In Auburn, a short time ago, an Irish-

BROOM CORN.

The prices which brooms command in the South, ought to induce our farmers to cultivate broom corn, and some of our citizens to go into the manufacture of brooms. Corn brooms are now selling at 3) to 371 cents each, while they could be made and sold here at home, with a profit, at 18 cents .-But, the South, blind to its own interests, goes to the North even for its brooms as well as for thousands of otheir things which could be manufactured cheaper and better About the longitude of New York, the proper time to plant broom corn is from the 1st to the 15th of June. The rows should be about three and a half feet apart, and the plants when thinned out to stand from four te six inches apart. The land most suitable for broom corn is not the richest Indian corn land, but rather a light loam, in good tilth, deep plowed and finely pulverised with the harrow, and manured with well rotted compost, or with guano or super sulphate. The cultivation at first requires a good deal of careful work with the hoe. to thin out the weeds and keep them clear of weeds and grass. The after cultivation can be done with a horse hoe. It is labor lost to hill up broom corn, as well as Indian corn. Just before the seed is ripe the farmer goes through his broom corn and breaks down the stalks in such a manner that two rows interlock and support each other .-This process keeps the brush straighter than it would be if allowed to come to maturity upright. It should be harvested before the seed is fully ripe, as it then has a brighter color and tougher brush. The seed should be stripped off as soon as the brush is cut, and the stalks cured in the shade, while the seed saved for use must be kiln-dried, or carefully cured in the sun. The seed, unless fully ripened on the stalk, is very difficult to cure. If allowed to lay in a heap it will heat so as to endanger buildings from spontaneous combustion .-The yield of an acre of broom corn, upon good land, say such as would produce 50 bushels of corn, will be from 500 to 800 pounds of brush, worth from five to ten cents per pound, according to the demand. crop; many think it an exhausting one.

ATTEND TO YOUR PEACHES.

The Alabama Planter says:-A gentleman handed us yesterday the following. which may be of service to some of our readers. A friend of mine has just informed me of the success he met with by the application of charcoal to peach trees. A few years ago he had some fine peach trees in his garden which invariably had wormy fruit, and the trees were full of gum. When the fruit was about the size of marbles, he had the earth removed from each about two feet round and three inches deep, and filled with charcoal. The result was that the fruit grew to a fine size, free from worms, and every year since the fruit has been good, and the trees become healthy and free from gum, while two trees left without the charcoal continue to bear wormy fruit and are unhealthy.

HOW TO KILL HAWKS.

Take a large teaspoon full of grated or rasped Nux Vomica, or as it is sometimes called "Ox Vomit," and add to it one pint of corn meal and mix it thoroughly; after which, feed to the small chickens, in the yard, and as sure as a hawk takes a chicken when the Nux Vomica is in the craw of the chicken, so sure will that hawk never come after a second chicken.

I am satisfied, Mr. Editor, that after one year's experiment, never to be without the Nux Vomica if I continue to raise chickens or turkeys, where the hawks are troublesome. So far from the Nux Vomica injuring the chicken or turkey it keeps them lively and thrifty. Of course you will discontinue the use of the Nux Vomica, when the chicken is large enough to keep out of the way of the hawk.

The discovery is not original with me, but so far as I know, was made by an old widow lady, who had more poultry in her yard at one time, than many others together, and not a gun was fired at a hawk, whilst her residence was near a swamp.

WHITEWASH.

Poor whitewash is a serious injury to a wall or ceiling, and when once on it is difficult to get it off or properly cover it and produce a clear white appearance. This is the season for cleaning up, and we will give the recipe for a first rate wash. Quick lime, slacked by boiling water, stirring it until so slacked. Then dissolve in water white vitrol, (sulphate of zine,) which you get at the druggists, at the rate of two HAIR, TOOTH, AND NAIL BRUSHES, &c., (or in proportion for a smaller quantity,) making it about the consistency of rich milk. This sulphate of zinc will cause the wash to harden; and to prevent the lime from rubbing off; a pound of fine salt should be thrown into it.

MAKING VINEGAR. The cheapest mode of making vinegar is to mix five quarts of warm rain-water with two quarts of Orleans molasses, and four quarts of yeast. In a few weeks you will have the best vinegar you ever tasted.

KEEPING MILK FROM SOURING .- A bit of soda as large as a marrowfat pea, to a quart of milk, will not injure the flavor or quality, and will keep it sweet a day or two longer than without.

David Simth, of Monroe Co., Ga., picked from a single vine on his farm, the past season, 176 ripe water-melons.

TRUE FRIENDSHIP.

BY JEAN L. BRUCE.

Oh! what happiness-what brightness, In life's changeful scenes appear, When we meet kind words and actions, And we feel they are sincere;

When the smiles of friendship greet us, And we know they are true, What greater charm bath this fair world To offer me or you?

With the beaming sky above us, And the lovely earth beneath, With the music of the ocean, And the flow'r-enamel'd heath: With these beauteous scenes of Nature,

What more cheering would you ask Than the glance that speaks affection, From the heart without a mask? For pure truth is such a jewel,

Oh! so precious and so rare, That it seems a spark from heaven, Seldom lent to mortal care: When we meet it in earth's friendship, Let us prize its holy might, For it comes unto our spirits,

Like an angel wing'd with light.

IDLENESS.

The besetting sin of this country is idleness. It is the root of all evil. Vice, crime and immorality, are the sure fruits of idleness. The industrious man or woman has not time to concoct and carry out schemes of villainy and crime. They are alien to the thoughts, and inclination, and pleasures of the industrious. As sure as the rising sun gives light to the world, just as sure is idleness to bring in its train vice, crime and immorality. Why does the gambler resort to the games of chance? Because he is idle. Why does the drunkard visit the grogshop? Because he is idle. True it is, that an idle head is the devil's work shop.

In passing through the country, we are often amazed at the idleness of the people. We see great big children moping away their time in idleness, instead of being at school. The parents are not at work, if not at grog-shops. It would seem that the chief object of life was to be idle as much as possible; that the great pleasure and charm of our existence was idleness! We are taught, in Holy Writ, that man is to live by the sweat of his brow. Six days are we commanded to labor. This command is as imperative as it is to keep holy the seventh day. Of the two it is the more important to our existence on this earth, beyond all doubt; and we have much more confidence in the genuine goodness and piety of the man who labors all the week. than we have in him who simply observes MARBLE YARD the Sabbath day.

Every one who has tried it must know how much of pain and uneasiness there are in mere idleness. Hence it is that the idle are driven, from idleness, to vice and crime for occupation. The drunkard resorts to the bottle, and the companionship of the vicious, to kill time. The gambler goes to the card table and the wine glass for the same purpose. The idle boy seeks vice and crime in which to kill his idleness. So it is with other idlers.

Dear Sir: Unsolicited, I send you this certificate After being nearly bald for a long time, and have ng tried all the hair restoratives extant, and hav ng no faith in any, I was induced, on hearing o yours, to give it a trial. I placed myself in the hand of a barber, and had my head rucb d with a good all persons wishing information, or who may stiff brush, and the restorative then applied, and well rubbed in, till the scalp was a glow. This repeated every morning, and in three weeks the young I air appea. ed, and grew rapidly from Augus last till the present time, and is now thick, black and strong-soft and pleasant to the touch; where as, before, it was harsh and wiry, what little there was of it, and that little was disappearing very rapidly. I still use your restorative about twice a we k, and shall soon have a good and perfect crop of hair. Now, it I had read of these things-and who has not? but have not seen hitherto any case where any person's hair was really benefited by any of the hair tonics, etc., of the day; and it really gives me pleasure to record the result of my experience. I have recommended your preparation to others, and it already has a large and general sale throughout the Territory. The people here know its effects, and have confidence in it. The supply you sent us, as wholesale agents for the Territory, is nearly exhausted, and daily inquiries are made for it. You deserve credit for your discovery; and I, for one, return you my thanks for the benefit it has done me, for I certainly had despaired long ago of ever effecting any such result.
