DAY OF HUNTERS DRAWING NEAR

Open Season Is Not Very Far Away and Local Sportsmen Happy.

Hark ye hunters and sportsmen, for the open season for game is almost here and from reports received from Buncombe county and Haywood and Henderson counties game is plentiful everywhere.

It is time now to clean up the old guns and to get out the hunting togs that were stored away last fall.

It is time to recall hunting expeditions that took place last year and plan other trips that will be made in the next few days. According to reports game of all kinds is plentiful throughout western North Carolina and the approaching season promises to be one of the best for years.

The first open season will be on October 1 when the squirrel season begins and continues until March 1. Then on November 1 the deer season opens and continues until January 1; although deer raised on private preserves can be killed at any time. The season for killing woodcock opens on November 1 and lasts until January 1 and the wild fowl season opens on the same date and lasts until February 1. Pheasants or ruffed grouse can be killed between November 14 and February 1 and the open season for killing quail or partridges and doves opens on November 15 and continues until February 1. The wild turkey can be killed in Buncombe county at any time, as this bird is not protected.

In Haywood county the open season on deer, squirrel, quail, pheasant, wild turkey and other game opens on November 15 and closes on January 15.

In Henderson county the deer season opens on November 1 and closes on December 15. The pheasant season opens on November 1 and ends on April 1 and the open season for quail begins on November 15 and continues until January 15. Wild turkey can be killed between November 15 and April 1.

The state law in regard to game prohibits hunting on Sunday or the shooting of wild fowl at night. The exportation of any game bird is prohibited in North Carolina, but non-residents can take out of the state on their hunting license fifty squirrel, twelve pheasants and two turkeys during the season.

The Buncombe county license for non-residents is $10.25 and this license is good in Haywood county but not in Henderson county. Written permission to hunt on the property of another is required in Buncombe, Haywood and Henderson counties.

COLONEL VON REUTER IS REPORTED KILLED

Rotterdam, Sept. 16.—(Via London)—A special to the Rotterdamse Courant announces that Colonel von Reuter, widely known through the part he played in the Zaberan affair, was recently killed in action. The Russian general, Kaubars according to the Sofia newspaper, Oudro, has been executed at Odessa, on a charge of espionage.

According to a letter from Brussels, published in the Courant today, German officers going to market in that city to buy cattle last Friday found that the American minister there had cornered the entire stock. Later arrangements were made by which the Germans could buy one carcass out of four.

May Leave Germany.

London, Sept. 16.—A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph dated Monday says 500 British subjects, composed of women, boys under 16 and men over 50 years of age, will be allowed to leave Germany next week, the Dutch and American consuls at Hamburg having arranged for a special train for them.

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS, USE SALTS

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Drink Lots of Water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will set fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus enduring bladder weaknesses.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

INTERESTING STORIES OF GERMAN AVIATORS

Two Forced to Land Were Attacked by Citizens With Shotguns.

Berlin, Sept. 16.—(Via London)—Interesting stories of the experiences of German aviators have been received here. Two who were forced to land with their machines near a hostile French village because of motor trouble were attacked by hostile residents armed with shotguns. One of the Germans succeeded in seizing the village magistrate as a hostage and who kept his pistol at the mayor's head while his companion repaired the machine. He then forced the mayor mount the machine which luckily would carry three passengers, and sped away.

Another machine was wrecked by a fall in the midst of the enemy's. The occupants were dazed by the fall and were immediately attacked by a group of French peasants, armed with pitchforks and scythes. The Germans held these men at bay with their revolvers until they reached the dense woods in which they hid. Peasants and soldiers hunted them systematically for days. They spent anxious hours crouching in holes like rabbits while their pursuers fired shotguns and rifles into any suspected thicket. They lived on beets and the only water they had was dew which they sucked from leaves. Their minds almost gave way under the strain and they were burning with fever when a German patrol found them.

JOACHIM'S WOUND HEALING RAPIDLY

Berlin, Sept. 16.—(Via London, Sept. 15).—The wound of Prince Joachim, youngest son of Emperor William, is healing rapidly despite the tearing effect of a shrapnel ball through the thigh. The empress and the surgeons are having considerable trouble in keeping the patient quiet in bed. He treats the wound as a trifle. He smilingly greeted an old palace servant with the remark: "Am I not a lucky dog."

The following description of the prince's wounding, follows: "It was the hottest fighting of the battle, shortly after the Russian resistance was broken, that the prince, under orders went to the firing line to discover the situation. He had to traverse a mile of bullet-swept territory. This he passed safely when a shell burst in the vicinity of the firing line and the prince was hit. It was a long and dangerous task to get him back to the first bandaging station, about a mile to the rear, under fire, and from there he was transported to the advanced hospital at Allenstein where he remained until he was able to travel.

"Prince Joachim, already recommended for the iron cross for bravery before Namur, received the decoration shortly before he was wounded.

"The prince, who has many friends in America, conveyed through his adjutant his thanks for American sympathy and interest."

THE SUMMER PROSPECTUS.

I read about the fishing, and I read about the trees; I read about the scenery all guaranteed to please; I read about wild nature with its glories and its grace; And packed my grip, determined that I'd go and see the place.

The fish were tired of biting, and the trees were not as grand; As those that flourished in our parks and roadways near at hand, And nature in its wildness seems to love a lot of things That it provides with various sorts of stickers and of stings.

And yet those printed pages seemed like poetry so fine, And a handsome illustration went with every other line. No longer will I seek the rolling wave or leafy nook. I'll pack my grip again and go back home and read the book. —Washington Star.
