

HEADACHY, COSTIVE, BILIOUS,—"CASCARETS"

Liver and Bowels Are Clogged—Clean Them Tonight! Feel Bulky!

Get a 10-cent box. Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache. Cascares immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels. A Cascares tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a pleasant laxative from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months.

G. H. GOEBEL SPOKE TO BIG CROWD LAST NIGHT

Predicted That Cause of Socialism Will Sweep Country in Ten Years.

A large number of people heard the lecture given last night at the county court house by George H. Goebel, a member of the executive committee of the socialist party and on the staff of lecturers of that party. Mr. Goebel spoke for about an hour and was given rapt attention by the audience. He showed a deep study of the subject and presented his arguments in a very forceful manner. The speaker reviewed the work of the socialist party in this country and predicted that in ten years the movement will sweep the country as a whole, as already great gains have been made in all sections of the country where the party has put out candidates.

This was Mr. Goebel's second appearance in Asheville, he having lectured here about five years ago. He has many friends here, made during his first visit and the members of the local union believe that the cause was materially strengthened by his appearance last night.

CONTRACT FOR SURVEY WITHHELD LAST NIGHT

West Asheville Aldermen Decided to Hold Matter Over For Two Weeks.

The board of aldermen of West Asheville did not award the contract last night for the making of the survey of the town, preparatory to letting the contract for the water and sewer systems. The matter was taken up and after being discussed, it was decided to let the awarding of the contract go over until the meeting two weeks hence. A contract was awarded to H. A. Wells to make several repairs on the city streets, the work to start at once. It was stated that the board next Tuesday night will take up the matter of appointing a building inspector and the issuance of building permits similar to the methods now used by the Asheville board.

FARMERS' UNION WILL MEET HERE SATURDAY

Officers to be Installed and the Question of Sowing Grass To Be Discussed.

Several matters of importance are scheduled to come up for discussion at the meeting of the Farmers' union to be held at the court house next Saturday at 12:30 o'clock, chief among which will be the installation of the officers who were elected at the meeting held several weeks ago. When E. D. Weaver was elected president and A. H. Daniels secretary. The sowing of grass will be one of the main features discussed at the meeting and this matter will be gone into at considerable length. It is stated that the raising of cattle in this section is growing each year and the matter of getting more and better grass is becoming a problem that will have to be worked out in the very near future. Other matters of importance to the union will be taken up and it is hoped that a full attendance of the farmers be present in order to benefit by the discussions.

Europe Has Largest Tunnels.
The United States has for so long been pre-eminent in the realm of size that it comes almost as a shock to realize that the largest railway tunnels are on the continent of Europe. Of these the longest is the Simplon, twelve and a quarter miles through the Alps. Two others, the St. Gotthard and the Lotschberg, are over nine and one-third miles long, and the Mont Cenis is over seven miles long. In all there are fourteen tunnels over four miles long. The longest tunnel in this country is the Hoosac, four and one-third miles long.—American Machinat.

Italy's Piuma Grass.
Piuma grass, used in Italy for the manufacture of brooms for sweeping highly polished floors, is a product of swampy regions, particularly in southeastern Lombardy, southern Venetia and northern Emilia, in which sections it is said to grow abundantly. Mantua, Lombardy, is the center of the trade in piuma grass. Pennants around Mantua gather it during the first three weeks in September, about two weeks before it begins to blossom.

Self Pity.
Self pity, morally, mentally and physically, tends to depress and weaken the victim, to render him ineffective and impractical. The person who is chronically sorry for himself becomes a nuisance. He thinks the world owes him something, and his one ambition in life is to collect the debt.—Woman's World.

TWO CONVICTS ESCAPE FROM HAYWOOD CAMP

Branner Mitchell and Tom Trammell at Large—Prisoner Taken Back to Swain.

Special to The Gazette-News.
Waynesville, March 4.—On Monday night two prisoners serving time on the Haywood county roads made their escape. They were: Branner Mitchell, who had served three months of a ten months' sentence for being drunk and disorderly and assaulting Police-man Whitener; and Tom Trammell, who had served 26 months of a three years' sentence for burglarizing the store of C. H. Ray here. Both men were trustees and made their escape shortly after supper Monday night, taking with them a couple of coats belonging to Will Medford, who is in charge of the camp. They took the precaution to cut the telephone wires between Delwood, where the camp is located, and Waynesville, so that their pursuit would be delayed. They have not yet been captured. Will Ledford, the young white man of Swain county who was arrested here Sunday on the charge of robbing the postoffice at Epps Springs in Swain county a few days ago, has been taken to Bryson City, where he will be given a hearing before a United States commissioner Friday. Evidence against young Ledford has been collected by Postoffice Inspector C. M. Setzer and is stated that a strong case has been made out against the prisoner.

MIGRATING BIRDS.

Shore Lines and River Valleys Help Them in Their Flight.
Experiences of aeroplane pilots with air currents have given to a noted English naturalist an explanation for the fact that some birds in making their annual migrations fly along coast lines and along river valleys. Judging from aeroplane experience birds would find it required less effort to fly along such routes. In the daytime water cools the air on most days, and over the water there is a downward current of air, as indicated by the noticeable sinking of aeroplanes and balloons crossing over a pond. At the same time there is more or less of an upward current of air along the shore line. Upward currents of air greatly help flight, and many kinds of birds are known to take full advantage of them. So the naturalist sees an opportunity for birds to take advantage of upward currents of air in migrating by day if they follow the coast of a sea or the bank of a river. The effect would be most marked on the windward side of the water, so that if the birds do not fly along that side near the water they ought to. Whether at night there is an appreciable upward current of air over water is not so clearly established, but he believes it is likely and so would be of advantage to birds if they wished to use it. A further explanation of such routes is that the birds might learn them in their migrations, for shore lines are the easiest of all markings on the earth for an aviator to see and follow, while on a still night the waves on the shore can be heard high in the air, marking the shore line.—Saturday Evening Post.

THE INQUIRING MIND.
If All Questions Were Answered, Life Would Lose Its Savor.
To find that the earth itself is but a queer little appanage of a rather second rate star; to know by actual vision that we are all plunging through space, perchance during the period of known history, having accomplished a small arc of some immense orbit whose magnificent center burns beyond the farthest nebulae; to feel that stars have flamed and died whose light has never reached us—is not all this knowledge a fierce indictment to our desire? Whither are we bound, and why? What fate awaits us at the end of our awful journey? Are we perched among this mighty universe for a purpose, to watch, to wonder, to worship? Is the whole scheme built round us, so that though we are not its physical center, we may be its spiritual center, and for us all its tremendous operations are carried on, for us its profoundest mysteries shall some day be disclosed? Or are we the subject of a trifling experiment by great unknown gods, who, curious in their turn, spy at us for their diversion, and will in a moment destroy it all, as a child wipes out a drawing on his slate? We say unthinkingly that we wish we knew the answers to these questions. But, if we did, the keen savor of life would vanish; earnestly killed, we should become utter fatalists, and that would be the end of us. For the thought that by increased knowledge comes access of power, and that we can, even to ever so slight an extent, shape the future to our will and thus bear our part in the destiny of humanity, is the inspiration of all thinkers, the burden of all philosophers, and the belief of all the great dreamers who have moved the world.—London Academy.
