REVIEW OF FIGHT ON TUBERCULOSIS

Tenth Annual Meeting of the National Association For Preventing Tuberculosis.

Washington, May 7.—The work of the National Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, which was begun just ten years ago was reviewed at the opening session of the tenth annual meeting of the association here today.

Dr. Charles J. Hatfield of Philadelphia, one of the directors, reported that after ten years work there are over 2500 anti-tuberculosis agencies now well established as compared with less than 150 such agencies in 1905.

The agencies today include 550 tuberculosis sanatoria and hospitals, 410 dispensaries, nearly 1200 anti-tuberculosis associations, and 250 open air school and fresh air classes. Besides, a considerable number of boards of health and other agencies are taking an active part in this campaign.

"While the National Association cannot lay claim to the organization of each and every individual piece of anti-tuberculosis work developed during these years," says the report, "it is probably no exaggeration to say that at least a great part of this movement has been stimulated directly by our association. It is, therefore, significant to you, who are members of the association to note that while the entire budget of the National office for this period has been only $200,000, federal, state, and local anti-tuberculosis agencies, both public and private, have expended during this same period practically $100,000,000."

Dr. Hatfield also reported upon the Red Cross Christmas Seal sale for last year and estimated that when all the returns are in, the aggregate sale will reach more than 43,000,000 seals, a gain of 10 per cent over 1913. Plans for the sale next fall have already been perfected and the printing of the seals will soon be begun. Some of the most significant developments of new work during the past year have been in the states of South Carolina, Oklahoma, and South Dakota. In all of these states the new activities have been stimulated by the sale of Red Cross Seals.

STORY OF RADIUM IS TOLD BY DR. PARSONS

Chief Chemist of U. S. Bureau Talks to University Students.

Special to The Gazette-News.

Chapel Hill, May 7.—A story of radium, embracing the discovery, history and cancer curing power of this valuable mineral ore, was related to the students and faculty of the state university by Dr. Charles L. Parsons, chief chemist of the United States bureau of mines, Saturday night. The lecture was given in chemistry hall and the speaker came here on the invitation of the Ellaha Mitchell Scientific Society. The lecturer was introduced by Prof. P. H. Duggett, president of the scientific society.

After tracing briefly the discovery of the valuable mineral ore, which of late has been proclaimed a wonderful cure for cancer, Dr. Parsons recounted that the mineral was found in Austria, Russia, Portugal, Australia and in the United States in the states of Colorado and Utah. The scarcity of the ore was noted, the chief sources of supply being in the United States. The chief interest attached to the ore at the present time is its cure for the disease of cancer, which power the chief medical authorities of the country pin their faith to. Some of the astonishing cures effected by radium in cases of cancer pronounced incurable were pictured by Dr. Parsons by means of lantern slides. The expense of the ore was made apparent when the lecturer recited the fact that a single milligram of pure radium was valued at $120. The recognition of its cancer curing power, however, has furnished an incentive for medical authorities to produce the mineral at one-fourth of the present cost.

WHEN NOTHING TASTES GOOD TO YOU

You eat simply because you must. You are troubled with dyspepsia. It makes your life miserable. You have a bad taste in your mouth, a tenderness at the pit of your stomach, a feeling of puffy fullness, headache, heartburn, and sometimes nausea.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. It acts on the stomach through the blood and also directly. Its beneficial effects are felt at once. It makes the rich red blood that is needed for perfect digestion.

FLAGG STAFF RECALLS INTERESTING HISTORY

Dug up at Mt. Airy Where It Had Lain Buried in the Ground Since 1860.

Special to The Gazette-News.

Mount Airy, May 7.—Yesterday, while a force of hands were grading South Main street, the remnant of a chestnut flag staff in a fairly good state of preservation was unearthed and the incident recalls some important history in this section. This remnant represents what is left of a flag pole erected in the spring of 1860, when it floated a union flag. At that time the question of secession was at fever heat, but this section was not responsive to the sentiment, for it is claimed that not more than half a dozen citizens of the county favored secession at that time. The flag raising was the occasion of a union demonstration at which the late Dr. Daniel Haymore was the orator. A year later when North Carolina had seceded, this flag staff floated a Confederate flag when the call for volunteers was issued.

ACCUSATIONS AGAINST BRITISH EXPORTERS

Dunedin, N. Z., May 7.—New Zealand has begun a vigorous campaign against the practice of certain British exporters of sending foreign goods to this country under English labels. The charge is made that British merchants buy large quantities of cheap foreign goods and ship them to New Zealand and other colonies as British manufactures.

Minister of customs Fisher in a recent speech said that he had positive proof that foreign goods were imported into England and repacked and shipped as British merchandise to evade the extra duty that New Zealand places on all foreign manufactures. New Zealand wished to purchase British goods, according to the minister, rather than foreign merchandise, and he pledged himself to do everything in his power to prevent the unscrupulous British merchant from cheating the colonial public.

It is said that this form of contraband trade is especially rife among exporters of textile goods. Many of the shipments which arrived ostensibly from Lancashire never saw the inside of the mills there, but have been so skilfully re-packed and re-packed that the fraud might never be detected unless they should fall into the hands of experts, who know the English weave.

DURVEA LIKELY TO BE SENT TO ASYLUM

New York, May 7.—Attorneys for Chester B. Durvea, who shot and killed his father, General Hiram Durvea, retired millionaire starch manufacturer, early Tuesday, appeared in police court today and waived examination so that the case could go immediately to the grand jury. It is understood that after the jury acts the lawyers will ask that Durvea be committed to the Matteawan asylum.

MURDEROUS BANDITS PURSUED BY POSSES

San Francisco, May 7.—Three masked bandits who murdered and robbed Hamilton Harris, a Wells Fargo express agent at Middletown last night, fled through the mountains today pursued by constantly increasing posses. Harris was shot dead without warning. His brother was gagged and tied.

The robbers rifled the dead man's pockets and got about $50. Then they rode away without attempting to rob the safe or cash drawer.

CAUSE AND EFFECT. Good Digestion Follows Right Food.

Indigestion and the attendant discomforts of mind and body are certain to follow continued use of improper food.

Those who are still young and robust are likely to overlook the fact that, as dropping water will wear a stone away at last, so will the use of heavy, greasy, rich food, finally cause loss of appetite and indigestion.

Fortunately many are thoughtful enough to study themselves and note the principle cause and effect in their daily food. A N. Y. young woman writes her experience thus:

"Sometimes ago I had a lot of trouble from indigestion, caused by too rich food. I got so I was unable to digest scarcely anything, and medicines seemed useless.

"A friend advised me to try Grape-Nuts food, praising it highly and as a last resort, I tried it. I am thankful to say that Grape-Nuts not only relieved me of my trouble, but built me up and strengthened my digestive organs so that I can now eat anything I desire. But I stick to Grape-Nuts."
