

HOW TO GROW GOOD FRUIT. The New York Tribune brings to notice

Just see how easy it is to grow better fruit. In Adams county, Ohio, John Loughry has a peach orchard of eleven acres that yielded him this year five thousand dollars, while twenty-five cents a bushel. It is easy to see that his orchard would not have produced that sum at that price. No, it did not. He got two dollars a bushel more readily than his neighbors got twenty-five cents for the same variety of peaches .-And this is how he did it:

"When the peaches had arrived at the size of a hickory nut, he employed a large jumped aboard, exclaiming to theinnocent force and put on 185 days' work, for one hand, in picking off the excess of fruit. Probably more than three-fourths of moved. Each limb was taken by hand, and where within a space of eighteen inches ripen. By carefully removing all but the strongest specimens, and throwing all the vigor of the trees into them, the peaches have ripened early, and are remarkable for size and excellence of quality."

There, this was labor-several months' labor of one man in a small peach orchard! neglected his trees his profits would have been a crep of peaches hardly fit to feed fortably decreased. the pigs.

In the management of his trees, Mr. Loughry keeps them trimmed in, and annually removes about one half the wood that is formed. He uses a compost, and omits nothing to bring them to perfection, and thus keeps the trees in full vigor. Will other farmers take a hint and follow so good an example?

SMALL HORSES.

The arguments may all be in favor of great size; but the facts are all the other way. Large horses are more liable to stumble and be lame than those of the midto fatten best; and large hens are not the bile News. best to lay eggs. Extremes are to be avoided. We want well formed animals rather than such as have large bones. Odd as it may be to the theorist, short-legged soldiers are better on the march, and officers say they endure hardships longer than those of long limbs. On choosing a horse, take care by all means that his legs are short. If they are long and split apart like a pair of dividers, never inquire the price of the dealer. Make no offer.

GROUND MOLES.

The editor of the Sumter Watchman, says, "a friend is troubled with a large number of ground moles, which infest his fields, producing much destruction to his corn, both before and after making its appearance above the ground," and calls for a remedy or preventative for their ravages.

The mole is a much slandered and abused liitle animal, for, instead of being the thief and marauder it is represented, it is really incapable of performing such mischief .-Nature has not endowed it with the capacinot masticate corn. Its food is the worm and grub, and we venture to say, if the friend of the Watchman destroys the moles, his corn fields will suffer more than ever before. The moles burrow through the ground, and the field mice and rats follow in his track, and consumes whatever suits their voracious appetites. Let the gentleman who complains of the moles get some ratsbane, and extermine these vermin, and assist the moles to destroy the grubs, and he will no longer complain of their eating

Should any one be skeptical upon this subject, let him catch a mole and examine his teeth, and then he will be satisfied he must look elsewhere for his enemy.

THE SCARLET VERBENA

The most beautiful and charming little perennial flower which can adorn a lady's garden, is the scarlet verbena; but it is very difficult to preserve through the winter. Its beauty, however, repays the care which may be bestowed upon it. It is not only on hand a large number of BUGGIES, CARdesirable for its fine full scarlet blossoms, most approved styles out of the best material, but it blooms from April to November .- to which he asks the inspection of purchasers . The scarlet verbena loves a rich, light, dry border of bed, in a sunny situation; they friends. delight also in rock work, where they have been known to exist through the winter. The roots should be planted about six inches apart, and keep pegging down the shoots as they throw themselves along the bed. A profusion of flowers and plants are produced by this means. A bed or border sloping to the south is the best situation for the scarlet verbena.

As the Citronelle train was on its downward trip to this city vesterday morning an neident occurred that caused a commotion approaching eight mile station, a lady quite elegantly attired, with a lovely boquet of ered standing on the platform. DROFESSOR WOOD'S HAIR RESTORA TIVE, is, no doubt, the most wonderful discovery of this age of progress, for it will restore. permanently, gray hair to us original color, cover the head of the bald with a most luxuriant growth, remove at once all dandruff and itching, cure all scorfula and other cutaneous eruptions, such as schaldhead, etc. It will cure, as if by magic, ner-vous or periodical headache; make the hair soft, glossy and wavy, and preserve the color perfectly, and the hair trom falling, to extreme old age. St. Paul, January 1, 1855. PROFESSOR O. J. WOOD—

Dear Sir: Unsolicited, I send you this certificate. After being nearly bald for a long time, and having tried all the hair restoratives extant, and having no faith in any, I was induced, on hearing of yours, to give it a trial. I placed myself in the hands of a barber, and had my head rubbed with a good stiff brush, and the restorative then applied, and well rubbed in, till the scalp was a glow. This I repeated every morning, and in three weeks the young hair appea. ed, and grew rapidly from August last till the present time, and is now thick, black, and strong-soft and pleasant to the touch; whereas, before, it was harsh and wiry, what little there was of it, and that little was disappearing very rapidly. I still use your restorative about twice a week, and shall soon have a good and perfect crop of hair. Now, it I had read of these things-and who has not? but have not seen hitherto any case where any person's hair was really benefited by any of the hair tonics, etc., of the day; and it really gives me pleasure to record the result of my experience. I have recommended your preparation to others, and it already has a large and general sale throughout the Territory. The people here know its effects, and have confidence in it. The supply you sent us, as wholesale agents for the Territory s nearly exhausted, and daily inquiries are made or it. You deserve credit for you: discovery; and I, for one, return you my thanks for the benefit it has done me, for I certainly had despaired long ago of ever effecting any such result. Yours, hastily, J. W. Firm of Bond & Kellog, Druggists. J. W. BOND.

Brookfield, January 12, 1855. PROFESSOR WOOD-Dear Sir: Having made trial of your HAIR RESTORATIVE, it gives me pleasure to say, hat its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff, and a constant tendency to itching, with which I have been troubled from my childhood; and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article, with anything like the same pleasure and profit. Yours, truly, J. K. BRAGG.
