Miscellaneous.

A Story with Spice in it. We remember to have heard in "Yankee Land ch a young man that had but just entered into the sitken bouds of matrimony. His wife, a most muble creature, had a mortal batred of liquor; and though Tum often indulged on the sty with his convival companions, he took care always to pe, "right side up" on going home. He would not have his wife find him in such a state for all the gold in the universe; and yet he could not sign the plodge of total abstinence, from the fact if being the vice president of a club of jolly fellows all of whom believed in grape juice. For at least six months after his marriage, in the presence pl his "better half," he was as "straight as a pin," and she had set it down that a blessing in the shape of a strictly sober husband had fortunately failen to her lot.

" Tom," one morning, said she, lovingly, " we have now been a wedded couple half a year, and never once have I had the slightest occasion to reproach you."

Of course Tom was delighted to hear his dear little wife talk so encouragingly, and express happiness at his behaviour, and he repeated assurances of his determination always to be an attentive, sober husband.

But in the occasion of life how little we can foresce the breakers of temptation. 'Tom had to dine that yerv evening with the "Owls" (the ornithological title of his club,) and he felt in admirable spirits, and his health was drank warmly and frequently after the removal of the cloth ; the consequence, was, that by the time the com-pany separated the was in a happy state of clevation, with a vivid notion of men, women, and all things terrestrial.

"Hic, I really believe I'm d-runk !" soliloguizad, Tom, poising himself on his heels, with his arm clasped endearingly around a lamp post .--"W hat the d evil's to be done ? Am I d-reaming or and I d-runk-which is it ? Will somebody tell me ?"

A knot of wags passing at the moment, hearing his voice, roared in combined tones-"You're drunk-beastly drunk!

" There, now, it's out, and no more than I suspected," continued Tom, mournfully, in a maudlin voice. "What will Clara say, "ugh ? Curse that last julep, I say-I feel as if I had a dozen pair of eyes; and as for ton-tongues, I've got a score all waggin' away for dear life."

- Tom here losing a proper and important equilibrium, his heels suddenly flew higher in the air than is necessary for every day cases of pedestrianism, and, per consequence, he was the next

The act of Freathing is very like the bellows of a smith, and our food is very much the same as the coals which he puts upon his fire. It is probable that some heat may be produced in the various secreting organs of the body, by the chemical action which takes place in them. From these two sources animal heat is most probably derived. It is positively certain that the blood is Ever offered in the town of Charlotte, consisting of heated at least one degree of Fahrenheit in passing through the lungs; and that arterial bloed is warmer than venous. Most of the phenomena which occur in the production of heat may be explained by attributing it to a combination or union of the ovgen of the air with the carbon of he blood in the lungs.

This supply of an mal heat allows the body to resist the fatal effects of exposure to a low tentperature. In the polar regions the thermometer often fails to 108 or 109 degrees below zero; and vet the power of evolving heat, possessed by our odies, enables us to resist this degree of cold .---The temperature of gur bodies in that region is about the same that it would be were they in the warm regions near the equator. We all know that a large fire will warm our rooms, no matter how cold it may be. We can give our rooms the same temperature in winter that they have in the summer, if we regulate our fires accordingly. A little more lucl is all that is requiite for that purpose. WHATEVER concerns the health and happiness of a peo-ple is at all times of the most valuable importance. I take it for granted that every person will do all in their power, to save the lives of their children, and that every person will endeavor to promote their own health at all sacrifices. I feel it to be my duty to solemnly as ure you that WORMS, according to the opicion of the most celebrated Physicians, are the primary causes of a large ma-jority of diseases to which children and adults are liable; if you have an appetite continually changeable from one kind of food to another, Bad Breath, Pain in the Stomach, Picking at the Nose, Hardness and Fullness of the Belly, Dry Cough, Slow Fever, Pulse Irregular-remember that all these denote WORMS, and you should at once apply the remedy :--

THE TAPE WORM!

This is the most difficult Worm to destroy of all that infest the human system, it grows to an almost Indefine ite length becoming so coiled and fastened in the Intes, tines and Stomach effecting the health so sadly as ta cause St. Vitus Dance, Fits, &c., that those afflicted sel, dom if ever suspect that it is Tape Worm hastening them to an early grave. In order to destroy this Worm, a very energetic treatment must be pursued, it would therefore be proper to take 6 or 8 of my Liver Pills so as to remove all obstructions, that the Worm Syrup may act direct upon the Worm, which must be taken in doses of 2 Ta-

By dint of a series of vast efforts he succeeded in gaining his feet, and proceeded towards home reeling, and talking to himself all the way. After mistaking the house next door, the door front of which was the same, for his own, he had an undecided search of at least an hour for his latch key, which he at length found in his boot, it having slipped down his trouser leg through a hole in his pocket.

Now in the hall, he leaned up against the wall and undertook a cogitation. He could sufficiently gather his senses to remember the clock in his wife's room was out of repair, and as she had retired, she would not be able to tell the time he had got in. That was a grand point gained.

" I know what I'll do; I'll go to bed in the dark, and then she won't notice my eyes," ruminated Tom. "But hold on-I'd like to forget it He puzzled for a few moments, and in the end concluded to seek the kitchen, and meddle slightdishes, at length he found a handful of cloves, which he thrust into his mouth as if they had been so many sugar plums.

"T-they'er d-devlish hot," splundered Tom, with his face all a glow, " but they answer the purnose. How I wish Bob Stiles was here to tell me whether the brandy is sufficiently disguised.

Satisfied that the fragance of the cloves had out adoured the scent of the "ardent," he mounted the stairs, and, with the exception of a couple of he begansmall stumbles, gained his chamber in salety .-been wide awake.

"Why, Thomas, how late you are." said she ; | say-"where's the candle ?"

"Oh, never mind the candle," said he, in as steady a tone as he could assume. "It's not late." "I should judge it was very late," said she, dear me, I must have that clock fixed."

"Y.e.s, so we muse," said Tom, with miraculous deliberation, for one solitary hiccup would would have betrayed him. As to the clock's uncertain condition, it was a phenomenon of good luck for him.

"Does it look like rain, dear ?" kindly inquired Clara.

Now, if Tom had been put upon his eath he could no more have answered correctly, in regard to the appearance of the weather, than the man in the moon, and not half so much, for it is fair to suppose that if there be a man in the moon, he is not addicted to the practice of drinking, and, therefore, keeps a bright look out on things below.

He replied guardedly-"Pon my word I don't know but I'll look," and, feeling his way to the window, he threw aside the curtains, and a bar of pale starlight threw itself immediately on his wile's face. "Clear as crystal, you perceive dear," and down went the certain again.

The preacher was prevented from taking his part in the ceremony, and a newly created Justice --she'll smell my breath-how can I fix that ?" of the Peace, who chanced to be present, was called upon to officiate in his place. The good man's kneed began to tremble, for he had never tied the ly with the spice box. Down the stone stairs he knot, and did not know where to begin. He had went, and after putting his hand into half a dozen no "Georgia Justice," or any other book from various fluids, feeling into a row of pans, jugs and which to read the marriage service. The company was arranged in a semi-circle, each one bearing a tallow candle. He thought over everything he had ever learned, even to-

THE ONLY TRUE PORTRAIT OF WASHINGTON

JUST PUBLISHED, T. B. WELCH'S MAGNIFICENT

PORTRAIT OF WASHINGTON.

Engraved (by permission) from Stuart's only original portrait, in the Athenoum, Boston.

This superb picture, Engraved under the superintendence of THOMAS SELLY, Esq, the eminent and highly gifted artist, is the only correct likeness of Washington ever published. It has been characterised as the greatest work of art ever produced in this country. As to its fidelity, we refer to the letters of the adopted son of Washington, GEORGE WASHINGTON PARK CURTIS, who says, "it is a faithful representation of the ce ebrated original," and to Chief Justice Tancy of the Supreme Court of the United States, who says, "As a work of art its excellence and beauty must strike every one who sees it : and it is no less happy in its likeness to the Fa. ther of his country. It was my good fortune to have seen him in the days of my boyhood, and his whole appearance is yet strongly impressed on my memory. The portrait you have issued appears to me to be an exact likeness, representing perfectly the expression as well as the form and features of the face." And says Senator Cass, "it is a life-like representation of the great original." President Fillmore says, 'the work appears to me to have been admirably executed and eminently worthy of the patronage of the public." Says Murchant, that eminent portrait painter, and the pupil of Stuart, " your print to my mind is more remarkable than any other I have seen, for presenting the whole individuality of the riginal portrait, together with the noble and aignified enese of air and manner, which all who ever say has considered a non-log characteristic of the illustricus man it commemorates." For the great merits of this picture we mould refer every lover of Washington to the portrait itself, to be seen at the office of this paper, and to the letters of the following Assists, Statesmen, Jurists and Scholars accompanying it. last ten years, than in all the others put together. The tone is that of the highest moral purity, so that every family, where there are daughters, should have it. "No, no, dear," replied Tom, very slowly, as before, "I have heard that starlight produce lunacy after"-midnight he was about to say, but cought himself dexterously, considering his situation, " and that's dreadful, you, know."

Tom made several stumbles after this, and presently his wife cought a whiff of the cloves.

"Ah I" said Tom, starting, "Cloves !" " Yes, cloves ! any one would think you'd been embalmed like a mummy."

This made him twitch and go wool gathering. "Phew ! you're regularly scented with them. Where have you been to-night ?"

To The Young LADIES .- I have found that the men who are really the most fond of the ladies, who cherish for them the highest respect are seldom the most popular with the sex. Men of great assurance, whose tongues are highly hung, who make words supply the place of ideas, and place the choicest specificas. and good growth and ripen from May compliment to the room of settiment, are their to November. favorites. A due respect for women leads to respectful action towards them; and respectful is usually distant action, and this great distance is mistaken by them for neglect or wapt of interest.

Colored Fashions here only.

No other Magazine now gives colored steel fashion plates. as this does. Full letter-press descriptions accompany each monthly plate. This is in fact, the text-book of fashion, and indipsensable to all who would know how to dress elegantly, yet economically. It enables every lady to be her own dress-

Magnificent Mezzotints and other Engravings. The mezzotints and steel engravings, one of which, at least, appears in every number, are unrivalled for beauty. In illustrations, as well as reading matter, indeed, this Magazine is without an equal. In fact, this is the only illustrated Magazine in the country which has steadily increased in circulation every year, which proves how superior it is.
