THE COOKING SCHOOL.

To a crowded auditorium and with standing space rapidly filling up, Mrs. Florence Austin Chase gave the semi-final lecture and cooking demonstration yesterday afternoon in the school being conducted under the auspices of The Gazette-News.

The enthusiasm of the many ladies of the city who have been attending this valuable series of lessons was well demonstrated yesterday afternoon by the large and amusing attendance of numbers of small but well behaved little children, without whom, possibly, the methods could not come and who were very evidently on their best behavior in order that this privilege might be enjoyed by these ambitious ladies who have in mind improved methods for their household.

The most popular of these possibly was the very attractive and delicious strawberry short cake made by Mrs. Chase and presenting an unusually pleasing appearance by the practical illustration of an interesting point made by the speaker in the demonstration which was the saving of the most perfect of the berries for decorative purposes on the top of the cake.

In the preparation of the strawberry short cake Mrs. Chase paused sufficiently to give an excellent recipe for baked corn starch pudding which was carefully taken down by those present. In this dessert, milk, cornstarch, eggs, sugar, lemon juice, and salt all combine to make a quickly cooked dish which can be prepared in the brief space of 2 minutes from the time it is placed in the oven.

Among other things particularly noted during the afternoon was the large and gratifying number of young girls present, who, bringing pads and pencils, took down with evident interest the many fine recipes given. Mrs. Chase has previously spoken with much earnestness on the importance of the young girls being well informed along matters of domestic science and household economy and the evidence of the afternoon pointed to a true appreciation of this fact being felt in Asheville.

feated Mrs. Waddell and D. R. Millard; Mrs. Tench Cox and Mr. Howland lost to Mrs. McDonald and Allen Morrison. The handicaps in this tournament are as follows: Mr. Howland and Mrs. Cox, minus 15; Mrs. Robertson and Mr. Guernsey, scratch; Mr. Rowly and Miss Therese Chapman, scratch; D. R. Millard and Mrs. Waddell, scratch; Miss Marjorie Pearson and F. W. Thomas, scratch; Mr. Chapman and Mrs. Vanderhoof, plus 30; Mrs. McDonald and Allen Morrison, plus fifteen; Mrs. Helen Chapman and James Cromwell, plus fifteen. The club has offered two beautiful cups in this tournament, one to go to the woman winner and one to the man winner.

Attractions Around Grove Park Inn The unusual combination of social life, the most up to date kind with "the dances," tea parties, and dancing every evening to the music of a fine orchestra, and the opportunity to walk half a dozen yards into the heart of the wonderful forest of dense green trees, wild flowers and blossoming shrubs of all kinds, is a novelty which the guests at Grove Park Inn are now enjoying. The golf links are surrounded by flowering dogwood trees and a serenade of "bob-whites," blue jays, and other birds proves distracting to the most careful "putter" at times.

Invitations Issued. The following invitations are being extended to friends: Dr. and Mrs. George Rutledge Stuart request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Margaret, to Mr. James Brainerd Preston, on the evening of Tuesday, the twenty-sixth of May at eight o'clock, at Church Street Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Knoxville, Tennessee.

Organdy Among the New Cotton Materials For Summer Dresses. For six or eight months past the Paris dressmakers have been using organdy for the new Normandy collars and chemisettes. It has also been used this spring for blouses, but its real influence will be felt this summer among the fine lingerie dresses. For dresses it will be used in white and in colors, but it is quaintest and most effective in white trimmed with ruffles or plaiting of black or dark blue taffeta. The fact that organdy does not wash will not affect its popularity, for most fine cotton dresses can be worn for almost a whole season if they are properly cared for and cleaned at the end of the summer.

After organdy, the embroidery and lace founcings follow next in importance, and after them the fine cotton crepes, and so forth. The Delineator. Birthday Party. Mrs. Marcus Erwin entertained recently with a lovely birthday party for her small daughter, Little Miss Virginia Erwin, at her home on Furman avenue. The house was profusely decorated with spring flowers, a color scheme of pink being attractively carried out with quantities of crab apple blossoms. In the dining room the table was spread in a lace cloth and showered with crabapple blossoms and buds.

Special Music at All Souls' Church. The usual musical service will be given at All Souls' church, Biltmore, tomorrow afternoon, under the direction of F. Flaxington Harker. At the evening service at 5 p. m., the choir will sing "Lovely Appear over the Mountains," Gounod. "Rejoice in the Lord," Elvey.

At the twilight organ recital Mr. Harker will play: 1-Concert Overture in C major... 2-Le Cygne... 3-Capriccio... 4-Swedish March... Mr. and Mrs. R. Montgofery Haines of Philadelphia and their son, R. Montgomery Haines, Jr., have arrived and are the guests of Mrs. Haines' parents, Mr. and Mrs. William W. West, at their home, "Campobello," on Chestnut street.

Golf Results and Finals. The finals in the tennis tournament in progress at the Country club will be played on the club courts this afternoon. Miss Marjorie Pearson, Miss Therese Chapman and Mr. Howland have been the committee in charge of this tournament, which has been one of the most successful sporting events of recent occurrence at the club. The finals will be played at 4 o'clock and will be between Miss Therese Chapman, playing with Mr. Rowly, and Mrs. Allan McDonald, playing with Mr. Morrison.

NO NECESSITY TO BE MISERABLE Says One Woman Who Knows Good Advice on How To Regain Health And Strength.

Newtonia, Mo.—In advices from this town, Mrs. Susie Williams has the following to say for publication: "Ladies, there's absolutely no necessity to be so miserable from suffering, as so many women are, when Cardui, the Woman's Tonic, will help you so much. I wouldn't think of being without Cardui in my home. When I was married, I suffered great pains ever month. My husband got me a bottle of Cardui, and it helped me so. I kept on taking it. In a short time I was well and strong. Before I began taking Cardui, my weight was only 95 pounds, and in less than a year I weighed 115. I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world for women, and I hope all suffering ladies will take my advice and try Cardui."

Prominent arrivals at Grove Park Inn include: Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Stewart, Jr., Easton, Pa.; A. K. Sala, California; Mrs. H. C. Davis and Miss Helen Davis, Amherst, Mass.; Charles E. McWilliams, Short Hills, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. L. Phelps, Atlanta; Frederick Steff, Jr., Baltimore; John D. Fisley, St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Elsemere, Greensboro; A. H. Tyson and A. M. Reynolds, Glen Ridge, N. Y.; Gerald MacIntyre, New York; Edgar Pratt, Redlands, Cal.; Mrs. O. T. Higgins, Miss Katherine Higgins and Mrs. John S. Bramford, Nashville; and others.

One of the most important social events of this afternoon is the week end meet at the Country club. Miss Emily Campbell is presiding at the table and the dancing and other social features of the occasion are being much enjoyed.

Mrs. William Rufin Cox has joined Gen. Cox at his plantation in Edgecomb county in this state from Richmond. (Additional Social on page 11)

NEWS OF THE WEEK AT GROVE PARK INN Southern Guests Arriving and More Are Expected With Opening of The Summer Season.

Although the summer season at Grove Park Inn is slated from June 1, the inn is still comfortably filled with visitors from the east, and from Chicago, Detroit and the New England cities. A few southern guests appear on the register, however, and many people from Atlanta, New Orleans, Birmingham, Jacksonville and other Southern cities are expected by June 1. Among the arrivals of the week are quite a number of Chicago people, the guests from that city being more numerous now than those from New York, for the first time since the winter season began. Among the Chicagoans now here are: Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Randle, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Vail, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Harney, H. H. Bryant, Mrs. J. E. Counselman and Miss Counselman, Harry Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. H. Crutchfield, Mrs. W. J. Schlooks, and Little Miss Virginia Schlooks.

Among the Southern guests at the inn, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eustic of New Orleans, are prominent. They have been here several weeks and are very popular. Of the many brides and grooms here, which makes the inn a place of honeymoons, at present, Mrs. George H. Puckie of Boston, is voted the most charming. Mrs. Puckie was Miss Romaine Ledensack of Boston, and the young couple were married at a brilliant ceremony, a week or so ago, coming directly to Asheville after the wedding.

The visitors of various Shrine temples to the inn, on their way to and from Atlanta has added to the interest of life at the inn this week and the latter part of last week. Over three hundred Shriners visited the inn Saturday and Sunday last, and on their way back this week, on Friday and Saturday, several hundred more stopped at the inn for a short tour of inspection of "the finest resort hotel in the world." Among these visitors was Mr. Alexander M. Ross, an architect of note, who has charge of the famous Potter Palmer estates. He was greatly pleased with the unique architecture of the inn. Among the temples represented in the Shriner visitors here were: Syria Temple of Elizabeth, Pa.; Arad temple of East St. Louis; Sphinx temple of Hartford, Conn.; Oeiris temple of Wheeling, W. Va.; Ziyara temple of Utica, N. Y.; Ismailia temple of Buffalo, N. Y.; and Medina temple of Chicago. The famous Oriental band of the Buffalo Shriners who surrounded the president on the White House grounds, en route south, marched into the "big room" of the inn in a body, and gave an im-inn who are taking part in the dancing and social gaieties of the season are Misses Miriam Young and Anna Williams of Boston, who are here with Mrs. Alexander Williams of Boston. Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McClain, of Greenfield, Ohio, were other guests of the week who had with them while here, their son, Donald McClain, of the Asheville school. Cleveland guests who have recently arrived at the inn include Mr. and Mrs. Feiss, who have joined Mr. S. D. Weil and Mr. L. Stearns, forming a congenial group of friends. They are friends of Mr. and Mrs. N. I. Dryfoos and Miss Dryfoos who were popular guests at the inn for two months this winter. Other Cleveland arrivals of the week are: Dr. E. B. Rhodes, Mr. S. S. Soffield, Mr. F. J. Siffth and Mr. F. B. Stevens. Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Foley and their four children arrived Sunday from Florida, en route to the east. Mr. Foley owns a hotel in Florida and at eastern resorts.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Foley and their four children arrived Sunday from Florida, en route to the east. Mr. Foley owns a hotel in Florida and at eastern resorts. Mrs. W. P. Hall of Cincinnati, who was a guest at the inn early in the winter, returned this week for another visit. She was joined at the inn by her son, W. P. Hall Jr., who is a student at the Asheville School for Boys. Miss Lillian Turner, of St. Louis, accompanied Mrs. Hall on her visit here.

Among the informal affairs of the week at the inn were a luncheon given by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Parsons of Boston for Miss Jane Sutherland of New York. Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Adrian, of St. Louis, are arrivals of prominence at the inn, this week. Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Mayer, of Passaic, N. J., are popular guests here. A group of guests arriving Thursday from Asbury park were: Mrs. W. S. Kimmouth, Mrs. C. M. Alexander, and Miss English. Other arrivals of the same day were: Miss Morse and Mr. H. J. Morse of Brooklyn, and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Barkey, of Erie, Pa.

prompt program of music, including Dixie and other melodies dear to the south. Social affairs of the week have included the two regular dances at the inn, and several other dinner-parties usually followed by dancing. One of the largest of these was an event of Wednesday evening, when a dinner of twelve covers was followed by dancing, a number of extra guests joining the dinner-party for the dancing. Among the guests was: Mr. Eaton Cromwell, of Philadelphia, Miss Anna Williams and Miss Miriam Young, of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eustic, and Mr. and Mrs. Schlesinger of New Orleans, Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Dorsett of St. Louis, the Misses Helen and Therese Chapman and Mr. Chapman of Asheville, and C. R. Palmer of New York.

At the week-end dinner-dance this week, a touch of the unusual and picturesque was given by the presence of many of the Shriners, in their red caps and other insignia of the order. Among the inn guests who were in attendance on the dinner-dance were: Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Seigel, of New York, Mr. and Mrs. A. Finlayson, of Rye Beach, N. H., Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Rudwick, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Puckie, Mrs. Alexander Williams, Miss Anna Williams, and Miss Miriam Young of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Abbott of Washington, Dr. and Mrs. G. D. Dorsett of St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eustic of New Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Grover of Lynn, Mass., C. R. Palmer, Mr. Howland and Mr. Voelkel of New York.

Mr. C. F. Schutt, of Washington, who owns the Elbert house, and other hotels of that city, is a guest at the inn, accompanied by Mrs. Schutt. Among the younger guests at the
