

WAS SICK, NOW WORKS GARDEN HE TOOK TANLAC

T. C. Edwards Adds 8 Pounds and Regains Appetite and Sleep.

HIS RAPID RELIEFS MARVEL NEIGHBORS

"Tanlac!" This name spoken in a merry voice is the answer T. C. Edwards gives to his neighbors and friends when they pause in bewilderment at his garden, and ask: "Why, Mr. Edwards, you are looking so healthy again. I'm really surprised to see you out, and especially at work like this in your garden. What in the world have you done for yourself?"

A recent attack of la grippe left Mr. Edwards, as he says: "So weak that I could do nothing but sit around. Food fermented and caused gas formations and distress. I was nervous and could not sleep. Naturally my appetite was poor. Doctors told me it would be a long time before I could get out of doors."

"Friends told me about Tanlac," resumed Mr. Edwards in his talk with the Tanlac man, "and I have now finished my third bottle of it. Weakness has about left me entirely and that feeling of wanting to sit around all the time," has been chased. No longer do I suffer distress after eating nor from gas formations. Nervousness also has left me. I can eat and sleep well and, strange to say, friends are as surprised as I am in my quick gains from Tanlac. I have gained eight pounds."

"I want other rundown and weak men and women to know what this medicine has done for me, as I feel that they will gain from Tanlac as I have."

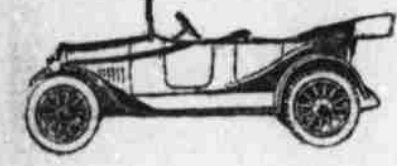

Commenting on the story of Mr. Edwards, who lives at 814 Ramsey street, Durham, E. H. Drum said: "Tanlac, after banishing impurities from the stomach, builds strength and health by correcting the blood circulation and digestion. Thousands have acclaimed this medicine the ideal tonic, which makes it the medicine that is most needed by man and woman at this spring season."

Daily the Tanlac Man tells how Tanlac should be taken and the results that may be expected from its use at "Tongue and Oats—" "On the Square," in Baltimore, Tanlac is sold at the Baltimore Drug Co. Adv.

REV. R. I. GAMON SPEAKS TO BOYS

Large Crowd Hears Evangelist Yesterday Afternoon at Y. M. C. A.

Before a large audience of boys Rev. Robert I. Gamon, who is conducting evangelistic services at the Y. M. C. A., spoke on "House Building" yesterday afternoon in the association auditorium.

He said in part: "After the material is gathered and the workmen have finished and the building is furnished it is still a house. When a family moves in it becomes a home. So a house and a home are different."

"So with us, we eat, and sleep and play. We come to the Y. M. C. A. for exercise; but that is only the building of the house. If we listen there is a sound—'behold I stand at the door and knock.' It is the friend and Savior of the boys. When Jesus comes into our life, he will abide with us. He makes our hearts his home."

Rev. Mr. Gamon will speak to the boys again on Thursday.

ALLIES TO HOLD TRADE CONFERENCE AT PARIS

London, March 26.—The invitation of the French government for an allied conference at Paris to shape a joint trade policy has now been accepted by all the allies, so that government delegates will soon assemble there from Great Britain, France, Russia, Italy, Belgium and possibly the lesser countries aligned with the allies. Japan also is likely to be represented, so that this prospect of a gigantic trade compact with more than half of Europe will be extended to the far east, directly through Japan and indirectly to China through the influence Japan exercises there.

The gathering of the allies at Paris is looked upon with much significance. It is an off-shoot of the move Germany has already made for a trade agreement with Austria, similar to the old Zollverein, designed to unite the Central powers in a fight for world trade. Austria has not yet accepted the proposal, but some such agreement is looked upon as assured. As against it the Quadruple allies will present a joint front, and thus several speakers have said, the war will have developed two rival camps contending for world trade.

While no exact line of policy has been laid down for the conference, the general tendency appears to be toward, first, a system of home tariffs in each of the allied countries which will foster their own industries and agriculture as against outsiders; second, reciprocal agreements between all the allies by which their goods will be mutually exchanged at minimum tariff rates; third, preferential treatment of colonies; fourth, reasonable concessions to neutrals in return for reciprocal concessions; and finally maximum rates against by all the allies against the Central powers. Some have contended that the maximum rates against the Central powers should be prohibitive, but this finds few advocates as it is looked upon as futile to try to absolutely cut off the source of trade by means of laws.

The conference will have a good deal of ground to go over, stating their own cases and hearing from the various overseas colonies, which are considered an indispensable part of any agreement. The conference will be largely advisory, and it will remain for the various allied governments to put into form any joint plan of action. But it inaugurates one of the most extensive movements ever undertaken for a close trade agreement among a large number of the chief consuming sections of the world, notably Russia, Italy and the far east.

Appeal to Women's Judgment.

You have been persuaded to buy so many new brands of flour, each one for the reason it was whiter than the other, and in most instances you received what you bought, until it has reached the point that color is about all you are getting. Now is color really what you want? Probably you have not thought a great deal about it, but the probability is you really eat and want biscuits, rolls and bread for two prime reasons—palatability, and nourishment, now isn't that really a fact? It is also a fact that Kansas hard wheat is the richest in nutriment of any wheat, and ground by a patented slow process, makes Larabee's Best Flour the most pleasing to the taste, as well as the most nourishing food. Think this over when you buy flour. For sale at your Grocer's.

Don't Fail to Read the First Installment of The Times' New Serial Story, Friday, Mar. 31.

A RAILROAD STORY BY A MAN WHO KNOWS RAILROADS

The Girl and the Game

A Story of Mountain Railroad Life —By— Frank H. Spearman

To mention the name of Frank Spearman as the author of The Times' new serial railroad story will be enough to interest the majority of the readers of this newspaper. The man who wrote "Whispering Smith," and others of its class is known wherever the English language is spoken, and is liked wherever he is known.

Frank Spearman knows every angle of the railroad game. He knows all the thrills and dangers of the men of the rails, and with these he knows the art of storytelling. The combination means the production of a perfect railroad story and his work of the past is all the evidence that is needed as to his ability.

The Girl and the Game is a remarkable revelation of the subject of railroads and finance, and into it has been woven all the elements of vital interest: love, adventure, intrigue, envy, hate, heroism and villainy. Spearman, through the medium of this story, replete with thrilling adventure connected with mountain railroading, lays bare the moral code of railroad financiers; outlines the financial trickery of Wall Street in the manipulation of railroad stocks, and portrays the battle of a young girl emmeshed in the web of American business. Don't fail to read it.

THE TIMES' NEW SERIAL IS A STORY WITH A "PUNCH" IN EVERY PARAGRAPH

Remember, the first installment will be published tomorrow, Friday, March 31, and the photo-play adaptation can be seen every Saturday at the Princess Theatre.
