SORRELLS NOT ALLOWED BAIL

Magistrate Lyda Commits Him To Jail on Criminal Assault Charge on Woman's Testimony.

SOME INTERESTING EVIDENCE PRODUCED

Walter Hill Discharged on Abetting Charge—Fred J. Wadford Held to Court On Similar Charge.

At the continued hearings in the cases against Charlie Sorrells, charged with criminally assaulting Mrs. Ernestine Hooper; and Walter Hill and Fred J. Wadford, charged with aiding and abetting in the assault, held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock before Magistrate E. L. Lyda in the county court house, Sorrells was held to the next term of Superior court without bail, Wadford was held under a $500 bond for the same term and Hill was ordered discharged. Miss L. Barnes, who was a witness in the hearings and her testimony was perhaps the most interesting of any that was introduced in view of the serious nature of the charge. She testified that after Mrs. Hooper alleged she was assaulted and while Hill and Sorrells had gone to a farm house to see about getting rooms, Mrs. Hooper made the statement to her, "we can get $500 out of him (Sorrells) if we take the case to court."

Upon this statement, P. C. Cooke, counsel for Sorrells, asked that his client be released as the testimony of one of the parties to the affair showed the whole matter to be a "frame-up." The court refused this and held Sorrells to court without bail. According to the statement of Mrs. Hooper, who claims that she is a married woman although separated from her husband, she came to this city more than a year ago from her home in Augusta. She has worked here, at one time being connected with one of the picture houses as a ticket seller, it is stated. She says that she and her friend, Miss Barnes, first saw Sorrells and Hill at Riverside park Sunday afternoon and that when a note was sent her asking for a "date" that night to go "joy-riding" she replied she would meet the men at 7:30 o'clock at the corner of French Broad avenue and Haywood streets, as she did not want them to come to her boarding house on North Broad avenue. The date was kept, she says, and the party, including herself, Sorrells, Miss Barnes and Hill, with the chauffeur, got into the automobile and rode over several streets in the town. On Merrimon avenue Mrs. Hooper admitted that she heard Sorrells say that he was a married man, but as he did not say it to her she did not pay any attention to it. On the way to the country, she testified, the men were drinking and although she objected they continued. Finally reaching Black Mountain, the party had supper at a cafe.

On the way back to Asheville, when they were near Azalea, she said the chauffeur claimed his machine broke and all of them got out. She admitted here that she went off down the river bank with Sorrells and sat on the grass with him, but says that she would not stand for his attentions. Later they returned to the machine and she asked to be returned to the city. Upon this a passing automobile stopped to see if they could give any aid and witness swore that she climbed into the machine and asked to be taken to Asheville. She swore that at this point Sorrells produced his pistol and told them that they could not take her. Witness testified that she "beat him to it" when he reached for his pistol again and, getting it, threw it into a field, where she says Wadford found it with the aid of a lamp from the machine and put it in the car. She says that Hill and the Barnes woman were off down the road. Later witness testified, she climbed into the rear seat of the automobile which brought them out and it was here that Sorrells assaulted her. She says that she screamed and that the chauffeur was not more than 30 feet away but did not know whether or not he heard the screams, nor how loud she screamed.

The second witness was the Barnes woman. The first part of her testimony was about the "date" and going out on the trip. She says that she did not see the assault nor hear any screams although she saw the Hooper woman crying. On her direct examination she admitted, when questioned by Mr. Cooke, that when Sorrells went to a farm house to see about rooms that the Hooper woman said, "we can get $500 out of Sorrells if we take this case to court." The other parts of her testimony were of a minor nature.

The chauffeur, Wadford, testified at length and for the most part his testimony was of an unprintable nature. He testified that when the alleged assault took place he was more than 30 feet from the machine looking for the pistol the Hooper woman had thrown in the field. He said he heard the woman but did not know whether she was crying or laughing. He admitted that she offered him $100 to bring her back to the city. Hill testified that he knew absolutely nothing of the assault, as he and the Barnes woman were off down the road when the alleged assault is said to have taken place. He said that he heard the Hooper woman but could not tell whether she was laughing or crying. No evidence was introduced to connect Hill with the affair and he was ordered discharged.

Deputy Sheriff E. M. Mitchell testified that upon receiving the complaint from the parties in the machine that passed the place where the "joy-riders" were, he and Jailer Jordan went out and found all members of the party in a barn loft; that Sorrells had off his shoes and coat and the other members of the party were lying on the fodder in the barn. Solicitor R. R. Reynolds conducted the case for the prosecution and S. G. Bernard represented private prosecution, while P. C. Cooke looked after the interests of Sorrells. Hill was represented by Wells, Swain and Campbell.

FREE VACCINATION AGAINST TYPHOID

Will Be Given During July by Guilford County To Its Citizens.

Special to The Gazette-News. Greensboro, June 30.—The board of health of Guilford county in its campaign against typhoid fever offers free treatment against the disease during the month of July. Dr. W. M. Jones, county superintendent of health states that where there is a case of fever in a family it particularly desired that the other members of the family be given treatment and that where there are as many as three cases in a community, that he will be glad to go out and give treatment in that community. People are beginning to realize the fact," said Dr. Jones, "that the greater sanitary achievements of the world have not been the eradication of yellow fever from Panama and Cuba, nor the discoveries of Pasteur, but the eradication of typhoid fever from the U. S. army. Here we see the last straw drawn from the fast expiring anti-vaccinationists, for no amount of theoretical proof or disproof can affect the value of typhoid vaccination.

"Before vaccination the army death rate in the best conditions was 19 for 100,000 men. Anti-typhoid vaccination is as successful as vaccination against smallpox. The death rate from typhoid was 16.5 in the registered area of the U. S. in 1913. There is no reason why every one should not be vaccinated. With typhoid fever being spread from man to man, no amount of sanitary milk and water will stop it.

"Anti-typhoid vaccination does not in any way act to the detriment of those taking it. Where one member of a family has typhoid it is necessary to have the other members made immune by vaccination, just as when one member has smallpox. Typhoid fever causes 165 graves to one from smallpox. In one half million vaccinations, less than .01 per cent. had severe reactions, and the majority of these were due to faulty technique. "The main cause of death in this county are the results of bowel troubles in babies and typhoid fever. Typhoid fever has been reduced 87 per cent in the last two years in this county, an dyet there are entirely too many cases now. The county stands ready and offers immunity to typhoid fever free in the giving of the anti-typhoid treatment, only three doses being necessary."
