For Miss Lassiter.

Miss Lucile Lassiter, who has been the house guest of Miss Louise Arbogast during the Christmas and New Year holidays and who in company with Miss Arbogast leaves today for Martha Washington college in Abingdon, Va., was guest of honor at a recent tea given by Miss Eula Arbogast. Miss Louise Arbogast was also a guest of honor at this function given by her sister, which was a delightful occasion, being largely attended and most successful. The handsome Arbogast home was thrown open for the event and was beautifully decorated in holiday greenery. Mrs. Ralph Arbogast served punch, and Mrs. Frank Gudger poured tea, while a salad course and other refreshments were served by Miss Gail Kennett and Miss Katherine Arbogast. The tea was the second delightful social function given for Miss Lassiter by her hostesses. Among the guests who were present were: Miss Elsie Alexander, Miss Mildred Courtney, Miss Margaret Linn, Miss Ruth Chatfield, Miss Emily Bourne, Miss Willie Carter, Miss Cuthbert Dufour, Miss Elsie Gudger, Miss Adelaide Merrimon, Miss Fannie Moore, Miss Elizabeth Merrimon, Miss Dorothy Jennings, Miss Dorothy Randolph, Miss Miriam Reynolds, Miss Little Tryon Meriwether, and her house guest, Miss Robbie Porter, Miss Mary Susie Barnard, Miss Edith Porter, Miss Josephine Carr, Miss Louise Cotton, Miss Alma Hawthorne, Miss Edith Holmes, Miss Louise Jackson, Miss Dorothy Jennings, Miss Dorothy George, Miss Helen Meares, Miss Aylene Reynolds, Miss Helen Nichols, Miss Mary Frances Shuford, Miss Mary Sumner, Miss Madeline Loughran, Miss Hortense Toms, Miss Louise Walker, Miss Dorothea Weaver, Miss Clara Roth, Miss Katherine Homer, Miss Mary Wiley, Miss Helen Moore, Miss Mary Millender, Miss Elizabeth Moore, Miss Mary Moore Woodridge, Miss Beth Taylor and Miss Hannah Jones.

French Sport Coats.

In the French sport coats there is a new detail. This is the fulness at the back below the left. The seaming of this is covered by a belt across the back of the coat. These coats stop between knees and ankles. The collar is large and loose about the neck; often it is cut with a standing roll. The revers are made so they will lap over to make a double breasted effect that closes up to the neck. There is also a godet coat that hangs from the neck. It seems in cut like a very full circular cape in the body part, and the sleeves are either set in or shape down from the shoulder from the body of the coat. These coats button up to the neck and have an odd little sailor collar of fur or plush that starts from the side of the neck rather than the front. They are sometimes trimmed with ruffles above the hem.—New York Herald.

FEARS BANTAM WIFE Six Foot Giant Prefers Jail to Life With Irate Little Mate.

A hurried marriage four months ago, which ended in Squire Donegan's court here, here, brought to light a remarkable case of overpowering by a strapping 6.2-foot husband weighing 210 pounds of a wee wife weighing not over 95 pounds and measuring about 4 feet 3 inches in height. John Cubick, an engineer, who said he was 19 years old, all the while furtively glancing at his wife, and without a trace of shame, told Squire Donegan that he dared not remain with his wife Betty, because she was in the habit of administering corporal punishment to him, and he believed that she would eventually kill him while in anger. Cubick was arrested for desertion on a charge made by his frail little wife, who declares that he had left here several weeks ago, and had since refused to provide for her. Should school janitors be trained sanitarians? Do we need dental clinics for all school children? These are a few of the many phases of health supervision discussed pro and con in a bulletin on school hygiene just issued by the United States bureau of education.

The bulletin is a report of a recent international congress of school hygiene, and therefore practically amounts to a symposium of health matters by leading physicians and educators. Dr. MacMillan of Chicago describes some of the factors that prevent normal growth in school children; Dr. Knopf of New York offers brief practical suggestions on health; several well known school architects question the need of the present expensive ventilation apparatus used in American school houses; while one New York architect, deeply impressed with the force of the open-air propaganda, describes a special open air school building constructed on a much more elaborate scale than those now in use. Brief statements on this and other phases of school hygiene by 50 school men and physicians are included in the bureau bulletin.

The work of the dental clinics in Philadelphia, Hartford, Boston, Cincinnati, Cleveland and other cities; how children's eyes can be cared for during the period of school attendance; the psychological clinic and the spread of the movement for mental classification of children; the effects of athletics on health; these and many other features of the health supervision movement are discussed in the bulletin.

UGLINESS AND WISDOM "Homely" People Not Necessarily More Intelligent Than Others.

A correspondent, presumably himself not a habitual competitor in beauty contests, credits another who had noted the liking of "homely" people for fresh air with accuracy of observation, but charges him with fallacy of deduction. The unfavored of nature, declares the critic, have not, as stated, greater need than others for fresh air, but, being more sensible than the others, they better realize its benefits and seek it more persistently.

Passing over the lamentable, but probably irremediable, misuse of the word "homely" by both of these disputants, one turns with interest to the interesting question whether the unbeautiful are or are not more intelligent than the beautiful.

That there exists, and always has existed, a somewhat widespread, almost general, impression of belief of that sort is true, but perhaps it rests on nothing better than the fact that, the more or less ugly folk vastly outnumbering the really good looking, they have blown their own horns longer and louder than the minority, and half convinced the latter, as well as themselves, that they—the ugly ones—have a consoling superiority. Perhaps, again, stern necessity has compelled the ugly, to get along at all, to cultivate brain more assiduously than it has been necessary for the beautiful to do.

Theoretically, however, beauty is the result of and dependent on so much more than a mere superficial accident—is so much more than skin deep, as the silly proverb says—that doubt as to the correctness of the common supposition is fully justified. Beauty means health and lineage serves all the admiration it receives, and those who make derogatory remarks about beauty and its possessors would every one be glad to accept it, with all its risks, if they could.—New York Times.

The Quickest, Simplest Cough Remedy Easily and Cheaply Made at Home. Saves You $2.

This plan makes a pint of cough syrup—enough to last a family a long time. You couldn't buy as much or as good cough syrup for $2.50. Simple as it is, it gives almost instant relief and usually conquers an ordinary cough in 24 hours. This is partly due to the fact that it is slightly laxative, stimulates the appetite and has an excellent tonic effect. It is pleasant to take—children like it. An excellent remedy, too, for whooping cough, spasmodic croup and bronchitis.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. It keeps perfectly. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.
