

SBLEOTED PORTRY.

From the Southern Literary Messenger. How to plant and cook Potatoes Choose a loamy soil thats sandy, Throw manute broad cast and thick-Stercoracis should be bundy,

That the work may go on quick.

It is best to plough in winter-Deep ploughing is the only thing. Use your labor without stint, or T will be double in the Spring.

When you find the ground is drying Let the kidneys then be freed From the hole where they've been lying, And select the best for seed,

Then in April, full to planting From the large potatoe heap; Let no little hands be wanting, They're good as men, and twice as cheap.

Do not cut the root to pieces, Nor let it into plaster roll-A kidney usually increases, Two fold, if you plant it whole.

Hills are best, for you can tend them

Keep down weeds and dress the hills op, Lot them have both rain and sup,

Then the plant grows well and fills up, And your summer work is done. Now before the ground is frozen,

Look out for a sloping spot, Which, if dry, and rightly chosen,

Keeps the root from growth and rot. Six feet deep, the French have found out, Roots will never germinate ; So, take the hint and dig the ground out,

When you want your planting late.

Having told you how to plant them, Also how to lay them by, Now for cooking, when you want them For the table in July.

On the day you want to use them, Take the kidneys from the ground, Of a size, 'tis best to choose them, Throwing out what are unsouud

Wash them clean and scrape the skin off, One water never is enough ; Take the eyes and unbhins thin off, And every little speek that's rough.

Do not let them lie in water, (o the nice observers say)-Not a minute-not a quarter, That will take their taste away.

When the fire is burning brightly, And the water's boiling hot,

Sprinkle table-salt in lightly, Then put the kidneys in the pot.

Eighteen minutes-sometimes twenty. Cooks them nicely to a turn ; Some say more, but that is plenty,

Every one must live and learn Pour the water off, and set them

On hot coals that they may dry ; But, merey on me! do not let them Burn, or into picces fly.

Some prefer them whole at table, Others mash them in the pot, With butter ! that is excrable, And truly, you had better not.

How scandalous it is to bake them, How barbarous to fry them brown, How vandal-li...e in halls to make them, And with the hand to pat them down.

The only way if you will mash them, Is with milk, that's new and sweet-

Then with a ladle quick slap-dash them, If you want them fit to cat.

After mashing, do not emear them carefully selected by J. DexLar in the Charleston market, which they will sell to their friends and PROSPECTUS OF THE N. C. LITERARY RECORD THE autocriber proposes to publish in the city of Ruleigh, a magazine with the above title. It will be printed in monthly numbers, on forty octave pages of good paper, with new and elegant type and neat cover, for Two dollars a year in advance.

It is designed to be a publication of general inte-rest, containing biographical sketches of the il-bustrious natives of North Carolina; historical papers, embracing particularly restructences by the present aged public men ; and scientific arti cles. This magazine will cherish the purely life rary, and its pages will be graced with postic contributions. A prominent place will be given to the interests of the Common Schoor, system of education in our State. A REVIEW department will be added, which will present notices of new publications; and it is designed that the work shall have a monthly cunonicse of literary intel ligence. The subscriber feels safe in making the above statements, because he has the promise of assits, ance from several distinguished gentlemen in the State, in whose acquirements the public has all connerse. He desires to make it a periodical which shall compare with any Southern mark which shall compare with any Southern maga-zine, ornament the table of the merary man, and be a welcome visiter to any family in the State. Four Hundred and Eighty Octavo Pages for Two Dollars!

The work is put at this price that its circulaion may be the greater ; but it will be at once perceived that the publisher cannot risk a commencement until a sufficient number of subscrib ers shall be obtained to cover expenses. 13" As soon as five hundred responsible sub cribers shall be seenred, the first number will be issued, at which time th payment for the first colume will be considered in advance. When aubscribers receive that number, they will forward the amount of their subscription immediately, and will take the publication of that number as a guarantee that the magazine will be issued for at and competent hands, who will do justice to the paper and its subscribers. Mr. Colman contemleast one year. This arrangement will sccure both parties.

Who can doubt that North Caroline peeds such magazine ? Who can doubt whether there be not more than sufficient talent in our State at leisure to fill its peges with profitable and entertain-ing matter ? Who will not risk two DOLLARS ON an experiment so well worth making ? We shall listen for a reply, and expect a hearty response-Rebecco, John Hunter and wife Ctaha- Let no one wall to sac how it will appear; for such a course may prevent the publication entire-ly; but let every one friendly to the work try it for A vEan, and then, if it be not worth taking, let him abandon it.

The breach between the Van Buren and Colhoun parties is becoming wider and wider. Since the demonstration in the Virginia Convention of an intention to go for Mr. Van Buren, the Calhoun men are taking very decided ground. The "Carles. ton Mercury," Mr. Calhoun's organ, has added to its announcement of Mr. Calhoun as a candidate for the Presidency, the words " subject to the decision of a Democratic Convention to assemble in May, 1844."-The regular or You Buren Convention, is to be held in November of this year. The Calboun men will not hold the mselves bound by the nomination of this Convention, but on the May following, will hold their Convention, and nominate him.
