Springtime Hints

Springtime is here and the furnace will soon stop, but you will need something to take the chill from the bathroom, so the Electric Heater is the thing that will do the work at a very small expense.

Yes, and the hot days are coming when you will not want to heat the range to prepare a small meal, so the El Stovo is the thing. But is your house wired sufficient to allow you to use these electrical appliances? If not, let us give you estimate on the wiring.

SECOND EXPEDITION TO EXPLORE PERU

Under Auspices of the National Geographic Society and Yale University.

Washington, April 24.—Announcement of a second expedition to further explore Peru, the ancient home of the Incas, under the auspices of the National Geographic Society and Yale University, to start next week, was made at the offices of the National Geographic Society here recently. The director of the expedition will be Prof. Hiram Bingham, of Yale University, who, at the head of the 1912 expedition, uncovered the ancient fortress city of Machu Pichu, the most remarkable group of buildings discovered in South America since the conquest of Peru nearly 400 years ago. Two years will be given to the work of the new expedition.

The object of this expedition, according to Gilbert H. Grosvenor, director and editor of the society, is to make a geographical reconnaissance of a portion of southern Peru, including the Cordillera Vilcabamba, and some portions of the Apurimac and Urubamba watersheds. This region is a part of the eastern edge of the great Andean plateau. The Cordillera Vilcabamba is a chain of dissected mountains rising 16,000 to 20,000 feet above sea level, situated between South latitudes 12 and 14. Their bases are clothed with tropical jungles, while their summits are mantled with snow and glaciers. In the main they are unexpected. As one of the most inaccessible parts of the Andes, they have been occupied from time to time by the ancient peoples of Peru. In this region are the ruins of Machu Pichu, Palcay and Choquequirau. The reported presence of other ruins and the actual existence of some that have been seen but not studied or mapped make the region a particularly attractive area in which to study the problem of man's origin and distribution in South America.

The character of the land formations in the neighborhood of the ruins should enable something to be said in regard to the number of people formerly occupying the region, the causes of the location of the cities, buildings and forts, and the reasons for their final abandonment, according to Prof. Bingham. "An examination of the ruins, studies of the styles of architecture, and of the artifacts and other remains that may be found fairly near the surface of the ground, should eventually enable a classification to be made, which, in connection with biological, physiographic, linguistic and historical studies, ought to result finally in unravelling the puzzle of the ancient civilization of South America," he says. "From the standpoint of biology, this area is believed to contain a large number of species new to science. From the standpoint of anthropology, it is one of the least known and most fruitful areas in the Andes."

The plan of work will include the making of a topographical map of the region northwest of Cuzco between the Apurimac and Urubamba rivers; a detailed geographical reconnaissance of the more lofty portions of the mountains, including a study of the large undescended glaciated region; the establishment of two meteorological stations at different elevations for the taking of systematic records for two years; a study of the distribution and history of food plants of this region;

SULPHUR DRIES UP ECZEMA AND STOPS ITCHING

This Old Time Skin Healer is Used Just Like Any Cold Cream.

With the first application of bold-sulphur cream the angry itching attending any eczema eruption ceases and its remarkable healing powers begin. Sulphur, says a renowned dermatologist, just common bold-sulphur, made into thick cream will soothe and heal the skin when irritated and broken out with Eczema or any form of eruption. The moment it is applied all itching ceases and after two or three applications the Eczema disappears, leaving the skin clear and smooth.

He tells Eczema sufferers to get from any good pharmacy an ounce of bold-sulphur cream and apply it to the irritated, inflamed skin, the same as you would any cold cream. For many years this soothing, healing sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous affections by reason of its parasite-destroying property. It is not only parasitocidal, but also antipruritic, antiseptic and remarkably healing in all irritable and inflammatory conditions of the skin. While not always establishing a permanent cure it never fails to instantly subdue the irritation and heal the Eczema right up and it is often years later before any eruption again appears on the skin.

the collection of data respecting the forms of distribution of vertebrates, particularly mammals and reptiles; a survey of the present Indians inhabiting this region, including a study of their dialects, the collection of anthropometric data and the collection and study of the skeletal remains; and archeological reconnaissance of the entire area, and a continuation of the studies begun by the first expedition, looking towards a geographical interpretation of the Spanish chronicles of the era of discovery and exploration, with particular reference to the identification of ancient place names, the story of Machu Pichu and its connection with the history of the Incas.

Director Bingham is regarded as the foremost South American explorer today. He has made four expeditions to the continent, his first, in 1906, being for the purpose of exploring Bolivia's route across Venezuela and Colombia. Two years later he explored the Spanish trade route from Buenos Ayres to Lima. He represented the United States at the First Pan-American Scientific Congress in Santiago de Chile, in 1908. The other members of the new expedition are Chief Engineer Ellwood C. Erdis; Geologist Herbert E. Gregory; Silliman, professor of Geology in Yale University; Osteologist George F. Eaton, Curator of Osteology in the Peabody Museum of Yale University; Albert H. Bumstead, topographical engineer; Osmond Hardy, chief assistant; C. F. Westenberg, assistant topographer; H. S. Arnold, M. D., medical adviser; Philip A. Means, assistant in archeology; L. M. Kirkpatrick, secretary, and a surgeon not yet named. Some of the members of expedition, particularly the topographers, will leave next week, in order to reach the field as soon as the dry season commences. They hope to complete the topographical work and have the maps ready for the use of the scientific members of the party by December.
