FOURTH FITTINGLY CELEBRATED TODAY

Asheville Residents Devote the Day to Observance of Independence Anniversary

In spite of the pouring rain the patriotic youths of the city were able to keep their powder dry and early morning salutes of fire crackers and other explosives ushered in Asheville's celebration of the 138th anniversary of Independence Day. On Saturday evening flags were raised on business and residence houses and the stars and stripes also today decorate show windows and are seen on automobiles, while miniature of Old Glory are pinned to the lapels of many in the crowds on Patton avenue.

A Sabbath quiet prevails in the business districts, nearly all the county and city officers are taking holiday and the federal offices will be closed this afternoon. The baseball game between Asheville and Charlotte arranged for 10 o'clock this morning had to be postponed on account of rain. Unless the precipitation continues to interfere with the national pastime a double-header will be played this afternoon, beginning at 2:45 o'clock.

The program planned for a special celebration at Riverside park to begin at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon was also delayed on account of rain. Weather permitting, many athletic events will be seen at the park this afternoon. Cash prizes will be given to successful contestants in races of various kinds, including boat races for ladies. The deep-sea diving exhibition of George Argerinos this afternoon and evening is expected to attract large numbers of spectators and much interest centers in the exhibition of horsemanship which will be given tonight on the riding course at the park.

houses of the city, where special programs have been provided for the entertainment of the public. The hotels and cafes have also made extensive preparations for the day. In the dining rooms the national colors are much in evidence and the culinary departments are planning menus that will please the palates of the most epicurean. Orchestras will at their accustomed places dispense patriotic music.

MORGAN OUT OF DANGER

(Continued From Page One). In his pocket, intending to remain there till Mr. Morgan "did something." To Commissioner Woods, Holt told briefly how he planned to hold as hostage Mrs. Morgan and the Morgan children while he sent Mr. Morgan out to stop the exportation of munitions of war.

"My plan," said Holt, "was to get hold of Mrs. Morgan and the children and take them into an upstairs room and then send Mr. Morgan out to see his influential friends to stop the exportation of ammunitions from this county. I planned to take the dynamite in the room with me and cut a hole in the door and have the food shoved through it. I planned to keep them there until Mr. Morgan returned and gave me his promise that the exportation of war munitions would stop. Unless he stopped it, I would tell him of my intention to kill Mrs. Morgan and the children and myself by exploding the dynamite."

Mr. Morgan, the victim of the bullets which Holt fired, continued to show improvement today. The only bulletin issued was reassuring. It said the bullet did not enter the abdomen and that an x-ray examination showed that no bones had been damaged. Late tonight it was said the financier was resting easily; that he had slept all the afternoon. No reference was made to another bullet which was said yesterday to have come out of the upper part of the leg.

mental condition. He appears to be in a state of utter mental and physical collapse.

Holt stoutly protested that he had no accomplices. "I acted alone," he said. "I realize that I did wrong, but that wrong was done to accomplish a great right."

Dr. Guy Cleghorn, the jail physician, said of Holt: "He is in an extremely bad mental and physical condition."

TO LIVE IN HOUSE JUST 14 FEET WIDE

New York, July 5.—The son of one of the richest men in the world lives in one of the narrowest houses in this city. That is, he will live there when he returns from his honeymoon. Julius Spencer Morgan, son of J. P. Morgan, has leased the four-story brownstone residence at No. 123 East Thirty-sixth street, just east of the big Morgan mansions. The house is fourteen feet wide.

SHE WALKS 14,000 MILES TO SEE EXPO

San Diego, Cal., July 5.—Edith Channel, a Kansas City stenographer, clad in khaki and bearing a 14-pound pack on her back, reached San Diego after hiking 2,000 miles from Kansas City for the purpose of visiting the exposition and repairing her health.

WILD HORSES FOR BELLIGERENT NATIONS

Ely, Nev., July 5.—Several hundred head of wild horses have been captured within the last few weeks in the vicinity of Sunnyside, according to a statement made here by James Rioridan, who just came in from the range. Rioridan states that representatives of several of the warring nations in Europe visited Sunnyside and interviewed ranchers and cowboys. They offered big prices for horses, and since that time capturing the wild steeds of the desert has been a favorite pastime.

HAYWOOD COUNTY FAIR TO BE HELD OCTOBER 5-8

Large Preparations Are Being Made for the Eleventh Annual Event

The eleventh annual Haywood County fair will be held on October 5, 6, 7 and 8, 1915, says the Canton Observer. Every indication points to the holding of the most successful exhibition in the history of the county and the management is neglecting no opportunity to secure the best attractions and most complete exhibits.

There will be no fair held in Asheville this season, and as a result there will doubtless be larger crowds in Waynesville than have ever attended before. Exhibitors from Buncombe county will probably be more numerous at the Haywood county fair than heretofore.

Money which was spent for races last year will be used by the management to increase the amount of premiums and in securing other high grade attractions. The purpose of the organization, which is to encourage farmers and stockraisers, will, in this way, be carried out. At the same time, the attractions this year will be better than ever before, because last year's successful fair gave Haywood county a good reputation among show people and will result in securing the biggest attractions that are on the road.

A new method will be inaugurated by the directors during this season to increase local interest in the exhibits and attendance. Community committees will be appointed to encourage people of all parts of the county in making exhibits of their products.

The individual exhibitor will be catered to more than ever this year. The farmer who has a peck of fine corn, and the woman who can bake a good pie, will receive as much encouragement as the big exhibitors who have given this county such excellent advertising. The large farm exhibits which have often carried off first honors at Raleigh, Knoxville and elsewhere, have doubtless brought many settlers to Haywood. However, it is the purpose of the directors that this year's fair shall be for all the people.

MORGAN MADE GIGANTIC DEALS FOR THE ALLIES

Firm Handled Over $500,000,000 Worth of Contracts for Entente Powers

NEW YORK, July 5.—In explanation of the part J. P. Morgan & Co. has taken in the furnishing of war munitions and supplies for the European nations at war, it was stated authoritatively here that the firm had handled more than $500,000,000 worth of contracts for the account of foreign governments since the war began.

Of this amount about $400,000,000 worth has been purchased for the British since the Morgan firm was appointed agent for Great Britain in this country, and $60,000,000 worth for the French contracted for within the last month, the Morgan firm having been appointed by the French government to act in the same capacity as it does for the British government.

About one-half of the total amount contracted for in this country represents contracts for ammunition, shells, powder and the like, but of the whole amount of ammunition contracted for only a small part, it was stated, had been forwarded to the purchasers. The remainder is being manufactured. The Morgan firm's commissions for placing the contracts were said to be on a sliding scale, which began at two per cent and decreased in proportion to the magnitude of the contracts.

It was explained that of the total of $450,000,000 worth of war supplies contracted for by the Morgan firm only a small proportion had been paid, although advances have been made to some firms.

This explanation was given to correct the impression that the large purchases of war supplies had been responsible for the fall in foreign exchange. The low quotations were due, it was stated, to enormous purchases in this country of grain and foodstuffs.

PRISON PAPERS ARE EDITED BY BROTHERS
Topeka, Kan., July 5.—Two brothers Tom and Jerry Brophy editors of two state papers, would like to enjoy more

LIBERTY. TOM IS IN THE PENITENTIARY AT LANSING; JERRY IS IN THE HUTCHINSON REFORMATORY; TOM IS EDITOR OF THE PENITENTIARY HERALD AND JERRY IS EDITOR OF THE REFORMATORY HERALD.

They were not newspaper men when sent to prison, but have taken up that work since being incarcerated. Tom writes under the non de plume "Cuba" and Jerry uses the name "Jere" in his writings. Both were sentenced for burglary. They declare they robbed a house because they were hungry. Both have applied for paroles. They want to get out so they can attend a school of journalism and finish their newspaper education.

JAIL OFFENSE TO TREAT FOR DRINKS

London, July 5.—The Gazette has issued the text of an order in Council creating and defining the powers of the "Central" Control of Liquor Traffic Board, to regulate the sale and supply of intoxicating liquors within prescribed areas.

The liquor board is empowered to prevent the practice of treating. Persons guilty of violating orders to this effect may be prosecuted under the defense of the Rentlaw act, and will be liable to imprisonment for six months or a fine of $500.

AMBASSADOR PAGE'S HALLBOY ENLISTS

London, July 5.—Ambassador Walter Hines Page and his secretaries spent a bad half hour when they discovered that Page Hornsby, one of the hallboys at Grosvenor gardens, was missing. Search was instituted, in fear the boy had met some serious accident. At noon Hornsby himself called up and solved the mystery.

URNS MISFORTUNE TO USEFUL PURPOSE

St. Paul, July 5.—E. Little, a diamond dealer, has transformed a physical misfortune into a business asset, and is today heralded as an expert because he had an abnormal cataract in his eye. For years he used a microscope with which to detect flaws in diamonds. Then came the cataract. Oculists said he would lose the sight of the eye.

One day he mistook his microscope, and, placing his partly closed hand as a magnifying glass neck, he found he could judge gems better than with his microscope. The cataract acts as a magnifying lens, oculists say.

TOO MUCH WHEN FATHER KISSED HIM

Takoda, S. D., July 5.—E. C. Keith is in receipt of a letter from a friend, R. S. Johnson, a runner in the British army in France and Belgium, in which some interesting sidelights are thrown on the war. "The French and Belgians," he writes, "are very good to us. When we marched into a place an extremely pretty girl rushed up to me and threw her arms around my neck and kissed me. I felt like fighting six Germans and ten or fifteen Turks. But when her father came up and pulled off the same stunt, kissing me on both cheeks, I got real mad and told him I'd punch him in the jaw."

CHICAGO LEPER ON HIS WAY TO ITALY

Chicago, July 5.—Highland park's distinguished leper, Angelo Lunardi, has gone to Italy, according to the latest advice, to fight for his country. Mayor Hastings says the report is true. "I have received information," says the mayor, "that some unknown persons, ostensibly fellow countrymen of Lunardi, assisted him to escape from the jail here and conveyed him to New York, where he was smuggled aboard a ship for Italy."
