It is reported her and almost universal-ly believed, that fire full companies, attached to one of the Vankee regiments which participated a se battle at Manassas last Sunday, surrendered to Gen. Beauregard on Fricay last. Those men. it seems, in their has and fright, missed the road to Arlington, and became lost in the Virginia forest near the Blue Ridge, o stated, that a house in the vicinity o Fairfax Court-house, which was by our troops, was surrounded susper last last friday, and found to contain sixteen Yankee officers, who were not quite active enough in their movements last Sunday, and took retuge in this building. They were all bagged, of course, and will be secsrely held. until it is a scertained what disposition is to be made of the crewof the privateer Savannah.

The Cotonels and Lieut, Colonels captur ed in the Kanawha Valley by Gen. Wise's men, also the traitor Roberts, a member of the Wheeling Convention, have all reached here, and are now in durance vile.

Mayor Mayo, who went up to Manassas last Tuesday, has returned. He brings with him a few of the hand cuffs which the scoundrels intended to have put upon the wrists of Southern freemen. God grant that these shackles may manacle the limbs of Scott and Lincoln before they are many days older

It is now ascertained that our dead will not' exceed 200, and our wounded 300, Many of the latter are but slightly injured, and will soon be out gain.

It is said that over 650 baggage, ammunition and traveling wagons have fallen into our hands. Also nearly 70 cannon, thousands and thousands of rifles, muskets and revolvers, and canteens, haversacks, knapsacks, shoes, caps, overcoats and blankets, without number. Our victory with out precedent.

Wm. F. Ritchie, Fsq., formerly of the Richmond Enquirer, has just returned from Paris, whither he has been for some time past on a visit. He says the cause of the Southern Confederacy is looking up in France, and he does not now entertain a doubt about our ultimate recognition. Mr. Ritchie first heard of our great victory in Louisville, Ky., where the Southern Rights people were perfectly frantic with delight. and Prentiss and other Lincolnites so dejected, that they could not look a patriot in the face.

Mount VESUVIUS .- Professor Palmieri the resident director of the Royal Meteora ological servantory on Mount Vesuvius writes to the Athenæum, London:

We do not find in the history of Vesus vius so long a period of continued eruption as that of these late years. Since December 19, 1855, up to the present time there has been a series of little continued eruptions of greater or less duration with various phases. That which most attracted public attention was undoubtedly the opening of the cone in seven clefts, toward the end of May, 1858, with a great emission of lava, which devastated much fertile land, filled up the famous precipitous valley called "Fusso Grande," and destroyed fully a half of the carrigeable road which led to the observatory, The greater part of this lava is this day dissolved by mutual consent. Henry issued from the base of the cone, almost without interruption, from the end of May. 1858, to the begining of April, 1861, that is to say, for little less than three years, which is a perfectly new fact in the history of our Professor Palmieri adds in a postcript; Just as I had finished writing the above statement, the guide of Vesuvius made his appearance with the following report, dated May 5: 'There shall craters have been form ed this morning, which make a great noise, but each different. One sounds like a steamer, and throws stones into the air: another throws large massess out; and the third, without ejecting matter, makes a noise like the report of a cannon.
