Whatever be the outcome, it is obvious that Turkey is determined to wrest advantage from the general war. The only question is, whether she will content herself with diplomatic cunning or resort to armed force.

Cunning, as usual, makes the first important move. The nations that have been wont to dictate at Stamboul are busy fighting. The evil results of lax and indisriminate giving by individuals led to the first organization of charity work. Many smaller cities have now what Mrs. Brown says is New York's greatest need, a central bureau in charge of all giving, with a branch in every neighborhood where it is needed. Neglect of the person who needs quick aid is thus avoided and the "repeater" climinated.

There are evils in the administration of organized charity, no doubt. Charity at best is only a patch What Tweive Months ......4.00 we need is the new garment of causes of poverty and disease. ADDY was in quite a hurry to begin his story, for he wanted to tell the children about the trip the fairies had taken the evening before. They did have such a fine trip, for the fairy queen arranged it all," said daddy, "and she certainly knows just how to make every-

Early last evening she said to the fairies:

"We have an invitation to visit the stars tonight, and an airship is all ready for us. "You can imagine how delighted all the fairles were, but they had no time to talk it over beforehand, for they started at once. The airship was made of the loveliest silver cloud, and it was and so comfortable. "The invitation had come from one very bright little star that always came out just a little ahead of all the others every night. The star had seen the fairies playing in the moonlight and starlight and wanted to tell them how nice it was to watch them play. And so the invitation came. When they reached the star the cloud disappeared, and they were right on the bright little creature looking down upon their playground.

"The star told them how much the moon and all the other stars enjoyed giving the brightness to the fairies' evening parties and that they always felt as if they were having a party themselves just watching the good time the fairles were baving.

"Then the little ster said that they must visit all the other stars, for they all wanted to have the fairles come and see them

"The fairles went from star to star along the Milky way and thought the way of traveling up in the sky was glorious. They loved all the beauty of it, too, and the stars were very proud that the fairles thought they were beautiful, for they in turn thought the fairles e the most exquisite of creatures. "The fairies spent all the night going from start to star and seeing the life up in the sky. "In fact, they stayed so long that it was time for the stars to go to sleep and the sun to come out.

So the fairles said goodby to the sleepy little stars, and then a gorgeou red charlot came along and took them down to the earth again. "And just as they reached the earth the red charlot slowly vanished bac mountain, and in its place a great huge red sun came up. "'Well,' said the queen of the fairles, 'this has been a trip which we wi never forget.' And all the little fairles agreed with ber.
