UNVEILING OF SHAFT BY LOCAL WOODMEN

Yesterday members of Balsam camp, No. 1, Woodmen of the World, conducted impressive services at the unveiling of the monument which marks the grave of the late Barclay L. Orr, killed in an explosion at a garage in this city some months ago. More than 200 friends and relatives were also present including members of the Piswah lodge, No. 32, Knights of Pythias, of which the deceased was a member. Standing around the grave of the deceased Woodman in wedge-shape, emblematic of woodcraft, the ritual of the order was carried out. A quartet sang a number of selections and Mrs. Neptune Buckner rendered an appropriate poem. The monument is a handsome granite shaft with appropriate design.

"CAROLINA SPECIAL" BUTTER ADD TO ASHEVILLE'S FAME

Asheville is famous throughout the country for its climate, water, air, pure milk and other attractions to the list of which must now be added butter whose color and quality are attracting attention. The Carolina Creamery of this city has placed on the market a brand of butter known as "Carolina Special," and the first shipment made was 10,000 pounds to Savannah. The officers of the company stated this morning at the board of trade rooms that they recently received a letter addressed simply to "The Manufacturer of Carolina Creamery Butter, Western North Carolina."

MANY ACCIDENTS HERE YESTERDAY

Miss Moore of Mission Hospital Injured and two Auto Accidents Occured.

As the result of her horse slipping on the wet street, Miss Ada Moore, a member of the Mission hospital staff of nurses, was thrown to the street and sustained several very painful although not severe wounds about the head, face and shoulders yesterday afternoon.

It is stated that Miss Moore was riding with a party of friends along Charlotte street when her horse lost his footing and slipped, the rider falling over his neck. She was at once taken to the hospital, nearby, and given treatment and it was stated that she was resting easy today.

Machine Hits Street Car. In attempting to cut across the street in front of the 8:15 o'clock street car going out Montford avenue last night, the automobile being driven by J. M. McCaless and filled with several members of his family, struck the street car and was damaged.

According to several passengers on the street car, Mr. McCaless was attempting to cross to the wrong side of the street, in order to avoid another auto in front of him and was unable to miss the street car. The accident happened near Marso Terrace.

Although several ladies were in the machine, it is stated that no one was injured.

Another Accident. The large automobile belonging to Dr. W. L. Dunn and being driven by Dr. C. D. W. Colby, yesterday afternoon, while coming into South French Broad avenue from the Sherwood sanitarium collided with a machine belonging to Chambers and Weaver and being driven by Lawrence Hulsion. Both machines were damaged and were taken to local garages, although no one was injured.

ARCHDEACON HUGHES LEAVES HERE TONIGHT

Rev. N. C. Hughes, archdeacon of North Carolina in the Episcopal church, who for the past week has been engaged here in work in behalf of the prisoners on the state farm, will return to his home in Raleigh this evening. Rev. Mr. Hughes has made many friends and aroused public interest and sentiment in behalf of the prisoners to an encouraging degree while in Asheville.

His specific object in coming to this city was to create sentiment and secure financial aid in the work of erecting a house of public worship, to be interdenominational, for the use of the convicts on the state farm. For many years, Rev. Mr. Hughes, working under Bishop Joseph Blount Chesire of the diocese of North Carolina, has held services, worked among and assisted in every way the prisoners on the farm, located in Halifax county, and is thoroughly familiar with the work and has been found by those who have held conversation with him on this subject while in Asheville to be most interesting.

Rev. Mr. Hughes received generous donations while in this city and has made many friends here. He hopes to complete the fund of $4,000 during the coming year, and has great hopes for the excellent results which will be obtained in rendering aid to the unfortunate whose lot, without such efforts, is to be forgotten. The human association, brotherly love, material and spiritual aid given the prisoners through the channel of an interdenominational house of public worship on the state farm has met with recognition in Asheville as a most commendable undertaking.

On the first Sunday in September Mr. Hughes has been invited to address a union meeting of all congregations in Reidsville. While in Asheville Mr. Hughes at the invitation of Father Hall made an address at St. Mary's chapel.

ENJOYABLE BANQUET IS HELD BY U. C. T.

Well attended and marked by excellent music and timely addresses the banquet held Saturday evening by the members of the Asheville council, United Commercial Travelers, was an occasion of much enjoyment. Congressman James J. Britt made the principal speech of the evening, talking on "The Old and New Ways of Trade." The speaker declared that it is today hard to find a traveling salesman whose primary ideas profit regardless of the class of goods sold. An effort is made, he said, to sell goods that will make friends.

Rev. J. S. Williams, chaplain to strangers, delivered the invocation and later made a short talk. A. L. Byrd of Charlotte, president of the Travelers' Protective association in this state, and Charles G. Lee, secretary of post F, made short addresses. A telegram from Secretary Joseph Daniels expressed his regret at being unable to attend and stated that traveling men have an opportunity to be of great service to their country and to their fellow men.
