ASHEVILLE, N. O.

and like those which have gone before, has been characterised by no little dissipation and folly. In our little burg, the men have talked and looked wise-the ladies. amidst alternate frowns and smiles, have chatted away about this and that-the boys bawled-the girls have eaten candies and nuts, and looked as pretty as they couldthe negroes have danced-and the dogs have howled and barked; which we believe makes up a summary of the doings hereabouts, during the holidays connected with this annual festival. Things are now becoming quiet, again. Those who deemed hoisted overboard, aid the places filled with themselves so fortunate as to be able to Locos of the first witer. They are, R. D. spend their christmas abroad, are beginning | Speight, Gabriel Homes, Henry Fitts, sen. to return-dropping in, one after another, and repairing to their respective offices, schools, counting-rooms, or shops, as the case may be, to commence the labors and toils, and to encounter the trials and events of another year. May they yet live to enjoy many a happy christmas!

The New Year.

Before this number of our paper shall have reached most of our readers, the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty-two will be among the things that were, but are not. The ceaseless and rapid current of time has borne us along, amid the varied scenes of life, until we are brought to witness the close of yet another year; and now we and our readers age another year nigher the grave--another year nigher our eternal homes! What changes have taken place in the last twelve months! -changes in our views-changes in our feelings--changes in our conduct-changes in our families-changes in our neighborhoods-changes in church and in statechanges at home and abroad-changes in reference to this world, and changes in reference to the world to come! How many hundreds of our fellow-men are there who, twelve months ago, were pleasantly sailing before gentle gales of prosperity, have since and James L. Hadden. found disappointment to " taugh at hope's career," and now-

"Like a wreck mon the deep, Their shatter'd hopes and prospects lie." Misfortunes have overtaken them-sickness has blasted-death has seized upon the objects of their love, and

"Upon life's ocean still they're tossed. And though the skies are sometimes bright, On the rough waves again they're lost 'Mid howling storms and pitchy night!"

How many cheerful and buoyant hearts were there, twelve months ago, that are new broken! Yes, broken! never more to feel that innocent joy with which they used to bound! How many fair prospects have been blasted forever,-how many bright eyes have sunk in the dimness of death, and how many rosy checks have become food for worms! The grave has groaned beneath the numbers of those whom death has hurried to her dark caverns; and yet death-insatiate monster-still continues to devour. In the last year, many wives have become widows, and many children fatherless-the manly cheek of many a father has been blanched by irrepressible tears, shed o'er the memory of sons now no more-many a mother's ford bosom has heaved with unutterable anguish at the untimely and irrepairable loss of lovely daughters and innocent babes-daughters have lost their mothers, and sons their sires -brother has wept for brother lost, and sisters' tears o'er sisters' graves have fell

As was the past so will be the future .bleed, and the peace of millions is to be slain, ere another year shall have passed away. Many now gay and thoughtless children will loose their fond and indulgent parents, and be thrown upon the rough and boisterous sea of active life, to meet no more on earth such love as flowed from a mother's heart, or such kind and consoling words as fell from a father's lips. Thousands upon thousands and millions upon millions will, in the next year, go to reap the rewards of an eternal state of beingsome with, and many without, the light and and its funeral was attended in Asheville hope of the glorious Gospel of the Savior of men. Reader! thou mayest be among the number; hast thou made thy peace with God?-hast thou a treasure laid up in Heaven? Art thou, by an humble reliance upon the All-protecting power of thy Heavenly Father, and under the assurance of his sustaining grace,-prepared for whatever may befal thee in the vicissitudes of another year? If not.

" Be wise to-day-Tis madness to defer."

Good NEWS .- Our town commissioners are about commencing to improve our streets in good earnest.

The Lisinture.

By reference to extracts which we make this week frothe Raleigh Register, it will be seen that intrary to the expectations of all parties, on. WM. H. The bill to lay off the ate into Congressional Well, another Christmas has passed Districts, as report in the Senate, will also be found in anher column. The remarks of the editorf the Register on this and on the elections Senator will be read with interest. Theeffort making by the Democrats to secur to themselves a majority in the Congissional representation fired guns and squibs, and halloed and in despite of justice and fairness, is nothing more than we expected.

H. T. Farmer and J. M. Edney were also appointed to address the society at an adjourned meeting, to be held at the same place, on the 24th inst. A notice to this effect was sent to the editors of this paper. and was sent by the editors to the office, but was there entirely overlooked by the compositors.

We wish to make one remark further, before we dismiss this subject :-- We believe that the proceedings of temperance societies ought to be published, for various good reasons not necessary to be now named-we will gladly publish such proceedings when sent us-but hereafter to insure publication secretaries must write intelligibly and legibly. We have little without re-writing their communications.

Alas! Alas! Poor Yorick! How are the mighty fellen! The glory is departed! Ichboked is written upon the wall! Eggnogg is dead ! Yes dead dead DEAD, by some five or six of its old friends. Alas alas! time was when hundreds upon hundreds every Christmas faithfully worshipped at the shrine of Eggnogg, now it is forsaken by rag tag and bobtail, with the exception of a mere corporals guard, just enough to bury the fallen king and drink to his memory. Well, well, so it is, an eggnogg party in Asheville of Christmas times now is held like a Freemason's Lodge in private, and five or six only to attend it.

A voice from Illinois.

Here is one of the most bitter doses we have known administered for some time. We extract from a New Jersey paper, which says that " the Globe made a clumsy attempt to parry the force of these well directed blows; and says that its correspondent must have been taught in the Federal school." We should say he was taught in the school of common sense-a school, by the by, in which Locos seem never to have

In the Washington Globe we find the following letter from a farmer in Illinois: Ridge Farm, Vermillion co., Illinois,

NOVEMBER 14, 1842. Messrs. Blair & Rives: Enclosed I send you a two dollar Indiana bill, for which I want the Congressional Globe and Appendix during the ensuing session of Congress. I received your prospectus, and have showed it to my neighbors, but they have all you for the Congressional Giobe and Appendix. Our most profitable business is Williams, Williamson, Whitley, Yountraising wheat, which we carry in wagons | 67 one hundred and forty miles to Chicago, and there sell it for forty cents per bushel. bushels and feed for the journey, and thus we go to market, camp out and cook our own food. A load will bring eight dollars; we make a trip in two weeks. "Truly you have a hard row to hoe," you will say; why don't you sell your wheat nearer home?" Allow me to tell you that you could not cash a bushel of wheat in Vermillion county for twenty-five cems; so that to raise two dollars, it it would require eight bushels of wheat-the product of half an acre; and a week's labor; or to raise dred pounds.

Is this the point to which you politicians would merge the people? and will you claim to be one of us! Can you have a taste for a farmer's life, and be denied the luxury of reading the news? Can you promise us any thing better? Will the triumphs of Democracy produce a better state of things? Did you ever ask yourself the question? Can we read the news by selling our produce in Europe ! If no duty were laid on our wheat, beef and pork. could we freight there, and pay freight back on manufactured goods? Say, can we then dress as you would wish to dress yourself and family, and read the news; or should not the intelligent farmer be allowed the blessings and rational luxuries of other men? I wish not to impugu your motives, but, being an humble farmer, I wish to make a serious appeal to your reason.-Will you make us prosperous by converting time enough in which to do our own writing the whole population into a community of tarmers ! When this is accomplished, I wonder who would buy our produce. Europe ? No. You surely know that Illinois alone could supply all Europe in meat-that is, all deficiency that has ever occurred .-Humble as I am, allow me to give you my

> Keep out every article of foreign manufacture that can be made at home. Lay a tariff-none of your mere incidental concesns; but one of real and substantial pro tection. Then nearly all our goods will be made at home; and thus an immediate check will be put to the present drain of specie; and we (the farmers) will have the exclusive privilege of feeding the men who manufacture our goods -- a privilege guaranteed to not persuade the British Parliament to aban-don their corn laws and other protective own or other States when desired. regulations, because these regulations are real wealth to the landholiers; and they have the sense to know it, and the influence to maintain their rights. But we American farmers, though a large majority of this boasted land of liberty, are the down-trodden class of societý; and ever will be, while the present system of trade is submitted to. A bloated paper currency has prevented our seeing where we stood; but, thank God! that smoke has passed away, and we begin to see where we stand; and, before many years, will maintain our rights, regardless of all party names, or the flar-ups of Nullification. You, who boast yourself the people's friend, why not maintain the Ame. rican farmer's rights, and teach him to know and stand by them? Now, gentlemen, if you should deride my crude notion in print, as one editor did, you will have the kindness to send me a copy.

Yours, respectfully,
