From Tennessee, &c. A correspond nt of the Mobile Advertiser writing from Tennessee, says that the "Federals on their foraging expeditions take away everything that they can carry, and then destroy the balance. They admit that they can never conquer us by force of arms, and have now determined, as a last resort, on the Satanic policy of spreading ruin in their pathway, and by devasting and wasting our fields and stores. bring us to terms of submission by means of starvation."

In Tennessee, the Federals frequently give us warm work in front of our picket lines, in their foraging expeditions, and lately their visits have been more frequent and bold than usual. Their forage trains are always attended by a large force of infantry, artillery and cavalry; but notwithstanding our great discrepancy in numbers, we often drive them back without their accomplishing their plundering purposes; and sometimes our dashes upon them have been so sudden and irresistable that, although largely superior to us in force, they have been compelled to cut loose their teams and leave their wagons to our undisputed possession.

Very recently a foraging party of the Federals, escorted by a command of cavalry, visited the premises of Mr. Anthony, in Williamson county. The Colonel, Maor and other officers entered the house and indulged in the usual freedom and license. At the same time they encouraged a number of negro teamsters to commit the most infamous outrages upon the daughters of Mr. Anthony. Their mother be sought the protection of the officers, but these brutal men only cursed her, saying that they understood that the husbands of her daughters were in the Confederate service, and they were being served properly thus to be outraged by a race they had enslaved. We have no comment to make upon this. It is a saddening, sick. ening picture of the condition to which society is reduced wherever the vandals of the North pollute our soil. But it is, only the execution of the threat which Gen. Rosencrantz made three months ago when he assumed command of the army of the Cumberland. He then threatened to devastate the country with fire and sword, and his underlings are faithfully executing his barbarous order. God help every section of our struggling and bleeding country that may be subject to these worse than savages; and God grant that our mothers and daughters may soon be relieved from the contaminating presence of these demons in human shape.

Resignation of Col. C. Jones

The 12th Regiment of South Carolina Volunteers was organized in August 1861 by the election of R G. M. Dunovant, of Edgefield, as Colonel; Dixon Barnes, of Lancaster, Lieutenant Colonel; Cad. Jones, of York, Major, Colonel Dunovant resigned a short time after, when the command devolved on Colonel Barnes, who was wounded in the battle of Sharpsburg, Maryland, from the effects of which he died shortly after. The Regiment was men communicated array Colonel Jones, with Captian McCorkie, of York, as Lieutenant Colones, and Captain Miller, also of York, as Major. Lieutenam Colonel McCorkle resigned, owing to ill health, a short time ance, and now we learn the resignation of Colonel Jones, from the same cause, leave ing Major Miller, as senior officer, in command .- Southern Guardian.

theor the Ban. - Between eight and nine o clock last evening very heavy firing was heard out at sea. Some twenty-five or thirty heavy guas were discharged. A telegraphic dispacth from Fort Sumter stated that the blockaders were firing off Maffit Channel, on what was supposed to be a vesse, endeavoring to run in through the blockade. At a late hour last night we were informed that a Steamer had run in, and anchored safety inside, which, no doubt, was the cause of the firing noticed above. - Charleston Courier of yesterday.

Yesterday morning early the steamer Culspso was at ner whari in Charleston making lour steamers which have arrived at that por from Nassau since Sunday last, with valuable cargoes of merchansuise. Notwinstanding the blockade our sister city is at present in the enjoyment of a larger direct loreign trade than she ever had before. INCIDENT AT THE BATTLE OF MURFRES-BORO'. -An esteemed Iriend has handed us the following letter relating an incident in this battle not yet published, which we cheerfully put in print : "During the fighting on Wednesday evening, our sharpshooters were compelled to tall back, when one Sergeaut Murphy coming along the bank of Stone's river, accidentally came upon a Yankee Lieutenant Colonel and y tour men. Quick as thought, he brought ins gun to his shoulder and demanded the surrender of the party. The Lieutenant Colonel here upon ordered his men to fire apon the rebei; but unfortunately for them. their guns had been discharged. The Colonel then drew his sabre, flashing it over his head said he would never surrender to a rebel, which words were no sooner said than the sharp crack of the rebel rifle caused the Yankee Colonel to lie lifeless at his feet. The Sergeant then drew his revolver and march the four men into camp. This man has been recommended to the War Department for promotion, to which he is well deserving .- Natches

CHARLOTTE.

Monday Morning, March 23, '63.

A Printer Wanted. A first class Printer (Compositor,) will find employment, permanently, on application at this office.

Later from Texas. We have before us files of the Houston

Texas) News to the 11th ult. The News publishes part of an extra from the Houston Telegraph in regard to Missouri affairs, which will be new to our eaders. The Telegraph says that the Missouri militia, under Gen. Harney, have ebelled against the Lincoln authority, reained the arms put into their hands by the Abolitionists and seized upon every town of importance on the Missouri river, together with a vast amount of supplies, arms and ammunition. The writer says:

Upon the reception of this important news by Gen. Hindman, at Louisburg, he dispatched immediately Generals Marmaduke and Shelby, with 10,000 cavalry and nfantry to their relief, until his main force could be brought up. It was also said that Gen. Hindman himself has gone into Missouri to confer with Harney and perfect heir combinations. God grant it may all be true-or even one half of it.

> Lo! the Poor Soldier. Upon the bloody battle-field When drooped the setting sun,

When the foe was fleeing wildly And the battle fought and won; A young and gallant soldier Lying there amidst the slain, Poured out his young life's current, On Virginia's classic plain.

'I am dying, comrade, dying Far from friends and home away Oh! then hearken, comrade, hearken To the words I have to say : I have a mother, comrade, Would to God that she were near

To bathe my burning temples And to hear my dying prayer ! But alone, alone I'm dying, And my spirit soon will flee, And that angel-hearted mother

I shall never, never see! And my black-eyed darling sister, Oh! she loved me, loved me so-But the chill of death is on me, I shall see her never more!

Such has been the glorious death of many a true son of the South, since the inauguration of the bloody Lincoln-the execrable wretch who riots amid the wails and sufferings of a bleeding people. We had hoped in the beginning, that there would have been found enough of human sympathy in the bosom of every one, to have softened and assuaged the sorrows and griefs of the mothers and wives and sisters at least, of the noble men who might tall in this terrible strife. But, in blush. ing shame for some of our species, our hearts have grown sick at the recital of some instances of brutal insensibility toward the relatives of the noble dead, and shameless indignity toward their poor

A traveler informs us that an unfortunate grief-stricken mother or wife, who had gone to Virginia to recover the remains of her soldier-husband or son, after having exhausted, nearly, her little stock of funds in getting to a certain point in North Carolina, on her return, was refused further transportation for her sad charge, because of the reduced condition of her purse, she offering all she had! And that in almost every instance of shipping and re-shipping upon the trains, the poor friends of the dead are subjected to the most villianous impositions by the common hands belong. ing to the roads. We hope it is not so.

We crust it will not be our ungrateful duty to refer to this painful subject again but if we are forced to, we shall take especial pains to be more particular, and to hold up to the indignation and loathing of outraged humanity, the guilty parties.

Read the lines we have quoted above, and if they don't move your heart in this connection, you are inhuman, and the dwill some day roast you as a cook does gobbler, and as he should do.

THE YANKEE PRISONERS .- Some twelve aundred of the blue bellies, captured by Van Dorn, reached Knoxville. Tennessee. on Saturday 14th instant, most of whom were sent on in the afternoon to Virginia, Another batch was expected next day .-Parties who visited them say that the Indianians mostly expressed themselves determined to fight no more for "the nigger," while the Wisconsin men were particularly fierce in their devotion to "the government." They were a pretty hard looking set generally, and complained greatly that Bragg had taken their overcoats from them. Jur men who were captured in Kentucky were stripped of overcoats, blankets, and everything but enough to barely hide their nakedness, besides being robbed of their money and starved on their route to Baltimore. If General Bragg deprived them of their overcoats, it was a mild retaliation.

----"The Copperhead party" is the elegant appellation given by the Abolitionists to all opposed to the usurpation of Abe Lincoln. For instance, Clement L. Valandigham is stigmatised by Harper's Weekly as the chief of copperheads. The peace Democrats are caricatured under the semblance or copperhead snakes with human heads and Quaker hats, making an attack on a lank-looking female, innocent of crinoline, supposed to represent Columbia, who holds out a shield marked "Union." To show the animus of Harper, we shall extract a short paragraph from an editorial article headed "Copperheadism." as

We shall not waste time in arguing skating on his lady's heart: with the copperheads. Men who are car pable of justifying the rebels and espousa ing their cause when the blood of some member of almost every Northern family reddens Southern soil, and the bones of Northern soldiers are worn as ornaments by Southern women, are not likely to be convinced by argument, or to be previous to anything short of a bayonet thrust.

This is rich, especially the style of female ornaments prevalent at the South. And yet this stuff will have its believers, says the Wilmington Journal, although, was not to take it, but to test the qualities of course, its writer is not to be classed among them.

Propositions for an Armistice

Fernando Wood. Under this heading the "Herald' publishes the following:

To the Editor of the Evening Post: At a meeting held at Stanford, Conn on Tuesday evening last, I said that propositions for an armistice, or peace, had been submitted to the President on the 12th of December last, which, had they been accepted, would have terminated this war by the 1st of April, upon a basis satsfactory to the people, North and South. In referring to this statement you ask :

"Who made these propositions for an rmistice or peace, the adoption of which Mr Wood pretends to believe 'would have settled the matter' by-all fool's day. If so, how does Mr, Wood know anything about them? Has he been in secret correspondence with the enemy? Or were they made by some of the anti-war men here? If so, who authorized them; and what are the terms of the propositions from which Mr Wood hopes so much ? Is they are honorable to the nation, if they are such as patriotic Americans ought to favor, why not make them public at

To which I say, in reply, that the state. ment referred to by me was made deliberately, with a full and personal knowledge of the facts, and that I am constrained from the publicity of them only by the request of one of the principal officers of the government. When this interdiction shall be withdrawn I will cheerfully gratify your curiosity.

> Very respectfully, FERNANDO WOOD.

March 11, 1863.

GALLANT FRAT-YANKEE CAPTORS CAP-TURED. - We are indebted to members of General Wood's Staff for an account of a very gallant feat performed last week, by James B. Irvine, a member of a Coahoma Mississippi, Company, and Thomas Kirkman, a volunteer Aid of General Law, both of Florence Alabama, and a Tennesseean, named Harris. Coming up to Florence from Mississippi, they were captured by four Yankees, and placed in charge of two of them Irvine's horse was taken and he was put on a mule. Kirkman seized an opportunity to propose to Irvine to capture their guard, but he replied "not yet." Afterwards, while passing through deep mud, Irvine offered the guard, riding by his side, a drink of liquor from his canteen. He accepted, and while dringing Irvine seized him with both hands and they tumbled into the mud together -Simultaneously, Irvine called to Kirkman 'Now's your time," and K seized the the other guard. Harris rushed to Irvine's aid, but he, being stout and athletic, said, "I can manage my man; help Tom" who is a much smaller man. Harris did so, and both Yankees were secured, with their horses, guns, revolvers and accoutrements, taken to Florence and lodged in jail. Hurran for our Confederate heroes Their deeds are romantic in their knightly gallantry .- Huntsville Confederate.

THE MERCEDITA .- The New York Here ald announces the arrival at Philadelphia of the screw steamer Mercedita, and gives the following account of her condition: The Mercedita requires repairs to her engine and hull caused by damages from collision with the ram Palmetto State, off Charleston. About thirty feet of her side will have to be taken out. At Port Royat she underwent such repairs as were necessary before bringing her North. Seven planks and too timbers were stove in by the ram's prow, making a hole hve feet vertically and three feet horizontally.

A shell of one hundred pound weight passed through the ship, cutting one man in two, and by going through the steam chimney three men were scalded to death. three others badly scalded, and a number slightly. It passed out the port side, destroying six planks and two timbers, making a clear hole three feet by two and a half feet, and shattering the planks eight or nine feet further. It exploded as it

RETALIATION AND HIGH PRICES .- It is said that, in retaliation for the order of Gen. Pemberton stopping supplies from being sent to Mobile by railroad from this State, Gen. Buckner has issued a similar order in regard to supplies from his department coming in this direction .-Hence we learn that flouradvacned in this city yesterday to $110 per barrel. Had not these military rulers of the people better make a treaty of amity and come merce, so that their subjects may be grant ed the privilege of buying provisions to eep themselves and the lamilies of the men who are in arms in the field from starving? Probably if the people would meet n council (while yet they have the privilege,) and "humbly petition" their miltary excellencies, something might be accomplish ed .- Jackson Mississippian.

DIVARSION .- A son of Erin, working in an establishment in this city, hearing that a company was being raised for service at Charleston, for and during the attack, asked leave of his employers to enrol his name; which was not acceded to, as his labor was more important to the government at home than in the army. Erin did not so view it, and replied: "Here I've been working for twenty months, and its d-d hard I can't have a little divarsion. [Columbia Guardian.

John Broughman's 1-Tread light, for my neart is under your feet, love," is more than equaled by a lover who thus goes

THE CHARLESTON MERCURY A POLITICAL, COMMERCIAL, AND LI TERARY

PROSPECTUS

REWSPAPER PUBLISHED DAILY AND TRI-WEEKLY HE MERCURY gives daily reports of the Market and Marine Intelligence in Charleston, and of Charleston commerce in the leading seaports of the world. The Weekly Prices Current is made up with much care, and from the most reliable sources. Its connection with the "Associated Press" insures the latest intelligence by Telegraph and the earliest news by Steamers from Europe. It has an able and accomplished Correspondent in London (a gentleman connected with the editorial staff of the London Times,) and regular Correspondents in New York, Washington. Key West and Havana. The monthly New York Fashion Letters and weekly letters on Lafe in Washington are additional attractions in favor of its lady readers. Its literary notices, from the pen of a gentleman who occupies perhaps the highest position among the literary men of the South, are discriminating and comprehensive .-Attention is paid to all matters of general concern, especially those in reference to the Planting and Agricultural interest, and to the current news of the day. Great care is taken that nothing shall appear in its columns which should be excluded from the family circle. The political creed of the MERGURY consists in the principles of the Democratic Party, as laid down in the Virginia and Kentucky Reso

1798 and 1799—the Sovereignty of the States; a strict construction of the Federal Constitution by the General Government, the agent of the States

Free Trade, and an economical Administration of the Government. Its policy is the Union of the Southern States in maintaining their rights. Terms-Payable in Advance, TRI-WEEKLY .....
