House Wired ?
 No ? Then the electric iron that requires no stove and saves time and labor is not one of your conveniences?
 Then you tire yourself out pedaling the sewing machine when you might have electrically do it for you at the trifling cost of a half cent an hour?
 Then you can't have light in that dark closet or turn the switch and light a porch from the inside?
 Why not enjoy the convenience and economy of electricity?
 It's a simple matter to wire a house and our prices are very reasonable. Guess how much it will cost. Then to satisfy yourself, phone us for an estimate. No obligation whatever.

A JOINT MEETING IS BEING PLANNED
Arrangements For N. C. Forestry and Appalachian Park Ass'ns. to Meet Here.
 An attempt is being made to have a joint meeting here on April 8 and 9 of the North Carolina Forestry association and the Appalachian Park association. The former association has already announced its annual meeting in Asheville on these dates and it is hoped that a joint meeting can be arranged that will greatly add to the interest of the gathering.
 The Appalachian Park association has only been in existence since last summer, dating from the meeting of the Southern Appalachian Good Roads association, but since its purpose is to promote the purchase of larger areas for United States forest reserves in the Southern Appalachians for the establishment of a national park, to open the section to the people of the country for recreation, pleasure and health, interest in its ultimate success has grown apace.
 Since both the Forestry and Park associations have in view the ultimate conservation of the forests of the section, besides having other things in common, it is believed that a joint meeting here this spring would be beneficial to both in arousing a greater interest in the question of conservation.
 The Forestry association has the support of the leaders of the state in conservation, while the Park association has a wider scope, being of direct interest to the people of the entire eastern section of the United States. It is believed therefore that a joint meeting of the two associations would serve to bring together men of prominence from many states and thus materially advance the interests of each organization.
 There seems little doubt but that this joint gathering will be arranged and the railways will be asked to put on special rates for the event, since it is expected that such a gathering would attract many hundreds here for the two days' session.

"LION AND THE MOUSE" AT THE GALAX TODAY
"Conquered Hate" at the Princess—Both Advertised as Big Features.
 At the Galax theater today will be shown the Lubin production in five parts of "The Lion and The Mouse" by Charles Klein, author of "The Third Degree." By many critics this pictorial presentation has been pronounced superior to the stage version of this masterful drama. "The Third Degree," which was recently shown at the Galax, made an excellent impression and all who saw it are looking forward to "The Lion and The Mouse" with the certainty that another treat is in store for all lovers of the best in motion pictures.
 The Lubin company have invested this production with all accessories of a perfect picture and the cast of characters was chosen with care from among the leading stars of this company. George Soule Spencer, as the money king; Gaston Bell, as the lover; Bartley McCullum, as the judge; and Ethel Clayton, as the maid who is loved, are all said to score heavily in their roles and the remaining roles are in capable hands. It is expected that large audiences will witness this production.
 The headliner at the Princess today is a two-reel Pathéplay entitled, "Conquered Hate." It is stated the scenes are all hand colored and advance notices of this interesting novelty promise a strong story. It deals, it is said, with the romance of a Parisian artist and his beautiful model, who is a famous operatic star. The scenes of the Paris opera and of the Parisian art world alone make this a picture of unusual moment and the passionate love story is characteristic of the French. Gina, the model, and Rene, the artist, are portrayed respectively by Miss Robins and Mr. Alexander of the Comedie Francaise. An Essanay comedy, "A Foot of Romance," featuring in the leading roles, Wallace Beery and Beverly Bayne, will also be shown and it is said to be both clever and amusing. Another comedy, reported very funny, "Dishing Dick's Dishwasher" Pathé players, will add merriment to the program.

SEEING THE PANAMA CANAL
 Only a very few Americans ever will see with their own eyes the great canal at Panama. Nearly all of us have seen maps that show, in black and white outline, the course of the great waterway.
 Fortunately, there is a type a map which is not the dead, flat outline, but which comes as nearly as may be to giving one an idea of how the canal looks. This is a bird's eye view of the whole canal made under the direction of the National Geographic Society.
 This map, printed in four colors, forms the frontpiece of "The Panama Canal," by Frederic J. Haskin—the book that has the O. K. of Colonel Goethals.
 See the coupon on front page of this issue for information as to how to obtain this book at cost price.

"It Is Always the UNEXPECTED That Happens"
 Frederick Rutledge, General Agent for the Girard Fire and Marine Insurance Company of Philadelphia, and the City of New York Fire Insurance Company of New York, has just received notice of a big loss on the City Hall in Winston-Salem, N. C., which was occupied by the Fire Department, Market House and Armory. It has been thought by many City Officials that it would be impossible for a City Hall building of brick or stone construction to burn, owing to the fact that same is occupied by the fire department.
