AMUSEMENTS

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Monday, January 25, matinee and night, "The Prince of Tonight."

Friday, January 30, "Help Wanted."

"The Prince of Tonight."

Gorgeous costumes, dazzling spectacular effects, high class music, stunning show girls and dashing brothers form the background of that most popular of musical comedies, "The Prince of Tonight," which will be the attraction at the Auditorium on next Monday, matinee and night. The cast is headed by Tom Arnold, who is seen in his happiest mood in the title role. The story tells of the adventures of Mr. Arnold, as a stranded college youth who falls in love with and is snubbed by a beautiful heiress whom he meets while acting as life saver at "The Breakers," Palm Beach. She coquettes with him and then informs him that minus wealth and position he has no chance at all. But he is befriended by an aged gardener who has learned mysteries of magic from his plants and who turns him into a prince of mythical land for a night. It is understood that if the prince fails to receive a kiss from the right girl before the night is over, he is to die at dawn. The manner in which he escapes the fate threatened him and wins the right girl gives the authors,

PRICE FIXING IN FOREIGN TRADE

U. S. Government Has No Authority in Matter of Sales in Foreign Countries, W. L. Sanders Asserts.

U. S. LAWS DON'T AFFECT GOODS SOLD ABROAD

"Foreign Commerce" in Sherman Law Applies to Importations, He Tells the Trade Conference.

St. Louis, Jan. 22.—The question of how far existing government regulation affects foreign trade was discussed by W. L. Saunders of New York in an address before the Second National Foreign Trade Conference here.

"The United States government has no authority in the matter of sales for delivery to foreign countries," he declared. "To increase the sales of American-made goods; agents for such goods in foreign countries have the right to get together and fix prices and terms so long as they do not violate the laws of the land in which they are doing business. There is nothing in the Sherman law which prohibits price-fixing, pools and traded combinations of American purchasers in selling goods for delivery abroad.

"It may be best," continued Mr. Saunders, "for those who doubt this interpretation of the law to bring a test case rather than expect Congress to pass permissive legislation. The term 'foreign commerce' which is used in the Sherman law is evidently intended to apply to importations and not exportations, for both are involved in the broad term 'foreign commerce.'

"Apart from legal opinion it would seem plain that the government of the United States has no authority in the matter of sales made for delivery to foreign countries. It is not within its concern to regulate them, as to the concern and control of the government of any country are limited to its own territory. Two men located in Italy to promote the sale of American-made tools have a perfect right to get together and fix prices and terms so long as they do not violate the laws of the country in which they are doing business. Nor is it necessary for competitors to be located at the foreign point of delivery, since so long as the goods exist that delivery is made outside of the limits of the United States it seems plain within the province of anyone to co-operate to the fullest extent in negotiating sales. Price-fixing is not in itself immoral nor is a monopoly immoral. They are both wrong when they are unfair or are contrary to the public welfare or when they are construed as unlawful acts, and in this case unlawful acts are such only as are unfair or are contrary to the public welfare.

"Congress can hardly be expected to pass permissive legislation for the conduct of business done in foreign countries; it might be prejudicial to international relations for this government to make one law for its own country and a law of contrary provisions for foreign countries. The laws governing business in foreign countries vary and every one doing business should be governed only by the laws of the country in which the business is done."

100,000 TONS CONTRABAND SEIZED AT GIBRALTAR

Madrid, Spain, Jan. 23.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—The quantity of merchandise seized as contraband by the British authorities at Gibraltar, is calculated at 100,000 tons. According to advices from the Spanish town of Algeciras, just across the bay from Gibraltar, the English authorities are perplexed with the problem of providing adequate warehouse space.

INTERNAL CATARRH

"Peruna Has Done Wonders For Me. I Was So Weak."

Mrs. M. P. Curry, P. O. Box 215, Petersburg, Ill., writes: "I have been troubled with internal catarrh since my girlhood, and was sick in bed three months. When I was able to get up I was so weak and thin I could hardly walk. What I ate disagreed with me. I had stomach and liver trouble, and my feet and limbs were swollen so I could scarcely drag around. I took Peruna and it has done wonders for me. My cure was a surprise to my friends for they never expected to see me well again. I just took two bottles of Peruna after doctoring for five months and growing worse all the time."

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED BY LITERARY SOCIETY

Cooper Society Has Interesting Meeting—Program of Debate and Declarations.

The election of officers for the evening term and a debate followed the election of the new officers. Lyndall Alexander read a selection from the Scriptures, Owen Roberts and James Harris gave declarations and the subject for the debate was: "Resolved, That the United States Government Should Exclude Immigrants who Cannot Read."

The affirmative side, represented by Charles Fortune, Dale Beers and William Bourne, won, the negative side being upheld by Hugh White, Arthur Sawyer and Earle Stone. Louis Israel and Roy Glenn were admitted as new members and several matters of importance to the society were transacted.

MRS. HARTSELL GIVEN $3500 DAMAGE VERDICT

Sued City for $7500 Because of Injuries From Fall on Sidewalk.

The jury in the case of Mrs. Josephine Hartsell against the City of Asheville yesterday afternoon in Superior court returned a verdict awarding the plaintiff damages in the sum of $3,500. The case went to the jury yesterday morning following the charge of Judge James L. Webb, and the body deliberated several hours before reaching a verdict. It was stated that the city would take an appeal to the Supreme court of North Carolina, although no formal appeal was entered.

CHINA'S MOHAMMEDANS NOT AIDING TURKEY

Peking, Jan. 23.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—The report that Chinese Mohammedans have subscribed large sums of money for the war and other expenses of Turkey is denied by the leading Mohammedans in Peking. It is pointed out that the Mohammedans of China have but a flimsy connection with those of the Ottoman Empire. With rare exceptions they are unable to read the Koran, which is not translated into Chinese. Only a summary of the teachings of Mohammed are obtainable, and their faith is not by any means as ardent as that of countries nearer to the birthplace of the Arabian Prophet.

TWO MILLION OF JEWS PENNILESS IN POLAND

London, Jan. 23.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Two million Jews—one-sixth of the Jews in the world—have been made penniless in Russian Poland and the eastern fighting border by the struggling armies. Besides, there are 170,000 Jewish refugees in Galicia, 25,000 in Moravia and 75,000 in Bohemia. These figures were given out at a Jewish meeting recently held in London for the purpose of relieving the acute distress of coreligionists. Plans, endorsed by Leopold de Rothschild, were made to raise funds by subscriptions.
