh.

SOUTHERN GAMES ARE EXPECTED TO BE CLOSE

Today's Football Contests Will Point the Way to Championships.

By Associated Press. Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 1.—Generally cooler weather throughout the south today promised football followers better games this afternoon than have marked the season. A well-filled program carried games that were expected to point the way to the southern championship. The game most closely watched was that between Virginia and Vanderbilt at Charlottesville, Va. These two teams are among the very strongest in the south.

A close game was predicted at Athens, Ga., between the University of Georgia and the University of North Carolina. Each team is credited with having a stronger line than in past years, and open field play was expected to be depended on largely.

Auburn was to play Louisiana State university at Mobile, Ala., this afternoon. Sewanee was matched against Georgia Tech at Atlanta. Comparative scores show little difference in the strength of the teams. Other games scheduled for today were: North Carolina Aggies vs. Wake Forest at Raleigh, N. C. Alabama vs. Mississippi college at Jackson, Miss. Washington and Lee vs. V. P. I. at Roanoke, Va. Mississippi A. and M. vs. Texas A. and M. at Dallas. Tulane vs. St. Louis at St. Louis. Furman vs. Citadel at Charleston, S. C. Georgetown vs. Carleton at Washington. Chattanooga vs. Tennessee at Knoxville, Tenn.

REPORT COMPILED OF VAST PACIFIC TRADE

Done as Intimation of Possibilities to Manufacture With Opening of Canal.

By Associated Press. Washington, Nov. 1.—As an intimation of the vast trade that will be brought close to the doors of American manufacturers and merchants with the opening of the Panama canal, the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce has issued a statement of the world trade done by the countries washed by the Pacific ocean. The total of this trade cannot fully be gathered but the imports into the various Pacific ports in 1912 exceeded two and one-third billions of dollars.

The bureau discovered, also, that the consuming power of the countries virtually doubled in a little more than a decade. It also ascertained that although the United States was setting its normal share of the trade, the percentage which it supplies of the imports "shows comparatively little change."

Manufactured goods from the greater part of the supplies sent from this country to the nations on the Pacific, Japan and China alone are exceptions to this for they are heavy purchasers of raw cotton. One healthy feature of the situation is found in the rapidly increasing trade done with the west coast countries of Central and South America.

Reports were received in the office of Internal Revenue Agent R. E. Sams yesterday afternoon of the seizure of two illicit distilleries in Macon county by Deputy Collectors H. E. Brown and T. D. Shelton. One plant was seized in Forsyth county by Deputy Collectors C. A. Haynes, G. O. Monday and W. A. Hendrix.
