

Negro Slavery.
The following is from a communication in the Washington Union, on the subject of abolition delusions:
Each and every form of existence—human as well as animal—has its own capacities—instincts—wants which it must be permitted to live out, or it dies. Even the deluded abolitionist himself would admit the folly of pretending to know the nature of a plant or animal of which he was utterly ignorant, and the cruelty of compelling such a trial, or trying to compel such animal, to manifest the qualities of some other animal which he did not know. For example, if some abolitionist had never seen a bull-dog, was to assume, because he a dog, that he had the same nature—indeed, was, in fact, a greyhound, and thus should undertake to make it manifest the faculties of sight or scent specific and peculiar to the hound, what would his brethren say of such folly and cruelty, and, indeed, wickedness? What an outrage on "humanity" to force, or seek to force, the child to perform the duties of adult life, or the woman to fulfill those of the other sex? How plain and unmistakable the eternal law stamped by the hand of Omnipotence on all the forms of being, human as well as animal; that each has its own faculties, its own wants, and destined to fulfill its own allotted purpose!

The social organization of the South is in conformity to this all pervading and eternal law. Seven millions of white men have three millions of negroes in their midst—three millions of a different and subordinate race—and they adapt their municipal and social regulations to fit that—to the nature and wants of this race as well as their own; and thus, from the nature and necessity of things, the utmost good is secured to both races—to the inferior negro as the superior white man.

It is not necessary to inquire how, or when, or why these negroes are negroes—in fact, it is eternally hidden from mortal inquiry; but the fact is so. Southern men know, from their daily experience—the daily evidence of their senses as well as their reason—that they are negroes, and are not white men; that they have inferior capacities and different wants; in short, they know, however approximating, they have nevertheless, a difference from their own. They know this just as positively as they know anything—any material fact whatever; just as they know that a greyhound is a greyhound, and not a bull-dog, though both are dogs; or as they know a pig-iron is a pig-iron and not a robin, though both are birds; as they know a child is a child, and not a man, though both are human; and thus, knowing this negro to be a negro, and not a white man, and fixed eternally by the hand of nature in a subordinate position, they adapt their institutions to the nature and wants of this negro as well as their own.

From the Christian Spiritualist, Life.

At times life seems a life—a mystic dream or fleeting phantom to conscious memory given, as the passing years roll round. Its childhood's early morn with bright and joyous, spinning future years with its peopled and glowing ideal of promise. Then it was that life seemed earnest—ardent; and the cup of bliss it pressed on thought and lip, was happiness without alloy. Then it was that over the senses yielding, plastic touch, in conscious trust, the impress of perpetual joy on earth was given, overruling all with the Sylvan lure of a golden sunset. But as time fled on, and on the thoughtful brow experience traced in furrowed lines its grove 'impress, how was the mystic spell of life's early promise by its disappointments, jarring discord given! One by one, the match-locks of our early seeming in sorrow's surging sea were quenched. Then night's dark pall the gold-memories of early life over-hunged. Then came manhood's rugged school in which was taught, by stern nature's wisdom, life's true lesson; while the ideal earth-life heaven, like an eagle's tale, into oblivion's forgetfulness was cast. All now is darkness—mystery. No night now remains but earnest conflict of thought with earth's conflicting cares and disappointments, gloomy sorrow. These, the leaves, the present from the early past inheres. And oh, how deep in mystery seems one's being shrouded now!

Man! the wandering being moon who and who is he? Who never came he? Whether bound?—This is what he yearns to know. The years pass on. At length the wandering seer on which his being's mystery is written, revealing infinite wisdom and design, unto his conscientiousness, is given a key that unlocks the portals of the realms of death, while to the wandering spirit inward a new world is lifted that hides the life to be—the substantial. From the understanding, the mists of error flee away, and from the eye, the scales of ignorance and darkness fall, while in his inner consciousness the light and truth is given, to guide his erring footsteps to the Spirit's heaven; and thus in harmony with perfect laws, his onward progress to perfection's goal is quickened. How changed life's seeming now! It is early morn with joy and happiness replete, soon shadowed over by earth's extending conflicts, a rational school is found to be; while the precepts which experience taught, were by the needed footsteps on the sands of time along progression's upward mount. Profound the teachings fraught in life's swift passing years, to him who has the perception given to profit by the lessons that the soul's true culture needs! Such the means the Father Spirit employs to draw His erring children to Himself. "This only through consuming fires the plants need Spirit yield up its inward life, and increase unto God the Father; and thus is its growth perfected, fit to be light, and "ancient joy that angels of immortal spirits inherit. Thus is fulfilled man's wandering being, and in union with love and wisdom from the Father given, the only way that leads the weary pilgrim through earth's woes, home to his native heaven.

RETURNING WANDERER.

"Maryland, the first State in the Union," says the Boston Transcript, "where the Roman Catholic Church gained a footing, now contains eight hundred and seven Protestant Churches, and only sixty-five Catholic congregations. In Florida the Catholics early made settlement. Now there are one hundred and seventy Protestants and only five Catholic churches. Louisiana was settled by the Catholics, who now have fifty-five churches in the State, while the Protestants have two hundred and forty-seven congregations. In Texas, the Catholics were the first in point of time—they now have thirteen churches, but the Protestants report three hundred and seven societies in the State. The members of Episcopal, Lutheran, and Roman Catholic churches are nearly the same throughout the country, but each of the three denominations have about one-eighth of the number of Methodists, scarcely one-eighth of the Baptists, and not one-fourth that of the Presbyterians. The entire Protestant population of the country, compared with that of the Catholic, is about as 12 to 1.

Rare opportunity to buy Land.
THE Subscriber having determined to remove South offers for sale, privately, all his Lands in Providence.
The Home Tract, Back Jack, Patterson and Wagon place.

THE HOME TRACT lies on the Providence road, 12 miles south of Charlotte, in a healthy and agreeable neighborhood, near the Church, contains 350 Acres,
half of which is cleared and in a high state of cultivation, with a good Dwelling House and other improvements.

THE BLACK JACK PLACE is 10 miles from Charlotte, on the same road, with comfortable improvements; also a good Store where there has been a thriving business for a number of years been transacted. The farm contains 112 Acres,
and is of unsurpassed fertility. The
TWO OTHER PLACES
are in the same vicinage, and is in the virgin growth and heavily timbered; one contains 45 acres, the other 40.
These lands are probably the most productive ever offered for sale in this county and affords, in those who wish to purchase, a rare opportunity for a safe and profitable investment. Those who wish to examine the premises can do so by calling on the subscriber who will take pleasure in showing them the lands.
JOHN M. MATTHEWS, Aug 17 4-3m

Notice.
STRAYED or STOLEN from the subscriber a thriving business has for a number of years been transacted. The farm contains IRON GREY MARE, about 7 years old, with a small size, short neck, has a speck in her right eye, and a small lump on her right hind leg, had on Saddle and Bridle. Any information of the said animal will be thankfully received and liberally rewarded.

CHARLOTTE HOTEL.
THIS Hotel situated in the centre of the town of Charlotte, convenient to all the places of business is at all kept open for public accommodation. The proprietor has been engaged in keeping a public house at this stand for fourteen years. He now offers to the use of the public a new edition of his former house greatly enlarged and improved, presenting in front a two story Verandah 160 feet in length by 12 feet in width, handsomely shaded by trees in the side walk, affording a pleasant promenade all hours of the day.
The house is thoroughly furnished throughout, and in every part of it creature comforts are abundant and tangible, especially in the Dining Room, where the inner man is renewed day by day.
Connected with this Hotel are stables affording room for 100 horses, abundantly furnished with grain and provender, attended by faithful and obliging attendants. The proprietor feels confident that with his long experience and many new advantages added to his own industry and disposition to be pleasing and agreeable, he is prepared to offer to his friends and the rest of mankind, as many comforts and so much good cheer as will be found anywhere, perhaps a little more so.

FLORIDA LAND AGENCY.
THE undersigned has established an agency in the town of Alligator, Columbia County, Fla., for the purchase and sale of lands generally, and the purchase and sale of lands generally, improved and unimproved. The fact now being established that a Rail Road is to be constructed immediately, connecting the Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico, running through the entire length of the county, East and West, and in view of the great fertility of our soil, the unusually fine growth of pine timber on the land, the healthfulness of the climate, and the reasonable terms on which lands can now be obtained, there is perhaps no section of the Union which affords equal inducements to the emigrant from the older States. Having had some experience in farming on the different kinds of land, and acquired a general knowledge of them throughout the county, and as an agent for pointing out such lands, he feels very confident of making it the interest of all persons wishing information, or who may have determined to settle in Florida to call on him.

FOUND A RELIABLE MEDICINE.
THE CELEBRATED COLLETON BITTERS,
A Purely Vegetable Preparation,
AND A SOVEREIGN REMEDY FOR DYSPEPSIA.
THESE BITTERS are purely a Vegetable compound, and are offered to the public under the fullest conviction that they will be found a safe and sovereign remedy for Dyspepsia.
They have been triumphantly tested not only by numerous families and physicians in the South, who have furnished ample testimony as to their decided excellence, but also by the Proprietor, who for ten years suffered all the gloom incident to that stubborn and distressing disease.
EXTRACT
"I do hereby certify that I have known and used your celebrated compound COLLETON BITTERS in my family for more than fifteen years, and I do verily believe it to be one of the most valuable Family and Plantation Medicines in use, having witnessed their beneficial effects in so many instances, that with truth it may be affirmed they will deserve the high encomiums which they have received from the afflicted who have partaken of their invigorating and health restoring properties."
Signed, CHARLES G. CAPERS, Planter, St. Helena, S. G.
The undersigned, sole agents for the above Medicines, take pleasure in stating that they are intimately acquainted with the manufacture of the "Colleton Bitters," hence they do not hesitate to commend the article, as possessing rare virtues, and well calculated to afford relief in DYSPEPSIA AND ITS KINDRED DISEASES.
Retail price, 50 cents a Bottle!
For which sum an incalculable amount of suffering may be arrested. The trade will be supplied on liberal terms.

LAND FOR SALE.
THE SUBSCRIBER offers for sale the Plantation on which he resides, situated on Little Sugar Creek, 8 miles South of Charlotte, in the Providence region, and 1 mile East of the C. & S. C. Rail Road. This tract contains about 350 acres, of this amount, about 300 acres are in cultivation. The largest field of the cultivated land is fresh, having been cleared in the last few years. On the place there is a very comfortable dwelling house and all necessary out buildings, including an excellent Gin House and Screw cast built. Also a Spring and well of good water. The above land is situated in a healthy neighborhood—surrounded by an industrious, intelligent and moral community.—The subscriber will take pleasure in showing the land to any person desirous of purchasing.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN.
ELEVENTH YEAR.

Splendid Engravings and Prizes.
THE ELEVENTH ANNUAL VOLUME of this useful publication commences on the 17th day of September, next.

The "Scientific American" is an illustrated Periodical, devoted chiefly to the promulgation of information relating to the various Mechanic and Chemist Arts, Industrial Manufactures, Agriculture, Patents, Inventions, Engineering, Millwork, and all interests which the light of Practical Science is calculated to advance.
Reports of U. S. Patents granted are also published every week, including Official Copies of all the Patent Claims, together with news and information upon thousands of other subjects.
The Contributors to the Scientific American are among the most eminent Scientific and practical men of the times. The Editorial Department is universally acknowledged to be conducted with great ability, and to be distinguished, not only for the excellence and truthfulness of its discussions, but for the fearlessness with which error is combated and false theories are exploded.
Mechanics, Inventors, Engineers, Chemists, Manufacturers, Agriculturists, and people of every profession in life, will find the Scientific American to be of great value in their respective callings. Its counsels and suggestions will save them hundreds of dollars annually, besides affording them a continual source of knowledge, the experience of which is beyond pecuniary estimate.
The Scientific American is published once a week; every number contains eight large quarto pages, forming annually a complete and splendid volume, illustrated with several hundred original engravings.
Specimen copies sent gratis.
TERMS.—Single Subscriptions, $2 a year, or $1 for six months. Five copies, for six months, $4; for a year, $8.

"THE SPECTATOR."
A WEEKLY JOURNAL PUBLISHED AT WASHINGTON CITY.
THE undersigned proposes to conduct about the first of June next, in the City of Washington, the publication of a weekly newspaper, to be called the Spectator, designed for general circulation among the people of the United States. Its columns will contain a full digest of the news of the day, foreign and domestic; a weekly review of finance and the markets; a synopsis of the proceedings of Congress during its session; tables of election returns, the important political action of State legislatures, and of party conventions; interesting miscellanea and scientific matter; articles on agriculture; together with original articles upon the leading topics of the day. Much valuable information relative to the operations of the Executive Departments of the Government, together with the weekly list of new patents, will be found in its columns. A large portion of its space will be devoted to light literature, original and selected. Its location as the political centre of the Union, will afford opportunities always to procure the latest information on public affairs.
It is the intention of the undersigned to make the Spectator an acceptable visitor to every house in the Union, and it will therefore not assume on any occasion the position of a partisan paper, nor will it owe any allegiance to men; but entertaining fixed and decided views on questions of political economy, and upon the system of government, it will disseminate and promulgate them as occasion may require—always keeping carefully in view the interests of the country, growing out of foreign as well as domestic concerns.
The Spectator will be printed in quarto form, on good paper and new type; each number containing eight pages of matter, making one volume annually of 416 pages. Each volume will be accompanied by a full and complete index of its contents, thus making it a most valuable paper for preservation and reference. It will be published every Saturday morning, at $2 per annum, payable always in advance. No paper will be continued beyond the time for which it is paid.
All subscription and communications on business should be addressed to the undersigned at Washington, D. C.

THIS delightful Summer retreat cannot be surpassed by any of the fashionable Watering Places within the State of North Carolina. Here we enjoy, as we like those seeking pleasure, busy find a summer residence, calculated to restore the system of the Physically constitution to gratify the most fastidious. The proprietor has enlarged his spacious accommodations by considerable additions, and is prepared to receive a large company. He will spare no pains to contribute to the benefit and satisfaction of those who favor him with their company.
This fine watering place is surrounded by some of the greatest Natural curiosities in this country. The Table Rock is only seven miles from the springs; Hot Spring Cove is one mile, Harris Rock Falls four miles, and Falls of Linville is nine miles.
And all in a great country for hunting and fishing. Deer and turkeys are plenty in the neighborhood of the springs.
By calling on Dr. Pappoldt, proprietor of "Hot Springs Hotel," in Morganton, every necessary information pertaining to the medical qualities of these waters can be obtained.
