FROM MESSIESIFFI. - The Federals when they left Jackson, Miss., announced that they intended to occupy the city after Oct. lst. Tue Mississippian says that the reoccupation and holding of Jackson would require some twenty or thirty thousand of their soldiers. They will not be likely to take that number of men from their army when nothing is to be accomplished by it.

There are three prominent candidates in the field for the Gubernatorial chair for Mississippi: Gen. Charles Clark; Gen. A. M. West, and Hon. Reuben Davis.

THE RECOGNITION QUESTION -The Paris correstondent of the London Herald, writing under date of September 1st, states that the Independence Belge, confirms the news, which he was the first to announce, as to the recognition of the Confederate States being a 'er consideration at one of the late Cabine Councils, The decision roets with the Eusperor, and, therefore, he says it would be rash to affirm that it will be speedily promulgated; but there are strong probabilities that such will be the case, and among other significant symptoms, it would be wrong to omit noticing the extremel irritation of Northerners .-They swear that the American Minister would, in such a contingency, apply for his passports; but this, he believes, to be merely "talk, talk." The Confederate Envoy to Mexico, he further states, to Hon. J. B. Saunders He arrived at Havana from Richmond on the 31st of

One day last week, a pretty little Georgia girl, dressed up in neatly fitting male habiliments applied to a Lieutegant of Gen. Giet's command at Rome, Ga., to be enrolled and mustered into the Confederate service. Her request was complied with, and she was about to be sent out to camp, when some one, suspicious of her sex, suggested that istle ruffled petricoats, and a more femining occupation than that of the manual of the piece, would be more appropriate. She was accordingly sent before Gen. Gist to whom she confessed her I sex, said she was from Gainesville, Ga., and that she gad the consent of her parents to discusse herself in male attire, and enter the army to revenge the death of her brothes who poor fellow, was killed in Virginia She was sent to Atlanta; under decort out has since made her escape.

Brig. Gen. Benning's horse was shot from under him during one of the late battles on the Chickamacga. He dismounted, cut d horse lose from an artillery wagon, mounted it bare-back, returned to his command, and was seen, with the utmost sang from, esting a biscut, amid the in and danger of arms.

from all accounts, it appears that the tories of East Tennessee, whose name is legion, are carrying on with a high hand since the advent of the Northern allies. A Confederate enrolling officer was shot in front of his own house a few days ago, in the presence of his wife and children, six balls passidg through his body. Southern men are being hunted down with fiendish terocity-many have been imprisoned and shot. It is dangerous for & Confederate soldier to make his appearance in the disaffected districts. Matters are pushed to a great extremity, and a reign of terror prevails.

Meeting in Steele Creck. For the Bulletin.

Editor Bulletin: On Monday the 20th the citizens of Steel Creek Beat met at their muster ground, and after their military parade, (which was fine,) Maj. Z A. Grier, in behalf of the company, appointed Maj. J. M. Potts, A R. Erwin, Esq., and Col. Wm. M. Grier as a committee to recommend some plan by which the families be better attended to. The committee after taking the matter into mature consideration reported to the meeting that they had divided the Beat into four divisions and appointed sub-committees in each division as follows:

of our brave soldiers and their farms may

1st. Division-W. L. Erwin, Jas Erwin, Wm. Bailey, Calvin Youngblood and J. W. McRum.

2d Division-William Smith, M. A. Ed wards, J. S. Neely. John Williamson and W. D. Russell.

3rd Division-J. H. McDowell, Alex. Grier, F. G. Simerell, J. W. Reed and Dr. J. M. Strong.

4th Division-Thomas I. Grier, A. G. Neal, James Knox, f. J. Simerell, E. Caruthers and R. G. Kindrick.

The duty of said sub-committees shall be to visit the houses of the wives and widowed mothers of our soldiers and where there is not sufficient help to secure the present crop they shall call in assistance, and shall examine each farm and see that every acre that is not needed for corn shall be sown in wheat, oats, or rye, and if any of said families have no grain for sowing. then the committee shall call upon the citizens for a sufficient quantity therefor; and turther, the committee will enquire into the necessities of each family and whereever they may find any one who has not sufficient provisions, then they shall have power to asses each farmer in the Beat. pro rata, to supply said deficiency.

The report as above stated was adopted by acclamation without a dissenting voice. FARMER

Chattanooga Rems.

A gentleman who left Chattanobga on Monday night last, furnishes the Rebel with the following items:

There are no trains running to Chattanooga from Nashville over the bridge at Bridgeport, as was first stated. The Yansees have no ponteons opposite or near Chattanoogs, and had been using the hulk of the old steamer Paint Rock as a seri of barge for the crossing of troops.

We are gratified to learn that the citizens generally have kept aloof from the Yankees, and have remained within their own doors and to themselves.

Brilliant Affair in Texas-Two Yankee Gunboats Repulsed and Destroyed-Failure of the Expedition

'The great Texas expedition, so often hinted at in the Yankee papers, has been repulsed, with the loss of two gunboats composing it. The 19th Army corps, under Ben. Franklin, left New Orleans on the 4th instant, in transports, accompanied by four gunboats, to capture Sabine City, a point of great strategetic value on the line dividing Louisiana from Texas .-They arrived off the city on the 8th, A correspondent of the New York Tribune

In the course of Monday night the entire fleet gathered in the vicinity of the Sabine. The gunboats and vessels of lightest draught crossed the bar, and preparations were made for the attack. Capt. Crocker, of the Cuiton, was to feel the enemy, uncover the batteries, and ascertain his strength and position. Generals Franklin and Weitzel examined the shore of the Pass to find the most eligible point for landing the forces. The Clifton steamed up the Pass, occasionally throwing a shell from her rifle guns at the only work visible-an earthwork of six large guns. No reply was made. She steamed within easy range of the fort, and received no response. She then returned to her former position without drawing the fire of the enemy.

When the Clifton returned the order of battle was immediately arranged. The gunboats Clitton; Arizona and Sachem, were to engage the enemy's works, while the Granite City was to cover the landing of a force of 500 men of General Weitzel's division, selected from the Pert Hudson heroes, and composed of two companies of the 165th New York, four companies of the 161st New York, and a detachment of the 75th New York regiment, under command of Captain, Finch, of the latter regi-

The Cliffon opened the engagement with a shell from one of her large pivot guns. which burst inside the enemy's works, raising a cloud of dust and dirt: 'instantly another shot followed; then the Sachem opened a broadside from her guns; next the Arizona followed. The firing was excellent; from thirty to torty shells had exploded in the fort of the enemy. Not a shot had been fired in return-not a soldier nor a civilian could be seen-the only evidence that the neighborhood was not deserted was the movement of a couple of steamers afbrating between the city and

Presently a heavy shot was fired at the Arizona, passing over her; soon another was directed at the Sachem and at the Clifton, but without effect

Soon the conflict became general and stormy, the shot and shell from our vessels making terrible havec in the parapet. Just as the Sachem was passing out of range flag, a snot struck her amidships, renderthe enemy concentrated his fire upon the Clitton, whose gallant officers and men her boiler, and she was compelled to raise the white flag. The Clitton had, besides her crew, 70 sharpshooters on board. The Sachem had a detachment of 30 sharp one signal man, escaped down the beach from the Clifton. The number of killed and wounded is not known.

The Arizona, being unequal to the contest, fell back, and the order was issued to the flest to withdraw. The expedition returned to New Orleans, Sept. 12, with its designs' prostrated at the feet of adverse circumstances.

Another letter thus sums up the dis-

Just as soon, however, as an attempt was made tot land, the rebels poured in shot thick and fast, which they seat through and through our gunboats, and very soon sunk one-the Sachem-and blew up another. All our sharpshooters on one of the boats were captured, and it was only by prompt and rapid movements that the Commanding General, Franklin, managed to get away.

Later From Europe.

, European advices to the evening of the 5th inst.-a day later -have begn receivin New York

A dispatch from Paris, dated the 3th inst., in the evening, says: The announcement respecting the victualing of the Florida at Brest in the Moniteur is supposed to be a still more explicit declaration on the part of France that the period of neutrality is fully passed.

The Paris correspondent of the London Globe, telegraphing on the same day, savs of Michel Chevalier's pamphiet: This time the trumphet emits no uncertain sound, but every note rings out the knell of the North American Union, and the birth of a separate independent government at Richmond.

The London Globe, of the 5th instant (evening,) in a leader says: "As far as it is possible to judge American affairs at this distance, and with the meagre information at our disposal, it appears that the plans of the Federals can only be deleated by very vigorous opperations in Eastern Virginia.''

The London Globe, of the same day, has an article regretting the scarcity of labor in England for agricultural purposes, and it asserts, in unseemingly terms, that "the poor wretches whose corpses are rotting on the banks of the Potomac and the Rappahannock, and their scarcely less wretched compatriots in America, have been missed in England, and there are none to supply their places."

An Imperial decree, published to-day, appointf the Mexican General Marquez commander of the Legion of Honor.

The Emperor Napoleon has, the Patrie states, accepted the Grand Cross of the restored Mexican order of Notre Dame de Guadaloupe.

Some excitement has been created in Paris by Mr. Dayton having telegraphed to all the American Consuls now in Europe to send any American vessels of war happening to be in European harbors in the direction of Brest, for the purpose of giving chase to the Florida; and bets have been made in favor and against the chances of escape of the celebrated rebel privateer.

ANOTHER CAPTURE BY THE GEORGIA .-The Georgia has captured another New York vessel-the Constitution-of which event the Captain furnishes the following account to the New York papers :

June 25, at 5 a.m., in sight of the Island of Trinidad, South Atlantic Ocean, lat, 20 30 S. long, 29 16 W., made a steamer with English colors flying, close under the land, I hoisted the American ensign, and continued on my course with all sail set, the steamer steering directly for us. At 8 a. m, she fired a blank cartridge. At half past eight she fired two shots which fell short. At nine a, m., steamer being near, and seeing no way to escape, deemed it best to heave to. In the meantime they had lowered the English and hoisted the Confederate flag. They came alongside and sent a boat with 1st Lieutenant and boat's crew, all armed; demanded the ship's papers, and ordered me on board the steamer. The commander, Capt. Maury. after examining the papers, told me he considered my ship a prize to the Confederate steamer Georgia and myself and crew prisoners, ordering us on board our ship, to stand in under the island and anchor in twenty fathoms. Having anchored about 4 o'clock, the steamer keeping near by, the prize crew then took full charge, and commenced searching the ship, taking all the firearms, chronometers, quadrants, sextanes and charts, with all the navigation books, and even the knives and razors belonging to us. On the 26th, commenced taking our some of the cargo, which, being coal, they were glad to get. On the 28th, the steamer took the ship City of Bath, from Callao for Antwerp; said ship having French cargo, they ransomed her for

We were put on board of her. Not having sufficient water, touched at Pernambuco, where my crew were delivered to the American Censui-fourteen men, six having joined the steamer. Myself and family, with first and second officers, remained on board the City of Bath, as the Consul would do nothing for us. When standing into Pernambuco Roads saw the United States steamer Vanderbilt and signalized her. She sent a boat on board, to whom we gave the whereabouts of the Georgia, and how they might be likely to find her. as she secrets herself under the island, and cannot be seen more than four or five miles

She found the Georgia

An Order Relating to Descriton.

Adjutant Gen. Cooper has issued orders commanding officers of Regiments and Battalions to cause to be made out and forwarded through proper channels, to Colonei J. S. Preston, Chief of the Lareau of Conscription, a complete list of all persons held as substitutes in the army in their respective commands This list will embrace the regiment, company, date of enlistment and age of each substitute, with the name and post office of the principal. They will, also in the same manner, furnish a monthly roll of all deserters and absentees without leave This roll will be arranged according to the county and Congressional District to which the parties belong, and will set forth the time and place of desertion in each case.

All efficers charged by Commanding Generals with the duty of arresting and returning deserters and absentees, will report to the Commandant of Conscripts in the respective States to which such officers are sent, and will co-operate generally with enrolling officers in the discharge of the duties assigned to them.

The followeng act of Congress is published for the information of all concerned.

"Every person not subject to the rules. and articles of war who shall procure or entice a soldier of the Confederate States to desert, or who shall purchase from any soldier his arms, uniform, clothing, or any part thereof, shall, upon legal conviction, be fined at the discretion of the court having cognizance of the same in any sum not exceeding three hundred dollars, and be imprisoned not exceeding one year.

IN BAD LUCK .- The blockade runners seem to have struck a streak of bad luck. The Wilmington Journal of Thursday

The Confederate States steamer Phanton from Bermuda, was chased ashore near Topsail Inlet by the blockading fleet yesterday morning. She had a valuable cargo of government stores, etc. We have been unable to obtain any further particulars. The crew all made their escape in

The steamer Arabian on going out at New Inlet bar one night last week was forced back by the blockaders, got aground and has gone to pieces near Fort Fisher. She was loaded principally with cotton .-Vessel and cargo a total loss, all of which falls on private parties.

The Journal of Friday adds:

It is reported this morning on the streets that the steamers Elizabeth and Advance have been captured by the blockaders .-From the best information we can obtain we are led to believe that the reported capture of the Elizabeth is very probably correct. So far as the Advance is concerned we have not been able to obtain any information upon which to base a definite conclusion, and entertain strong hopes that that noble ship is still safe. Possibly the report may prove to be erroneous in both cases .- Ral. Progress.
