A Surgeon's Life in the Trenches. CAMP BEFORE SEBASTOPOL, April 6.

In my last last letter I told you that I was going to the tranches; well, I went, and I had enough whole story, so I shall begin at the beginning. There are two batteries there, Nos. 7 and 8 .-

No. 7 battery is much the most dangerous. So. after doing what was wanted there, I went to No. 9. The ground of it is composed of gravel and large stones, and, of course, the battery is constructed of the same material. The consequence was that every shot fixed by the enemy threw up a perfect shower of stones, some of them very large, and, as the fired at us every day, every one was hit more or less, some very severely; fortunately, although this morning I am black aud blue. and my back aches from a large stone that fell upon it, I was not hurt. They kept me running between the two baiteries all day and most disagreeable work it was, as in one place there was no cover at all, and in getting into No. 7, there was a sort of channel which we had to run through, that was always getting balls through it.

The e-capes we had were most wonderful .-One time it was almost miraculous. I was leaning on the carriage of a gun that was loaded and run out, speaking to the artillery officer who was pointing it. He had his face on the looking through the sight; a shot came from the Russians, hit our gun in the bore, and knocked off two feet of the muzzle, wounding by the splinters every man of the gun's crew except two, and the artillery officer and myself, four out of nine-the men literally fell around me. Most of them were slightly wounded, how any escaped, particularly the officer who had his face on the gan, I cannot tell.

Of course we have to dress the men, or the worst cases, where they lie; and the Russians having got your range, most likely send another shot nearly in the same place as the first. This is so well known that the rule is, in such cases, to run behind a traverse or any shelter. So does every one except the non combatant, the doctor, who must go to his men no matter where. To give you an instance of this: A man got his hand blown off in No. 7. They sent for me at once, as the man was bleeding. At this time there was a perfect storm of shot coming on the unfortunate battery. I had to dart into it the best way I When I got thrre the wounded man was lying who he was hit, with another beside him, and all the rest were snugly placed behind traverses and parapets. I had to the unfortunate, and if took me nearly a quarter of an hour to dress the wound, it was such a bad one, and I am sure, if one shot came part me, twenty did.

This nice work lasted till about half-past 6, when as they had nearly stopped firing, I thought I might go back to the first parallel, and when I ed home, precious glad to get away, and very hungry, as I had-nothing but some runi and biscut for 24 hours, cooking being out of the queswould be quite impossible to tell all the narrow ferior to any in the country. games we had. A shell fell into the middle of us, but fortunately did not burst; we screwed out the fuse and found it was an English one, probbly a shell of ours that did not burst, and was returned by the enemy. The horse all day was terrific. The shells from our batteries and the shot from theirs, about 300 yards distant, never ceased. We were in a capital position for hearing everything.

Their practice was much better thac curs. I und to climb up in an embrasore to watch our shot, which always went over their battery. This was quite safe, as they had with trawn their rifle. in a, and one could always jump into the battery after they had fired a gun before the shot came. You saw the flash, Our shot went too high, beconsequently could not be sufficiently dopress d. Constitution and gratity the most fastidious.

And now you have the experience of a 'noccombatant' of the trenches under fire. I suppose you would like to know how I felt yesterday. Of course no one can see men knocked down all favor him with their company. around him, and getting wounds of which he best knows the full danger, and take it quite coolly at first, but you very soon get accustomed to it. It seems to be all habit, and perhaps, if you could get over it once or twice, you would soon get quite accustomed to being killed.

began to chaff me in the batteries the other day. and talked of the luxury of getting legs and arms for nothing, after the manner of Ben Allen and Bob Sawyer; so I gave them Christopher Tadpole, and offered to draw any of their teeth consid erably under cost price, or but off a leg at a great specifice, in consideration of the late fire. This shut them up, though they could not shut out the Russian batteries.

We give to intellect, to immortality, to religion, and to all the virtues, the honor that belongs to them. And still it may be boldly affirmed, that economy, taste, skill, and neatness, in the kitchen, have a great deal to do in making life happy and prosperous.

Not is it indispensably necessary that a house should be filled with luxuries. All the qualifications for good house keeping can be displayed as well on a small scale as on a large one.

A small house can be more easily kept clean than a palace. Economy is most needed in the absence of abundance.

Taste is as well displayed in placing the dishes on a pine table, as in arranging the folds of a damask curtain,

And skillful cooking is as readily discovered in a nicely baked potatoe, or in a respectable johny-

The charm of good housekeeping is in the order, economy, and taste displayed in attention to little things. And these little things have a wonderful influence. A dirty kitchen, and bad cooking have driven many a one from home, to seek for comfort and happiness somewhere else. Domestic economy is a Science-a theory of life, which all sensible women ought to study, and Office, in Monroe, the 1st Monday in April 1855. practice. None of our excellent girls are fit to be

Crops .- For the past few weeks it has been a part of our programme to be circulating around among the agricultural sections of these and adjacent parts-have been down into Georgia, the northern part of Alabama, and into East Tennessee. From what we saw and heard, we pronounce the prospects good for an abundant crop of wheat -the yield will be larger than for many years .-Also corn looks promising-oats not so good, season too dry. Potatoes are doing finely, and all that pertains to the farming interests are such as to inspire the farmer with much cheer and hope,

THAT COMMISSION HOUSE OF TINLEY & HERRON'S,

CHARLESTON, S. C. THE only house doing business in that city that actually had any experience in Receiving and 1 orwarding of Goods previous to the South Carolina hailroad quitting the business in July last, is still open for the RECEIVING and FORWARDING of all kinds of Goods, Wares, Merchandise, Machinery, Produce, &c. If you want your goods forwarded without the vexatious delays and enormous expense bil a paid the last season, and at the same time have your business done in such a manner that somebody will be made responsible for the damaged and lost packages, consign them to TINLEY & HERRON, who have Received and Forwarded all Coods consigned to them, during the past season without any extra charge over those establish ed rates as given below, and up to this time have not encountered a solitary complaint. Our Mr. Herron was Clerk of the Receiving and Fowarding Department of the South Carolina Railroad for the past seven years, and is perfectly familiar with all their books, freight tariffs and rules of shipment, both by railroads and vessels, together with the mode of ocedure to secure damages and pay for lost articles from other parties, the proper steps of which will be taken in all such cases without loss or delay to the owners. Another important advantage is that his thorough knowledge of all freights and rules of shipment, enables him instantly to detect and correct any overcharge in the bills of lading, which in all cases has to be done at that time, or be lost to the owner, in many instances greatly exceeding the commissions we charge. He was also raised in Charleston, is perfect. ly acclimated, and free from the contagions of that city, therefore we will under all circumstances faithfully discharge any business entrusted to us. All produce, such as Wheat, Flour, Corn, Corn Meal Bacon, Lard, Butter, Eggs, Cotton, Rice, Rye, Outs, Hay, Tobacco, Wool, Feathers, Beeswax, Potatoes, Ontons, &c., consigned to us, will be promptly sold and proceeds returned, without keeping the money a few months to speculate upon; for we wish it distinctly understood that we engage in no speculation whatever, all that we want is our commission, as follows : For Receiving and Forwarding all ordinary packages of goods, 10 cents; large packages of forniture and machinery, charges according to responsibility. Iron and steel in loose bars, 10 cents per hundred lbs for advancing freights, and charges two and a half per cent, which you can save by depositing the money with us; for selling produce 21 per cent. We will also fill all orders in this market, making the best selections for our patrons, at 21 per cent.
