THE

ASHEVILLE NEW

Is Published Weekly, BY THOMAS W. ATKIN, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

TERMS - Two Dollars per annum, in advance; Two Dollars and fifty cents in six months; or Tarce Dollars at the end of the year.

La Advertisements inserted at One Dollar per square of twelve lines, for the first and twenty five cents for each subsequent insertion.

Business and professional cards, not excooding five lines, Five Dollars per annum; over five and under twelve lines, Ten Dollars per an-

For announcing the name of a candidate,

From these terms there will be no departure in any case. 'Liberal contracts made with those who desire to advertise by the year, POSITIVELY,

All accounts for subscription, advertising and job work are due at the close of the year. This rule we shall rigidly enforce, and expect all who trade with us to settle once a year.

DR. J. F. E. HARDY AND

DR. W. L. HILLIARD. HAVE this day associated themselves in the practice of MEDICINE in its various branches. Da. HARDY, who is daily in the village, will be always ready to examine cases and make out prescriptious, and when in his power visit cases in the country. Dr. Hilliard will attend to his fown and country practice, as usual. We would especially call the attention of all persons laboring under dise rees requiring Surgical aid to this card We will take especial pains to assist all persons living at a distance in procuring suitable boarding houses in or near the village, and render them such relief as the profession is capable of. Office at Dr. Hilliard's Drug Store. Asheville, January 2, 1855 .- tf

M. L. NEILSON, M. D., ASHEVILLE, N. C.

January 11, 1855.

DR. J. S. T. BAIRD,

TTAVING permanently located on BEA T VER DAM, two miles North of Ashe ville, offers his professional services to the publie, in the various branches of his profession -He can always be found at home, unless professionally absent. March 18, 1858.

DR. H. G. LUNGREN.

TT.IVING permanently located in Frank In, Macon county, N. C., offers his ser- the new town of vices to the inhabitants of said county and those adjoining. Dr. L. has been heretofore employed as Chief Resident Physician to the Northern Clinical Infirmary of Philadelphia. where he has met with and successfully treat ed diseases of both chronic and acute nature. Dr. L. will be found at his office in Col.

Moore's building, at all times, unless professionally engaged. [Franklin, Ap. 15th, '58.

G. W. WHITSON,

SURGEON DENTIST, . ASHEVILLE, N. C.

David Coleman,

Attorney at Law, ASHEVILLE, N. C.

March 3. 1853 .-- If. GEN. B. M. EDNEY

WILL practice Liv regularly nereafter in the Superior Courts of Cherokee, Macon. Jackson, Hay vool, Hend rson, Buncombe, Malison, Yaney, Rutherford & Polk. [Feb.12'571v O'Mee, Hendersonville, N.C.

BURTON & GOLD,

Attorneys at Law,

SHELBY, CLEAVELAND COUNTY, N. C. WILL practice in the Superior Courts of Law and Equity of all the counties in the 7th Judicial District. Shelby, April 17, 1856; tf

W. M. HARDY, ATTORNEY AT LAW.

ASHEVILLE, N. C. Will attend the Courts of Jackson, Haywood Henderson, Buncombe, Matison and McDowell Asheville, Jan. 8th, 1857. tf

NOTIUE.

THE undersigned having purchased the interest of L. CHAP.MAN, in the firm of Chapman, Rankin & Co. will continue the business at the old stand, under the name and style of Rankin & J. B. RANKIN. R. H. CHAPMAN.

Asheville Jan 1, 1857. GAINES, DEAVER & CO.

Are receiving an additional stock of Ready Made Clothing, Hats, Bonnets, Jewelry, Watches, dec., dec. making their stock very complete. Call July 24, 1857 and examine it.

LADIES

WISHING to purchase fine DRESS GOODS for spring and summer wear, are advi sed to call on

RANKIN & CHAPMAN. April 3. tf

Save Your Wood. BY baying some of my STOVES for cooking and warming your rooms.

ALSO.

Call and examine a large assortment of TIN WARE, of every variety, which I will sell cheap for cash or old Copper, wholesale or Any article in my line made to order at short notice.

H. LINDSEY. Asheville, March 20, 1856 .- tt

LARGE stock of fashionable READY MADE CLOTHING, just received, and for sale, by RANKIN & CHAPMAN.

ITILBOR'S Cod Liver Oil and Phosphate VV of Lime, for sale at

VOL. 10-No. 7.]

them at Publishers prices, mor., $7; half calf extra, $8.

$7: library leather, $8.

July 15, 1858.

THE undersigned being the sole agent for the sale of the following valuable books, has the pleasure to offer the citizens of Wes tern North Carolina, an opportunity to secure

AMERICAN ELOQUENCE:- A collection of Speeches and Addresses, Forensic and Parliamentary, by the Most Emineut Orators of America, with Biographical Sketches, Illustrative notes, and an Analytical Index. By FRANK

MOORE. 2 Vols. Royal 8vo. Embellished with 14 Fine Portraits, on Steel, of Famous

American Orators. Price for the two Volumes in cloth, $5; Library style, $6; half

PENTON'S ABRIDGMENT OF THE DEBATES

IN CONGRESS .- To be completed in 15 vols.

royal octavo. Price, $3 00; a vol., cloth; $3 50

THE NEW AMERICAN CYCLOPADIA. -Edi

ted by Geo. Ripley and Chas. A. Dana. To be completed in 15 volumes, royal octavo .-

$3 00 per volume, in cloth: $3 50 library

leather; $4 00 half morocco; $4 50 half Rus-

BURTON'S CYCLOPÆDIA OF WIT AND

HUMOR. - Now complete in 2 very large vols.

Illustrated with more than 500 cuts expressly designed to illustrate the text, also 24 portraits of distinguished humorists. Price, in cloth,

BENTON'S THIRTY YEARS' VIEW .- Complete in 2 vols., octavo. Price, per vol., $2 cloth; $3 00 library, leather. Either vol. sold

TERMS.—Cash on delivery of the vols. as

Call and examine specimen copies at the Brick Corner immediately opposite the Court

A HOMESTEAD FOR $10.

10,000 FARMS AND BUILDING

other portions of Virginia, are to be divided among 10,000 subscribers, for the benefit of

RAPPAHANNOCK,

North, now selling at from $100 to $500 per acre. It can be done in four or five years .-

The soil is just as good quality and the ad vantages greater. Already lots in Rappahannock sold at $10 have been re-sold at from $30 to $400 cash. Where in the Union can wealth be made faster? Let all buy a lot or a farm whilst it can be got cheap, or

Or to Dr. Jno. S. Livingston, Shufordsville, N.

CATTLE MARKET.

Market and Public Scales, at the now ready for weighing, sale, and accommodation of a I parties bringing Cattle to this market

ASHEVILLE

THE undersigned take pleasure in informing country, that they have formed a partnership, it the south end of Asheville, for the purpose of carrying on the Carriage and Buggy making bu-

Those who have jobs they want repainted and trimmed would do well to call. All work done at short notice. They flatter themselves that their work cannot be surpassed in Western Carolina. Repairing neatly done at short notice, and

AGENTS in every town and county in the Union. Business easy and honorable. Salary from $50 to $75 per month. Address, with stamp

LAND FOR SALE.

The Tract contains 78 acres, more or less; some 60 acres of it is improved land, in a fine state of cultivation. Of the above Tract about 50 acres of it is Bottom Land unsurpassed by the best land in Western Carolina.

I will also sett some Timbered Lands near by,

Said lands will be sold on accommodating terms for ready money; or, if three-fourths of the pur chase money is paid, a credit of 12 months will Further information can be had by seeing the undersigned, on the premises, or by addressing

Ice Soda Water.

ALL who wish a cool, wholesome and delicions beverage, will find it opposite Gudger's Hotel, at

A FINE Lot of Havana Segars just receiv.

McGREGOR & TRIPLETT,

South end of Asheville.

Immediately!

OSMENT & JOHNSON,

a Tract of L A N D , situated in Jackson cennty, N. C. 7 miles above

Box 210, Cieveland, Tenn.

DAVID ROGERS.

W. H. JACKSON & CO'S.

W. H. JACKSON & CO.

siness in all its branches. They have in their employment a practical Painter and Trimmer.

C., who will ride 50 miles to wait on custo-

E. BAUDER, Port Royal, Va.

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby

iven that the Charleston Cattle

ROBERT MACBETH.

Chief Clerk of Markets.

SHOP.

particulars, Agencies, &c., apply to

July 15, 1858-3m.

lie Weigher. By order.

July 15, 1858, eow3m

July 15, 1858

Wanted

July 8, 4858. 3m4

be given for the remainder.

him at Webster, N.C.

July 1, 1858. 6w

ed and for sale by August 3, 1858.

CARRIAGE

Lots in the Gold Region and law sheep: $4 00 hf. mor.; $4 50 hf. calf.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., THURSDAY, AUGUST 26, 1858.

The Electric Telegraph.

Hark, the warning needles click; Hither, thither, clear and quick, Swinging lightly to and fro, Tidings from afar they show; While the patient watcher reads; As the rapid movement leads, He who guides their speaking play Stands a thousand miles away.

Eloquent, though all unheard, Swiftly speeds the secret word; Light or dark, or foul or fair, Still a message prompt to bear. None can read It on the way, None its unseen transit stay; Now it comes in sentence brief, Now it tells of loss and grief; Now of sorrow, new of mirth, Now a wedding, now a birth; Now of cunning, now of crime, Now of trade in wane or prime; Now of safe or sunken ships, Now the murderer outstrips; Now it warns of failing breath, Strikes or stays the stroke of death. Speak the word and think the thought,

Quick 'tis as with lightning caught; Over, under lands or seas, To the far antipodes; Now o'er cities thronged with men, Forest now, or lonely glen; Now where busy commerce broods, Now in wildest solitudes; Now where Christian temples stand, Now afar in Pagan land; Here again as soon as gone, Making all the earth as one; Seems it not a feat sublime, Intellect hath conquered Time?

THE BOY PATRIOT.

BY GEO. A. TOWNSEND.

History is filled with the deeds of the men of the Revolution, nor are the patriot women situated in Culpepper county. Subscribers forgotten in the burning words of the anal only $10 each, one half down, the rest on delivery of the Deed. Every subscriber will get a building lot or a farm, ranging in value tells of the patriotism of the boys of that ere the quick ear of Wilson detected a noise. from $10 up to $30,000. The object is to build up the town, manufactures and trade, by encouraging men of limited means to come in and grow with the place and thus raise the value of the land to that at the of noble patriotism and dauntless spiritboys who would not become traitors, though the rack and the gibbet confronted them; boys who toiled with an endurance and bold ness unequalled in the annals of a nation, for the independence of the "Old Thirteen;" and had they now a just desert, the brightest star come and settle and get one GRATIS. For full in America's constellation, and the widest stripe in her broad canvass would be dedicated to the "Boys of '76."

year 1777. Philadelphia was in the hands of Howe and his inhuman soldiery, while the field of Brandywine gave the American people a specimen of British humanity. The inhabitants of Pennsylvania and Delaware were at the mercy of their foes. Bands of Farm of the Agricultural Society of South Car-olina junction of Meeting & King Streets, are Hessian dragoous scoured the vicinity of Philadelphia for miles around, and committed acts which would disgrace a Vandal. Jos F. O'Hear, Esq. has been appointed Pub-

On the evening of a delightful autumn day, a group of boys ranging in age from twelve to seventeen years, were gathered together on the steps of a tenantless storehouse in the little village of Newark, Delaware. The town seemed lonely, and, with the exception of the the citizens of Asheville, and the surrounding vouthful band already referred to, not a human being met the eye. All the men capa ble of bearing arms had left their homes to join the army of Washington on the banks of the Schuylkill. A youth of sixteen years, mounted on a barrel, was giving an account of the disastrous battle of Brandywine. Jas. prices as low as the times will permit, and cash | Wilson, the narrator, was a bold boy, enthusiastic in his love for the American cause, and possessed of no little intelligence. bright blue eye and flaxen hair gave him an effeminate appearance, but beneath that plain home spun jacket throbbed a heart which never quailed in danger, nor shrunk before any obstacle. His father was the commander of the Delaware regular troops, and his mother was dead. The boy concluded his narration, and was deeply lamenting that he THE undersigned offers for sale could not join the army.

"I am not old enough," said he; "but had Webster, on the waters of Cullowhee I a musket, I would not stand idly here, with my hands hanging useless by my side."

"Are there no guns of any description in the village?" asked a listening youth.

"None. I have spent nearly a week trying to find one, but my efforts have been of no avail. I strongly suspect that that old Tory, Livingston, has several in his house, but as he permits no one to trespass on his land, I am unable to say positively."

"Why not take a party and search his dwelling?" asked Frank Howard; "he has no one there to assist him, except his cowardly son George, and I can thrash him as easy trounce old Livingston's son.

me, I will search old Livingston's house this for assistance, and a stout cord fastened to his boy heroes.

forward three paces.".

moment's hesitation, stepped forward.

by the dead of Bunker Hill, I will search clay creek. old Livingston's residence, though death stands in my path."

With a firm tread, and in the utmost si lence, the young heroes took up their march for old Squire Livingston's.

Livingston had long been suspected of har boring British spies, and some of his former laborers had reported that he kept up a regular correspondence with the British commander. At all events, he was generally regarded by the genuine whigs as a dangerous man, and, therefore, avoided. His house was situated a short distance from Whiteelay Creek, on the side of a steep hill, surrounded on all sides by tall trees. It was just such a place as one might suppose suitable for the plotting of treason.

At the time James Wilson and his littl band left the deserted storehouse in the village of Newark, dusk had given place to the darker shades of night; still, it was not dark. The new moon was shining brightly in the clouds, and every object was perfectly distin guishable. The boys walked firmly forward. maintaining a solemn silence. At length they gained the bank of the creek, and, slowly following the winding path, soon came in sight of the object of their destination. As they came to a little log bridge which crossed a shallow rivulet leading into the Whiteclay, James Wilson ordered them to halt.

"Let Frank Howard and myself reconnoi-A Revolutionary Adventure. tre the premises first, to see whether any danger may be apprehended. All the rest stand here until we return. Make no noise, and keep a constant watch."

James and Frank silently departed, and were soon lost to the eye in the thick woods through which the path ran. Scarcely had ists of "76;" but where is the historian who they gone from the view of their companions gloomy period? Who writes their biogra- "Hist!" said he to Frank, as he pulled him behind a gigantic beech tree. The noise soon There were boys in the Revolution-boys resolved itself into a human footfall, and in another moment George Livingston, the Tory's son, stood opposite the tree. James Wilson darted from his covert, and tightly gripped the boy by the neck. The cowardly youth trembled like a reed.

"Speak one word," whispered his captor, "and I'll toss you into the creek !"

The Tory's son was struck dumb with fright, and before he had recovered from his stupor, found himself in the midst of the whole group Let us relate an instance. It was in the of boy heroes, with the vice like grip of James and Frank on either arm.

"Now," said James, "answer me promptly and truly, or I'll make your position uncomfortable. Do you hear?"

"Yes," gasped the affrighted youth. "Who are in your father's house at this

"I-I-cannot tell," stammered the half dead boy.

"You shall tell, or-"

"Spare me, and I will disclose everything When I left the house there was no one there but our own family and-Major Bard-

"Who is he?" asked James. "I don't know-I don't indeed!" "Tell!" threatened Frank.

"He is the captain of the Yorkshire drag-

The blue eyes of James glistened with joy, and he soon gained from the Tory's son a revelation which stamped his father as a traitor of the most appalling character. He discovered that old Livingston not only kept up a correspondence with the British com mander, but that he had so plotted in his traitorous designs that the little village of Newark was to be burned to ashes, and its women and children left exposed to the mercy of their pitiless foes. The old Tory was to receive as his reward the land whereon the village stood, and an annual pension from the English government.

But stranger than all, the plot was to be consumated that very night, and the Tory's son had been captured while he was going on an errand to a Tory neighbor, about two miles distant. The little band of heroes learned, too, that the British troops had secured their horses in Livingston's stable, and intended to descend the creek in a large boat. There were twenty of them, besides their captain. Major Bradstone, the leader of the band, was in temper and heart a thorough demon, and scrupled not in his cruelty to destroy the slumbering infant or the sickly wife. Not a few in the youthful band of patriots trembled for the safety of a widowed mother or a defenceless sister. Some were as that;" and the boy snapped his fingers to for departing immediately, but James Wilson, imply the readiness with which he could still retaining his grasp on the Tory's son, or dered all to be silent. The prisoner was tied James Wilson's eyes sparkled with joy .- hand and foot, a thick handkerchief bound "If any three boys in this company will help over his mouth to prevent him from calling

WHOLE No. 475. night. All who are willing to go, just step breast and wound about a tree. All hope force. of escape forsook George Livingston. Wilson > rative which we have just heard is true; and, as we have no muskets or ammunition, we ties superior to man's, being deficient in reamust make the best of the occasion. The soning powers, has no knowledge of right or British band will pass this spot in their boat, wrong, of free will and independent governand as we have an hour to work, let us busy ment, and knows not of any imposition pracourselves in rolling some of these large rocks ticed upon him, however unreasonable these to the edge of this precipice, and when the impositions may be. Consequently, he cannot red coats pass below let us sink them to the come to any decision as to what he should or

Each boy set immediately to work, and in an incredibly short space of time nine huge rocks, each of half a ton weight, were nicely balanced upon the edge of the giant precipice. The creek at this point was not overhung by a mass of rock on which our the creek, they would certainly pass this spot; and, if they passed it, then death was their certain fate. In about an hour the quick ear of Wilson detected the measured beat of silvery radiance.

"They are coming," he whispered; "let no one drop his rock until I give the word, and then all at once."

hearts of the boy patriots beat wildly in the only organ by which he can touch or feel their bosoms. Peering cautiously over the anything with much susceptibility. cliff, James Wilson saw the Tory boat slowly | We know, from experience, that if a horse but surely approaching. An officer stood in the bows, guiding the oarsmen by his orders, he is very much frightened (unless he is used and the epaulets on his shoulders told that to it) until he touches or feels it with his it was the identical fiend Major Bardstone.

"Don't drop till I give the order," again is the controlling sense in this case. whispered Wilson.

When the boat was about twelve feet from his stone defence, and shouted, "Who goes and gazed with amazement above them .doomed words !

"Cut loose in the name of liberty!"

a grave at the bottom of the Whiteclay. A cry of victory burst from the joyous lips of used: the youthful patriots, and it was echoed along the old creek in solemn grandeur.

efforts to free himself, George Livingston had the unbroken horse. been caught by the fatal cord and choked to death! There was no time for repining; the any horse, we must first have him fear us for traitor and son had met their deserved doom, our motto is "fear, love, and obey;" and we and there was no one to mourn their loss.

ever!" said James Wilson. been overrun by predatory parties of British soldiers. James Wilson and Frank Howard his shoulder, and stop a few seconds. If you both joined the army of Green, and served are in his reach he will turn his head and with distinction in the Southern compaigns. smell your hand; not that he has any prefer-Frank fell in the memorable battle of Eutaw ence for your hand, but because that is pro-Springs, bewailed by all who knew him .- jecting and is the nearest portion of your James Wilson lost his leg at the seige of York body to the horse. This all colts will do. town, and retired to his native village, but and they will smell your naked hand just as mortification ensued, and he expired with the quickly as they will anything that you can ever to be remembered words on his lips: "Cut put in it, and with just as good an effect. loose, in the name of Liberty !"

The village of Newark still stands, and has doctrine of taming horses by giving them the become a town of some celebrity. The scene scent of articles from the hand. As soon as of the defeat of the British by the band of he touches his nose to your hand earess him, boy patriots is still pointed out; and it is a lalways using a very light, soft hand, merely sacred spot in the annals of Newark.

Such, reader, were the acts of the boys of "76." and though they have no monutaental pile to preserve their memories, they live in legends, song and verse, where they will exist the deeds of American youths, and they recount the noble achievements of our

Rarey's Great Horse Taming

First. That he (the horse) is so constituted by nature that he will not offer resistance to any demand made of him which he fully comprehends, if made in a way consistent with he laws of nature.

Second. That he has no consciousness of his strength, beyond his experience, and canbe handled according to our will, without

Third. That he can, in compliance with Every boy in that little crowd, without a motioned his little band to follow him, and the laws of his nature, by which he examines in a few moments they stood on the summit all things new to him, take any object, how-The boy's eyes flashed like stars. "Now, of a high precipice which over hung White ever frightful around, over or on him, that does not inflict pain, without causing him to "Now boys," said James Wilson, "the par- fear,

The horse, though possessed of some faculnot do, because he has not the reasoning faculties of man to argue the justice of a thing demanded of him. If he had taken into consideration his superior strength, he would be useless to man as a servant,

Every one that has ever paid any attention more than twenty feet wide, and was directly to the horse has noticed his natural inclination to smell everything which to him looks new heroes stood. If the British band descended and frightful. This is his strange mode of examining everything. And when he is frightened at anything though he looks at it sharply, he seems to have no confidence in this optical examination alone, but must touch it with his nose before he is entirely satisfied; and as soon as this is done, all is right

We might very naturally suppose, that from the fact of the horse's applying his nose to It was a beautiful night to wreak a work everything new to him, that he always does of death. The heavens were spangled with so for the purpose of smelling these objects. innumerable stars, and every object on which But I believe that it is as much or more for the moonbeams played sparkled with a the purpose of feeling, and for that he makes use of his nose or muzzle (as it is sometimes Closer came the doomed royalists, and the called) as we would our hands; because it is sees or smells a robe a short distance from him. nose; which is positive proof that feeling

It is a prevailing opinion among horsemen generally that the sense of smell is the govthe rock, the boy leader fell securely behind erning sense of the horse; and Foucher, as well as others, has with that view, got up receipts of strong smelling oils, &c., to tame In a moment the carsmen ceased rowing, the horse, sometimes using the chestnut of his legs, which they dry, grind into powder, The impetus which the boat had acquired and blow into his nostrils, sometimes using caused it to drift slowly beneath the rock, the oil of rhodium, origanium, &c., that are and just as it was fairly below, forth came the noted for their strong smell; and sometimes they scent the hand with the sweat from under the arm, or sometimes blow their Each boy pushed his rock at the instant, breath into his nostrils, &c., all of which, as and, with one impulse, the gigantic far as the scent goes, have no effect whatever stones fell. A loud shriek from the dark in gentling the horse, or conveying any idea waters told how well the plan had succeeded, to his mind; though the acts that accompany and when the exultant boys again looked these efforts-handling him, touching him over the rock, nothing was seen but a few about the head, and patting him, as they pieces of floating wood. The boat had been direct you should, after administering the burst to pieces, and the occupants had found articles, may have a great effect, which they mistake to be the effects of the ingendients

Now reader, can you or any one else give one single reason bow scent can convey any "Now for our prisoner!" cried Frank idea to the horse's mind of what we want Howard, bounding ahead, but what was the him to do? If not, then of course strong astonishment of the boys to find that, in scents of any kind are of no avail in taming

In order to obtain perfect obedience from must have the fulfilment in the first two be-"Such be the end of America's foes for- fore we can expect the latter. When you have entered the stable, stand still, and let Old Livingston's house was searched, and your horse look at you a minute or two, and, to the surprise of every one, not merely guns, as soon as he is settled in one place, approach but three brass field pieces, several barrels him slowly with both arms stationary, your of powder, and an abundance of balls, etc., right hanging by your side and the left bent were found concealed in the Tory's cellar .- at the elbow, with your hand projecting. As The military stores found here were given you approach him go not too much near his over to the American troops, and found a head or crop, so as not to make him move jovial welcome at their head quarters. Had either forward or backward, thus keeping not the British party been so signally defeat- your horse stationary; if he does not move a ed along the banks of the Whiteclay, the little either forward or bankward, step a little town of Newark, and the whole northern to the right or left very cautiously. This part of the State of Delaware would have will keep him in one place.

As you get very near him draw a little to however much some men have preached the touching the horse, always rubbing the way the hair lies, so that your hand will pass along as smoothly as possible.

As you stand by his side you may find it when history has been swept into obscurity. more convenient to rub his neck or the side Let our literary men redeem from darkness of his head, which will answer the same por pose as rubbing his forehead. Favor every revolutionary patriots, let them not forget the inclination of the horse to smell or touch you with his pose. Always follow each touch or