ANOTHER ARRIVAL OF PRISONERS OF WAR.—Saturday afternoon there arrived, by the Charleston train a portion of the Montgomery Guards, prisoners of war, taken at Fort Pulaski, several non-commissioned officers of the German Volunteers, also of the Fort Pulaski garrison, together with Capt. Walter W. Smith, of the C. S. private armed vessel Jeff Davis, and Edward Routh, one of the crew.

Capt. Smith has furnished us with the following particulars of his capture, &c., &c.

On the 22d of July, 1862, the U. S. war steamer Albatross fell in with and captured, 25 miles south of Hatteras, the sealer, Enchantress, prize vessel, Capt. Smith, prize master. He was taken on board the Albatross, placed in double irons, and thrown alongside of the boiler of the steamer, there to live, if possible, or die.

He was kept in this place until the 24th day of August, and then confined in Moyamensing prison, in a felon's cell, until the 3d of February, 1862, when he was removed to Fort Lafayette, and on the 3d of May to City Point, Va., to be exchanged for Col. Cochrane. The exchange, as will be recollected, was not effected, as the government would not accept the Yankee terms. Capt. Smith was then remanded to Fort Lafayette, where he was ordered to sweep and keep clean the fort, which he refused to do. He was then, as were all other prisoners of war who refused to work, placed in irons, and there kept for three weeks, when he was removed to Fort Delaware to be exchanged.

Captain Smith was tried and convicted of piracy in Philadelphia.

The company colors of the Montgomery Guards, made by the Sisters of Mercy at the Academy of St. Vincent of Paul, in this city, was saved from the hands of the enemy and brought home with them in good order.

Thomas Waters died in Fort Pulaski.

An interesting incident is related to us by one of the prisoners: An attempt was made by the Yankee officers at Fort Columbus to make them work. They first took private L. Frendenthal, of the German Volunteers, and commanded him to take hold; Frendenthal protested, and said he was willing to work for the Southern Confederacy, to which he owed his allegiance, but as a prisoner of war his enemies could not make him work. The Captain thereupon drew his revolver from his case, placed its muzzle on Frendenthal's forehead and said choose between working and having his brains blown out. Frendenthal jumped aside and told him, opening his shirt in front, don't shoot me like a coward; here is my breast if you want to shoot. The Captain backed down but had F. put in irons for two days, after which the matter ended and no more attempts were made to make them work at Governor's Island, New York.

Savannah Republican, August 11.

A BOLD PRETENSE FROM MARYLAND.—The Annapolis (Md.) Gazette, heretofore the organ of the Administration party in the Sixth Congressional District, speaking of the late pronouncements of President Lincoln to the Border States Congressmen, delivers itself as follows:

But the most singular feature of the address is a vague and timid allusion to the Abolition pressure brought to bear upon the President, and his evident conviction that the destruction of slavery in the Border States would be a sufficient step to the Abolition of Slavery. Give the dogs that bone and they will readily furnish men to push further South, doubtless in the hope of freeing more negroes. Conversely, we suppose, if they do not get what they demand, no more means will be furnished for the prosecution of the war.

This is our interpretation of the President's meaning. If it be correct, we would like to know if such a humiliating speech has ever before come from the White House? And is it not an absolute and positive declaration that the war is for the negro, and not for the restoration of the Union; that the President is opposed to such a policy, but is obliged to adopt it? We can read the seeming riddle in no other way. And, if our reading be correct, we have no hesitation in expressing the hope that the days of Republic are numbered. We wish to hear of no more slaughtered thousands as an offering to the Moloch of a petty and contemptible fanaticism. We wish no longer to hear vain boasting of the strength of our institutions. Let them perish, and let the very ruins be a perpetual proof that men are little better than beasts.

Our language may be deemed too strong; but we have expressed our convictions in the premises. And because these convictions are none the less firm because of the fact that we uncompromisingly advocate emancipation in Maryland. We advocate it because we believe it will be of immense advantage to our State. But we are not prepared to do that or any other act at the nod of crazy fanatics, who profess to prefer the destruction of the country to the existence of slavery.

CONFEDERATE PRISONERS AT SANDUSKY, OHIO.—A gentleman just arrived from the depot of the prisoners of war, near Sandusky, Ohio, were the Yankees held some 1,000 of our men in captivity, report them

BY TELEGRAPH.

From Washington.

MOBILE, Aug. 13.—

From New York we learn that important army movements are anticipated at Washington. No one is allowed to pass McClellan's lines. Large numbers of negroes are being stolen by Pope's army near Standardville, Va. Eleven Political arrests have been made at Fairfax Court House, under Pope's late orders. The New York Commercial states that an important secret expedition, consisting of one steamer with picked men, had left a Federal Port and would soon be heard of. Curtis and Commander Davis were at Cairo on the 6th inst. Burnside's army arrived at his Headquarters, where they are to commence operations. It is announced that the Federal Government has contracted for another iron clad Monitor, which would cost $1,500,000.

From Nashville.

MOBILE, Aug. 13.—

A special dispatch to the Advertiser & Register, dated Knoxville, Aug. 13th, says a passenger from Nashville, via Huntsville and Stevenson, reports that the roads are lined with Federal troops and that all the bridges are strongly guarded. Our Guerrillas are a constant source of annoyance to them. The train from Stevenson to Huntsville had been fired into and three Yankees were killed. On Wednesday last Col. McCook, brother of the late General, enroute for Decatur, in an Ambulance, attended by a body-guard, was attacked by our Guerrillas and killed. Everything outside of Huntsville presents a scene of desolation. Houses have been destroyed after being sacked, and fields laid waste. Gen. Buell and Poeschl have 30,000 men in the vicinity of Huntsville. Five hundred negroes are entrenching on the north side of Huntsville and 400 negroes with a large force of soldiers are fortifying Stevenson. The Yankees have rebuilt the Bridges recently destroyed and removed the broken track on the Rail Road from Nashville to Huntsville and Brigeport.

From St. Louis, Mo.

MOBILE, Aug. 13.—

A special Dispatch received at the office of the Tribune, Granada, from the St. Louis Republican, dated the 7th inst., says:

The Guerrillas continue a vigorous warfare in Missouri; they are crossing to the North side of Missouri River. On the 4th inst they attacked and dispersed a body of Federal Troops at Taylorville.

Col. Poindexter is reported to be near Hudson with 1,200 Partizans, threatening to capture that place.

A Dispatch from Shelburne reports Porter with 21,000 men encamped near Newark. He had bagged two companies of Militia there, after a slight reconnaissance, with a large number of Horses, Guns and considerable amount of ammunition. Up to the 5th inst., 22,000 men were paroled in the State.
