

SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

Personal Mention, Meetings of Societies

State U. D. C. Session.
The Daughters of the Confederacy are assembling in Raleigh some 200 strong as delegates to the annual convention of the state chapters. The regular sessions of the body will be held in the house of representatives during the week until the closing session on Friday. For the occasion state flags and confederate flags have been used in the decoration of the hall. Mrs. James C. Litchford is chairman of the reception committee of the convention. The features of the session will be the luncheon to the Daughters of the Confederacy on today by the chamber of commerce, the visit to the Soldiers' home at four o'clock this afternoon, and also the five o'clock tea at the Country Club, and the evening in the Hall of History.

War Correspondence.
Mrs. Thomas Settle has received the following interesting war letter from a cousin, of this state, who is at the Midland Adelphi hotel in Liverpool: "I found your letter awaiting me when I arrived yesterday as we left London about two weeks ago. I took a short trip to Scotland and the English Lake district. The latter was charming as the weather was perfect and the drive from Kewick on an old fashioned stage coach, with four horses and a coachman in a pink coat and high white hat, was beautiful. I had never been on a coach before and probably never will be again as this is about the last one left. I know of. We took passengers on and off and carried freight both outside and in. I felt like an old fashioned lady in a novel and forgot for the moment that I was in a country through the throes of war, everything was so peaceful. Of course the excitement here is nothing like what it was on the continent. England is so slow winking up to the fact that they are up against a relentless machine about as they have no conception of. They send a few soldiers to the front, what seems like a mere handful, take their time getting ready and complacently wag their heads and say "we will win in the end." No doubt, that, but at what a sacrifice. Thirty thousand British are already killed wounded or missing and Lord Kitchener tells them to prepare for a three years war. When the German army was ordered out they marched in to Munich one day and out almost immediately with full equipment, uniforms to fit them and even tooth brushes in their knapsacks. There was no waiting to chill them, no waiting for horses, ammunition muskets and guns. In one day Munich was turned from a gay, prosperous city to an army where you heard nothing but the tramp of the soldiers and horses, the rattling of swords and the clanking of spurs. Here they are preparing but so slowly, they are so stupefied they will not listen to anything but what they want to know. Plenty of volunteers are coming forward but they have to be drilled which will take time and they have not enough khaki for the uniforms so will use the serge in many cases. We have managed to get some American papers since we have been in England and have gleaned more news from them than from the English papers. We have no news from Germany and Russia and everything is so severely censored that the people are beginning to rebel. They want to know just how things stand. Isn't it wonderful how India has stood by the British not only being troops but several of the princes came with them and have donated millions toward the expenses of the war. We sail for America Saturday on the Lusitania. She is lying at the dock now, painted black and with guns and sailors aboard to take care of us."

Addresses of welcome were made by Mayor Johnson for the city; Alexander Webb for the business organizations; Col. J. Bryan Grimes for the state of North Carolina; Dr. Della Carr for the woman's organizations; and Miss Katherine Baker for Manly's Battery.

Mr. Swift on Child Labor.
Asheville workers in the child labor movement, Rev. Dr. R. F. Campbell standing at the head of the local effort, will be interested in the following from a recent issue of the Raleigh News and Observer:
"W. H. Swift, of Greensboro, secretary of the North Carolina Child Labor committee, was in Raleigh the other day and he was shown this paragraph from Life:
"There are eight states that allow children under fourteen to work in factories. They are Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, Nevada, New Mexico, North Carolina, South Carolina and Utah. As most of these are in hookworm country, maybe the fact constitutes a clue to the hookworm's presence. Hookworms may be particularly fond of taking up their abode in overworked bodies. In other words ill-used youth leads to indolent maturity."
"Mr. Swift said that in his opinion cotton mill people were, if anything, less subject to hookworm infection than people who live in the rural sections. That disposed of... part of the paragraph from Life.
"As Nevada, Utah and New Mexico have very little manufacturing similar to the cotton manufacturing of the south, Mr. Swift thought the showing as to child labor for those states not altogether so bad as for the other states named.
"North Carolina, Alabama, South Carolina, Georgia, and Mississippi," said Mr. Swift, "all about in the same boat as to child labor laws. South Carolina is some better in that the law that it has is strictly enforced, but the limit is twelve years and that of course is too low. Georgia has no inspection, Alabama has
"North Carolina," continued Mr. Swift, "has a percentage of children under 16 years at work in the factories five times as great as the percentage of the United States. This is a condition which demands a remedy."

HEAVY MEAT EATERS HAVE SLOW KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat if You Feel Backache or Have Bladder Trouble.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well known medical authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weaknesses.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

11000. This is the third fire in this hotel in the past few years. The origin of the blaze is supposed to have been in the kitchen. The building was of brick and during the morning the walls fell, injuring several persons, among them J. D. Winfree, seriously.
