

Office, one door south of Saylor's Hotel—up stairs.

Terms of Subscription. For one year in advance $1.00. For three months in advance $0.75. For six months in advance $0.50.

Terms of Advertising. Advertisements will be inserted at $1 per square for the first week, and 25 cents for each subsequent week.

CHARLOTTE: FRIDAY MORNING, July 27, 1855.

W. S. LAWTON & CO., (South Atlantic Wharf), are our authorized agents in Charleston, S. C., and are duly empowered to take Advertisements and Subscriptions at the rates required by us, and grant receipts.

FOR PRESIDENT, IN 1856: HON. HENRY A. WISE, OF VIRGINIA.

SEVENTH DISTRICT, FOR CONGRESS, HON. BURTON CRAIG, OF ROWAN.

Election 2d Day of August.

CHARLOTTE MARKET. CHARLOTTE, July 27, 1855.

Flour—Limited supply; new flour brings $8 per barrel. Cotton—Very little offered; market heavy—extremes 9 a 9 1/2.

Corn—90c; slight decline. Meal—90c. Bacon—9 a 10c, hog round. Lard—10 cents. Wheat—$1.25 a $1.50 per bushel. Very little offered.

We publish to-day the reply of James A. Caldwell, Esq., of Lincoln, to the article of "Old Mecklenburg" which appeared in the Whig of the 17th. It is full of information—read it.

Read the 3d No. of "Tax Payer," in another column.

Democrats of Mecklenburg. We warn you to be vigilant and active, your old enemy and malignant foe under a new name is in the field, and working day and night—be true, be firm—listen not to their eloquence, nor the cut and dried columns of scraps and figures and facts, as they pronounce them, for with all their blandness and insinuating address, they, the itinerants of the campaign are aiming a death blow at your principles.

Democratic Meeting. In accordance to notice to that effect, the Democrats of Mecklenburg held a Mass Meeting in the Presbyterian Grove on Tuesday. With unexampled liberality they waited upon the Federal Whig Know Nothings and invited them to have a champion on the ground.

He was followed (not answered) by V. C. Barringer, Esq., of Concord, on the Know Nothing side, in a speech of great labor. It was evidently an up-hill business with him. Sam, dress him as he might, he saw was odious to the people.

These observations and directions are of course intended only for the non-professional. Having this discovery will attract from the profession, also, that attention which its transcendent importance so manifestly demands.

The National Era, the organ of Abolitionism at Washington, say: "The Northern press and Northern statesmen having denominated to the force of that argument, and declared their resolution to curtail the encroachments of slavery at every hazard, there seems to be less disposition to urge it."

Sale of Mules in Kentucky.—Our enterprising fellow countryman, Lewis Castlemen, Esq., sold last week forty mules, out of a lot of one hundred, for the sum of one hundred and twenty-five dollars each. The mules were an average of the lot only, and were sold to a Southern planter who came to Kentucky for the sole purpose of purchasing mules for his farming purposes.

"Have you any limberbonnets?" inquired a very modest miss of a shopkeeper. "Any what?" "Any limberbonnets?" "Any—you don't mean Leghorn?" "The young lady was brought to by the proper restoratives."

A Lovely Spectacle.—The New York Times of the 11th instant say: "A colored military company, called the 'Tinker Guard,' headed by a white band, passed our office yesterday, on its return from a target excursion. They made a soldier-like appearance."

Keep yourself innocent, if you would be happy.

Know-Nothingism alias Native Americanism.

This is a doctrine fraught with the elements of more evil and danger to our institutions than our enemies have ever sprung upon us. It was conceived in sin, nurtured in secret, and after the incubation of the Philadelphia council was brought forth in iniquity, to spread a moral blight and mildew over the hopes of the lovers and defenders of constitutional religious and political toleration for all time to come.

It appeals to the pseudo-native prejudices of northern men against foreigners, and the more malignant spirit of fanaticism that sometimes in their midst looms up like the fires of hell to blast and crush to the very earth, the liberty of conscience, and the freeman's franchise. It is a poisonous leaven worked into a lump by the bitterest enemies to our institutions we have on earth.

It is a compound of the worst elements of their worst passions and insinuations, they would smilingly present to our lips, and have us take to sicken us unto death. It springs up in the bosom of that people, whose States of whom would break over every barrier of the constitution thrown around it for our protection, demolish the fair fabric itself, and ride exultingly into power over its sacred fragments!

Can you, will you, freemen of this Congressional district, join them in their unholy crusade against us by going to the polls on 2d day of August, and casting your votes for the apologists and exponents of this order—we believe it not, but that you will en masse give your suffrages to the able and faithful Craige, the champion of your rights, and thus serve to save our country from the influence of that band of wretched madmen at the North, who have sworn upon the altar of higher law, that abolition shall be accomplished, if not by the moral agency of the free, it must be done by the physical power of the enslaved.

We are pleased to learn that Messrs Brem & Steele, have kindly consented to act as agent for the planters of Mecklenburg in ordering, (free of charge) guano in such quantities as may suit purchasers. Many of our planters availed themselves of Messrs B. & S. services last season greatly to their advantage in the ordering of Guano Wheat &c.

Correspondence. DALLAS, GASTON Co., July 23 d. 1855. R. P. WARING Esq.

DR. SIR:—It is my happy privilege to be the medium of presenting to you the accompanying Silver Cups, which are tendered by a number of your friends of Gaston County, as a very feeble but sincere token of their appreciation of your efforts in the cause of internal improvements in our County. Hoping you will be pleased to accept the same, I am,

Very truly yours &c., WM. SLOAN. CHARLOTTE, July 27, 1855.

DR. WILLIAM SLOAN. DEAR SIR: Your note, with the cups which my friends in Gaston, through you, have been pleased to present me, as a token of their appreciation of my efforts in behalf of the cause of internal improvement in their county, I receive with deep sensibility; the pleasure of which is only dimmed by the conscious reflection that this demonstration is far greater than my feeble efforts deserve.

To their kind and friendly regard, and to the sincere desire upon my part to advance the internal improvement movement in the right direction I must attribute this flattering compliment. It is one that I feel deeply grateful for, and will cherish until my heart goes as cold as the clay that wraps the dead.

Permit me, dear sir, to thank you for the complimentary manner in which you have been pleased to convey them to me, and through you to express my grateful acknowledgments to my friends in Gaston for this highly valued token of their respect and esteem.

Very respectfully yours, R. P. WARING.

DR. H. M. PRITCHARD. We are glad to see it announced in the last Western Democrat, that our esteemed friend Dr. H. M. PRITCHARD has become associate editor of that Journal. We regard him as quite an accession to the corps editorial, and hope he will find the exchange of the Moxter and Pestle for the Quill pleasant and agreeable.

We congratulate the democracy of Old Mecklenburg in securing the services of such an able and faithful exponent of their political faith, and humbly trust that the doses he may administer, will fit and prepare them to swell their part in the terrible storm destined ere long to agitate the mind of this great, and once glorious REPUBLIC.

Yorkville Enquirer. From the Intelligencer. Rail Road Meeting. The Stockholders of the western end of the Wilmington, Charlotte & Rutherford Rail Road, met (a portion of them) at Shelby, on the 14th July. On motion of H. W. Guion, Esq., A. E. Collins, of Cleveland, was appointed President. B. S. Johnson, of Lincoln, 1st V. P.; Dr. William Sloan, of Gaston, 2d V. P.; Gen. Logan, 3rd V. P.; and R. P. Waring and A. J. Cansler were appointed Secretaries.

A committee, consisting of W. J. T. Miller, J. Stowe, A. P. Cansler and G. W. Logan, were appointed to ascertain the amount of stock represented, who reported as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Location and Shares. FROM LINCOLN COUNTY, In person, 725 shares; By proxy, 1225 shares; Total, 1950 shares.

Table with 2 columns: Location and Shares. FROM RUTHERFORD COUNTY, In person, 20 shares; Total, 20 shares.

Table with 2 columns: Location and Shares. FROM CLEVELAND COUNTY, In person, 927 shares; By proxy, 10 shares; Total, 937 shares.

From Gaston County, no return. After general speeches by H. W. Guion, W. J. T. Miller, J. Stowe, H. Cansler and G. W. Logan, it was

Resolved, That this meeting adjourn, to meet at this place, on Saturday, the 4th day of August next; and that all the Stockholders in Lincoln, Gaston, Rutherford, and Cleveland, be requested to be represented, in person or by proxy.

Resolved, That 200 notices of the adjourned meeting be stricken off, and distributed among the four Counties.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be published in the Carolina Intelligencer, Charlotte Whig, Western Democrat, Hokeville Express, and Western Eagle.

A. E. COLLINS, President. B. S. JOHNSON, 1st V. P. W. SLOAN, 2nd V. P. G. W. LOGAN, 3rd V. P. R. P. WARING, A. J. CANSLER, Secretaries.

and I doubt not "Old Mecklenburg" will make a "solemn affidavit," that it is just the thing, and he does not desire to mar or destroy this sacred instrument. I have a publication in my hand from which I make the following extract: "I, of my own free will, in the presence of Almighty God, and these witnesses—do solemnly and sincerely swear—that if it may be legally done, I will, when elected, or appointed to any official station, conferring on me the power to do so, remove all foreigners, aliens, or Roman Catholics, from office or place, and that I will in no case appoint such an office or place in my gift."

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the last Hokeville Express I find an article signed "Lincoln" which expresses nothing that demands our attention. Self is uppermost with him, and the Legislature intended the Road to go just to suit his peculiar interests and prejudices, at the expense of the enterprise and to the injury of the public.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'palpable truths'?"

I have already consumed more time than I wished to, and shall conclude without discussing the "Catholic question," by showing what good whigs thought of catholic men, as late as the year 1840. The Hon. Mathias E. Manly had been nominated by Gov. Dudley, as a suitable person to succeed Mr. Saunders on the bench, the governors council refused to ratify, because he was a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church.

These are daily, nay hourly, served up to us with the exulting exclamation of "what more do you want? Are not these 'pal